ST. LOUIS IS IN FLOOD'S GRASP

Mississippi River Passed Danger Limit and Now Threatens the City.

THREE ARE DROWNED

Worst of the Kansas Floods Is Yet to Descend Upon the Missouri Metropolis.

THE CREST EXPECTED TODAY

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

St. Louis, Mo., June 2.—Thirty feet, the danger point, was reached and passed today by the flood that is coming down the Mississippi river. The river continues to rise rapidly, and a point considerably higher than 34 feet, which Weather Forecaster Bowie had predicted, would be reached by Thursday or Friday, will be an accomplished fact.

The crest of the flood from the Kansas and Missouri rivers is yet to come, and when it shall reach here and be increased by high water in the Mississippi, some loss of life is feared and destruction to property must ensue.

Weather Forecaster Bowie issued the following tonight: "Present indications point to 32 feet on the St. Louis gauge Wednesday and about 34 feet during Thursday and Friday. It is impossible to estimate the effect of a 35 foot stage at Kansas City, but it is apparent that the 34 foot stage will be exceeded at St. Louis. Measures to protect property subject to damage from a stage of 35 feet by Saturday or Sunday, should be taken."

The first loss attending the present flood in this vicinity was reported today in the drowning of Mrs. William Schmidt and her two children, in an attempt to escape on a flatboat from Catfish island, in the Missouri river. Schmidt and his family of four were compelled to abandon their home on the island today in the small boat. In midstream the boat capsized, Schmidt was able to save only one of his children.

The effect of the flood already is being felt here as well as further up both the Mississippi and Missouri rivers. No real damage has resulted here yet. A higher stage of water will be disastrous to the railroad and other business interests on the east side as well as residents. In some places between here and Alton the river is five to seven miles wide, covering thousands of acres of farm land on the east side. The greatest damage yet reported is at Missouri Point, at the confluence of the Missouri and Mississippi rivers, where several hundred farmers and their families have been driven from their lands.

Traffic is impeded in the vicinity of Kansas City and the southwestern part of the state. None of the trains between St. Louis and interior Missouri points are as yet affected by the flood.

REORGANIZATION WILL BE HURRIED THROUGH

United States Shipbuilding Co. to Be Given Heroic Financial Treatment.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 2.—The statement of the reorganization committee which has in charge the work of rehabilitating the United States Shipbuilding Company, that the corporation will be unable on July 1 to meet the interest or sinking fund accruing on its first mortgage 30-year bonds, has stirred the stockholders to action. Already large deposits of stock and bonds have been filed with the City Trust Company in favor of the plan, June 18 has been fixed as the last date for depositing bonds or preferred and common stock of the United States Shipbuilding Company, and there can be no general extension because of the imperative necessity for having the reorganization completed before July 1.

The holders of the $10,000,000 20-year collateral and mortgage bonds, who are called upon to contribute $2,000,000 cash as working capital for the reorganized company, are practically ready now, and the committee will proceed at once to work out in detail the new arrangement.

A new corporation is to be organized, probably under the laws of New Jersey, about June 19, or as soon as success is assured. It is intended to call it the Bethlehem Steel and Shipbuilding Company.

ENGLISHMAN WOULD SHOOT AUTOMOBILISTS

Sir Ralph William Payne Advocates Remarkable Measure in Letter to London Times.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

(Copyright, 1903, by New York Herald Co.)

LONDON, June 2.—James Galloway Weir, member of parliament, who suggested the lassoing of unruly automobilists, has been outdone by Sir Ralph William Fayne of Galway, who desires nothing better than to shoot the transgressors of the ordinances against excessive speed. Sir Ralph writes to today's Times to suggest what he calls "a legalized use of the shotgun." He writes:

"In the case of an automobilist inflicting an injury on a pedestrian or causing damage to the property of a person in the highway, followed by an attempt to escape detection by continuing his rapid progress, I consider that the injured party should be legally permitted to fire at the offender."

NORTH TOPEKA OUT OF DANGER

Raging Waters of Swollen Rivers Are Now Slowly Receding.

STORM CLOUDS GONE

Flood Sufferers Are in Better Condition Than Anticipated. Little Outside Aid Necessary.

PROPERTY LOSS IS ENORMOUS

Kansas City, Mo., June 2.—The rains have ended and the sun was visible today, the first time in a week. It is thought that the danger of the flood is past. The waters of the Kaw river have fallen eight inches and are steadily declining about one-half inch an hour. The Missouri is maintaining a 35-foot stage. With it at normal, business in Kansas City will soon resume usual conditions.

The situation tonight shows improvement on almost every side. The water works will resume tomorrow, the gas has been turned into the mains, and there is no immediate danger of a shortage of food. However, there is not sufficient food on hand to permit the relief committee and the municipal officers to feel easy over the outlook. The transportation facilities are so limited that there is danger that the demand may overreach the supply unless the stock is speedily replenished.

TWO RESCUERS DROWNED.

Joseph L. Keenan was drowned today while endeavoring to rescue some people. Edward Brooks lost his life by his skiff being overturned while he was endeavoring to get a man out of a building. A number of bodies were seen floating down the stream, but are believed to be those of people drowned further up the Kaw. Fully 50 people were brought to the Twelfth street viaduct during the day by boatmen. Many are still in the warehouses and office buildings and will remain until the flood shall subside.

There is very little probability of much greater financial damage than has already been done. There have been some reports of the settling of various large buildings in the wholesale district, but expert examination will be required to prove they are in a dangerous condition.

Observer Connor of the weather bureau said tonight that the Kaw is falling steadily and he expects the Missouri will commence to decline tomorrow.

AIDING THE SUFFERERS.

Although the residents of Kansas City are enduring all kind of hardships, there is in reality little want. Rations sufficient to last for several days have been sent in from Leavenworth and another consignment is expected tomorrow. Many of the sufferers are spending most of their time in searching for the missing members of their families.

Something like order was brought out in the matter of distributing food today, when a central station was opened. From there the food is sent to the camps of refugees. A temporary hospital has been established. Nine hundred sides of beef were received from Swifts' packing house. This is the entire number of beeves saved at that plant. Flags of distress from partially inundated buildings in Armourdale could be seen today and many rescues were effected.

CAN'T ESTIMATE THE DEAD.

The day brought to light no facts on which to base even an approximation of the number of deaths in the flood. Possibly 10 bodies have been seen floating since Sunday, but estimates made from this are valueless, as the same bodies drifting in the ever-changing eddies may have been counted several times.

A committee, appointed by the Commercial club of Kansas City, Mo., early today, to ascertain the conditions of the present food supply, made its report this evening. This report was so imperative that Mayor Reed, after consultation with the relief committee, wired the following reply to offers of aid:

I am directed by the committee of the Commercial club to say that the committee this morning anticipated that there might be a food shortage, owing to the railroad communication being seriously impaired and because of the inability to reach the usual sources of supply. It now seems that we will be able to secure enough food supplies.

Our packing houses are now beginning to get meat from their plants. Our business men and citizens generally have subscribed very liberally and we confidently hope to be able to fully meet the situation. The people of Kansas City will always gratefully remember the many tenders of assistance from various parts of the country, all of which have been thankfully declined.

ARMED MEN ON GUARD.

North Topeka Patroled by Citizens Who Will Prevent Looting.

TOPEKA, KAN., June 2.—The flood situation in Topeka tonight may be briefly summarized thus: Known dead, 48; river has fallen today three feet and is now receding at the rate of two inches an hour; distress will be great among the refugees. Gov. Bailey issues a proclamation calling for help for flood sufferers of the state. Fifty deputy sheriffs, armed with Winchesters, go to North Topeka to protect property, with orders to shoot looters whenever they are caught stealing.

Gov. Bailey's proclamation calling for outside aid was decided upon at a mass meeting. It is a general appeal. The plan is to make Topeka headquarters and

HOMES OF HUNDREDS IN RUINS

Eight Hundred Cottages Were Wrecked by Monday's Tornado.

DEATH LIST GROWING

Gainesville, Ga., June 2.—The 6,000 inhabitants of this city have just begun to realize the extent of the appalling disaster of yesterday. It now seems certain that the death list will not be much short of 100, perhaps greater, considering the number of dangerously wounded. There are said to be 150 injured, of whom probably 20 will die. Eight hundred persons are homeless, their residences having been wiped out of existence. The property loss will be about $500,000, none of which was covered by storm insurance.

An accurate statement of the casualties can not be rendered for several days, but the physicians in attendance believe that it will not go very far over 100, although 25 or 30 are seriously injured. The death list so far compiled includes 32 at the Pacolet cotton mills at New Holland; 26 at the Gainesville cotton mills near the Southern railway station, where the tornado first struck, and eight persons killed in the destruction of the Jones and Logan stores near the Southern depot. All were men excepting the wife of the proprietor of Jones' general store. Two of the men killed in the Logan store were negroes. Among those killed at the Pacolet mills was John Mayne, aged 62, formerly clerk of the superior court of Hall county.

PITTSBURGHERS AT CLEVELAND WEDDING

CLEVELAND, June 2.—(Special.)—The most important church wedding of the season up to date will be celebrated at St. Paul's today, when Miss Winifred Ely will become the bride of Joseph Kirkpatrick Boles. Many guests will be in attendance from Pittsburgh and vicinity, owing to the fact that the Elys and Carnegies are related by marriage.

BLIND POOL MILLER IN GOOD HEALTH

NEW YORK, June 2.—(Special.)—It was proved this morning that the 529 per cent Miller, who is to appear against Col. Robert A. Ammon in the huge swindling game, is not a sick man at all. It has been reported that Miller was dying from consumption and that if he would turn state's evidence he might be pardoned. Dr. Campbell, city physician, today examined the prisoner, who was declared perfectly sound.

LINCOLN'S ASSASSIN ESCAPED VENGEANCE

Story of Suicide of John Wilkes Booth at Enid, O. T., Apparently Confirmed by Former Doorkeeper at Ford's Theater.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Baltimore, June 2.—History will receive a shock when the public learns today that the body of John Wilkes Booth, the assassin of President Abraham Lincoln, does not rest in the Booth lot in Greenmount cemetery.

Basil Moxley, the veteran doorkeeper at Ford's opera house, after a silence of many years, informs the world that the body buried in Greenmount cemetery was not Booth's, but that of another man forwarded to Baltimore by the government at the solicitation of the Booth family. Mr. Moxley acted as pallbearer at what he now terms a mock funeral. Today he said:

"There has always been doubt that the assassin of President Lincoln was ever captured, killed, or even shot, but I'll tell you positively that his body is not and never was buried in this city. You can search all records in Washington or interview any officials then in office who are now alive and I will wager you will be unable to learn of any reward being paid out for the delivery of John Wilkes Booth's body to the government.

"In regard to the Oklahoma dispatch, I believe the Mr. Bates mentioned is the father of the wife of young Junius Brutus Booth, a nephew of John Wilkes Booth and a son of Junius Brutus Booth II. If that is true, and if Mr. Jefferson and Miss Morris say the dead man was the real John Wilkes Booth, there may be some truth in it, for they all knew him well."

ENID, O. T., June 2.—Junius Brutus Booth, the actor, nephew of John Wilkes Booth, the assassin of President Lincoln, has fully identified the remains of the man known here as David E. George, as his uncle.

George, or Booth, committed suicide here January 14, last, and in his effects was found a letter directed to K. L. Bates of Memphis, Tenn. Mr. Bates came here at once and identified the body as John Wilkes Booth. He then went east, and has obtained positive identification of the remains from the dead man's nephew, and from Joseph Jefferson, Miss Clara Morris and a score of others who knew him in his early days.

According to Mr. Bates' story, he had acted as Booth's confidential agent and attorney for nearly 40 years. After Lincoln was shot the assassin escaped to the Garrett plantation in Virginia. According to Mr. Bates, the man who was killed was named Ruddy.

Being warned, Booth left Garrett's and was taken care of by friends in Central Kentucky. He later settled at Glenrose Mills, Tex., where he conducted a store for several years as John St. Helen.

Shortly after the assassination Col. Baker's cavalry rounded a barn near Alexandria, Va., in which it was supposed that Booth was hiding. Refusing to surrender, the troops fired the barn to smoke the fugitive out. The supposed Booth then came out and was shot and mortally wounded.

TWO ARE REPORTED DEAD, NEARLY FIFTY WOUNDED

Pitched Battle Grew Out of Dispute As to Quality of Ice Cream.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BLUEFIELD, W. VA., June 2.—News of a terrible shooting affair at Big Sandy, W. Va., near Welch, reached here this evening. During an ice cream social a crowd of nearly 200 were assembled, nearly all of whom were under the influence of liquor and armed with guns. An argument arose as to the quality of the ice cream and a pitched battle among themselves resulted and a riot was precipitated.

Hundreds of shots were fired, and when the smoke of battle was cleared away, Charles Watson, a miner, and Will Johnson, a Norfolk & Western railroad man, were found to be mortally wounded and unconscious. Others whose names could not be learned were carried away fatally wounded. Johnson and Watson are reported dead. Nearly 50 were injured by flying bullets. No arrests were made.

BURGLARS ATTACK BANK AT GLASSPORT

Eight Men Discovered at Work by an Officer and a Hot Battle Results.

An attempt to rob the First National bank of Glassport early this morning resulted in arousing the residents in the vicinity of the bank building and causing considerable excitement. The burglars were discovered at work by Policeman Joseph Morris while he was making his rounds. The burglars were discovered at about the same time their "lookout" saw the officer, and in an instant there was a running fight, during which a score or more of shots were fired by the burglars and the policeman.

When Officer Norris suddenly loomed up out of the darkness the lookout shouted to his confederates to run and he started off toward the rear of the bank building. When the officer reached the back of the building he saw seven men running and opened fire upon them. Several of the burglars turned and fired at the officer. It is not thought any of the shots fired by either side struck anyone. The fight of the policeman against the burglars was joined in by several male guests who were sitting on the porch of the Willis hotel when the battle opened.

The burglars separated, but all took directions leading to McKeesport. The McKeesport police were notified of the attempted robbery of the bank and are on the lookout for the gang. Upon an investigation of the bank being made it was discovered that the burglars had pried open a window in the rear of the banking room before they were discovered. In their haste to get away they left a kit of burglar tools behind them.

Guns Ordered for New Battleships.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Guns enough to man three of the new 16,000-ton battleships were contracted for today. The Midvale Steel Company was awarded the contract for 14 8-inch nickel steel guns and the Bethlehem Steel Company the contract for 36 7-inch nickel steel guns. The contracts involve approximately $1,000,000.

BETWEEN-DAYS IN THE METROPOLIS

NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 3.

A tailor near police headquarters has this sign over an assortment of trousers: "Double-seated. Just the thing for policemen."

"It's foolish for Pittsburgh Phil to retire," said W. Beverly today. "While there are 200 members of the Metropolitan who would give him $1,000 to do so. It would be cheap at that price." Of course, Smith is not going to retire.

Klaw and Erlanger have made a contract to produce the Drury Lane pantomimes for a period of six years.

Midnight advices have it that Kid McCoy is to marry again.

Sousa may retire from the head of his band next year and Arthur Pryor, his trombone soloist, will take hold.

Hanna and Foraker Confer Amicably on Ohio Political Problems.

SERENE AT COLUMBUS

Prospects Are for Harmonious Republican State Convention at Buckeye Capital Today.

FAIR FIELD AND NO FAVORS

From a Staff Correspondent.
[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Columbus, O., June 2.—At 8:30 o'clock this evening Senator Hanna walked out of the dining room at the Neil house, lighted a big cigar, greeted a crowd of admirers in the lobby and walked up the stairs and around the corridor to Senator Foraker's headquarters. The news spread that the big chiefs were in conference and the politicians crowded about the door of Senator Foraker's room to witness the spectacle.

It was the first meeting of the two Ohio senators since the breezy little affair over the question of indorsing Roosevelt's candidacy and there had been much speculation as to what would happen when they came face to face. It wasn't so sensational after all. There were no blows struck and no hard names called.

Senator Hanna, in a good humor after a hearty dinner, and satisfied by the knowledge that he will have things all his own way in the Republican state convention which begins tomorrow, was the soul of affability. He could afford to be, even if his recollection of the Roosevelt affair wasn't as pleasant as it might have been. He walked into Foraker's room and held out his hand with a "Howdy do senator." Foraker came to the front, smilingly grasped the hand of Senator Hanna and offered him a chair. They then sat down to talk it over and the swarm of delegates out in the hall would willingly have given their day's taking of candidates' cigars to have heard what was said. But young Benson Foraker stood in front of the senators and greeted callers, meanwhile keeping up a conversation that drowned the voices of his father and Senator Hanna.

THEY PART IN FRIENDLY MOOD.

"They've got together," was the word that was passed about the lobby and the crowd rushed upstairs to get a glimpse of the conference. After a conversation of about 15 minutes Senator Hanna rose, again shook hands, and walked away to his room followed by hundreds of delegates and shouters. There he received his friends and lieutenants until late in the night.

After Senator Hanna had gone Senator Foraker was asked to give the substance of their conversation. He said they talked about the proposed constitutional amendments and exchanged views on some of them. Candidates or the Roosevelt indorsement were not mentioned, he said. As they sat talking in plain view of the gaping crowd in the corridor some one facetiously remarked:

"They are now confounding the Democratic press. They are furnishing evidence of the harmony that prevails."

An amusing incident of the meeting was that just as Senator Hanna's form loomed up in the doorway Senator Foraker ordered the porter to bring a pitcher of ice water.

The leaders and nearly all the delegates arrived this evening and the hotel lobbies were scenes of great activity especially on the part of candidates. The word was passed about that there would be no trouble over the wording of the Roosevelt indorsement, as this plank had been submitted to Senators Hanna and Foraker and had been approved by both. This statement was corroborated by Foraker.

COX CONFERS WITH HANNA.

A question that is bothering many delegates is whether the Hanna lieutenants, who are out to get even with Foraker, will be able to carry out their plan of defeating Senator Warren G. Harding, a Foraker man, for lieutenant governor. George B. Cox, the Cincinnati leader who has been backing the candidacy of Harding, called upon Senator Hanna late this afternoon as they had a lengthy confer-

BIGELOW GIVEN MANY BUMPS

His Machine Did Not Have Smooth Sailing in the Primaries.

HUGH FERGUSON WINS

Defeats Magistrate Stewart Who Was Commissioned to Put the Scotchman Out of Business.

MOORE CLAIMS A VICTORY

Bigelow machine primaries for city and county organizations were held in all parts of the county last night. In many places there was an absence of harmony. Numerous reformers were trying to politically cut other reformers' throats, and Thomas S. Bigelow will be busy for some time endeavoring to restore peace and heal wounds.

The fighting was principally in the city and is the result of the bungle made in the distribution of patronage. Knives were out for the alleged leaders, who gold-bricked the workers by promising them jobs and then failed to deliver. In other places the head of the machine was secretly trying to get rid of some real reformer who had been slow to obey orders during the past year.

The most interesting contests were in the First, Fourteenth and Seventeenth wards. There is also talk of a fight in the Thirty-first ward. The election was to name the district organization and they in turn will elect ward chairmen and members of the city committee of 38 and the county committee of 32.

FOURTEENTH IS CLOSE.

The contest in the Fourteenth was made to exterminate W. J. Moore. He is the present ward chairman and member of the city committee. He backed on the nomination of William D. Hays for recorder and was slow to turn in for his election. For this reason and others effort is being made to defeat him. Back of his candidacy are Councilmen W. H. Stevenson and Christ Beckert, while behind his opponent, William Elford, are Councilmen Booth and Tauber, Meat Inspector Friday, W. G. Negley, E. Y. Breck and others.

There were hard fights made to all of the districts. At midnight Moore said that he would win by a majority of from three to five, unless his delegates are tampered with before the meeting is held in the Bellefield school at 8 o'clock this evening. He lost the ninth and thirteenth districts and had expected to win both. He says that Elford secured every Italian vote in the thirteenth district.

FERGUSON DEFEATS STEWART.

Magistrate Stewart and the city roll was routed in the Seventeenth ward by Hugh Ferguson. He was tabbed for defeat by the machine because of his independence and refusal to obey headquarter's orders. Stewart was appointed police magistrate in the Lawrenceville district by the Bigelows and commissioned to clean out Ferguson.

There are 23 district committeemen in the ward and Ferguson elected 22 of them. Stewart was a candidate in his own district, the Sixth, and was defeated with the other two men on his slate. Stewart had selected Harry J. Werneberg as his candidate for ward chairman, but Werneberg was cleaned out at the primaries by Ferguson. He lives in the Seventh district. Out of 77 votes he received six. Every city roll man was ordered to fight Ferguson. In the Second district Police Lieutenant Milton Bailey was run for committeeman by Stewart and was defeated.

In the First ward rival meetings were held. Assistant Chief Peter Snyder and his crowd bolting after they had been defeated. Snyder has handled the pa-

PITTSBURGHER FREED FROM NEW ORLEANS JAIL

Woman Journeyed from Rochester, Pa., to Confront Him and Found Wrong Man.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, June 2.—James E. Shirra, the Pittsburgher who served three months in jail here for embezzlement, and who attributed his downfall to drinking 30 absinthe anisettes a day, is tonight a free man. His term of sentence expired today. Mrs. Lillie A. Parshall of Rochester, Pa., reached here last night, believing that Shirra was Ralph Chester, whom she alleged had embezzled $500 from her while serving as her confidential agent. But when she appeared at the bars of the prison gate this morning she exclaimed:

"He is not the man."

Mrs. Parshall came with a bench warrant, but she made the long trip for nothing. Shirra worked throughout Pennsylvania. He has a string of aliases, being known as Louis James and Edward C. W. Farnes. He came here and was employed as solicitor for the Peoples Cooperative Loan and Building Company. He did well until he fell a victim to absinthe.

M'DONALD OIL OPERATOR DIES SUDDENLY IN TEXAS

M. M. Pierce, While Visiting Beaumont Field, Succumbs Suddenly to Heart Disease.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, June 2.—M. M. Pierce, 44 years of age, a resident of McDonald, Washington county, Pa., said to be a large operator in that section, was found dead in the toilet room at the Kaloe hotel Beaumont, Texas, yesterday at noon.

He had arrived at the Beaumont oil fields the night before from his home in Pennsylvania, accompanied by his son. They had interests in the Beaumont wells. Mr. Pierce complained of feeling ill upon his arrival at the hotel and yesterday morning when his son went out to the field he remained at the hotel saying he was unable to make the trip. Coroner Pope viewed the remains and rendered a verdict that death had been the result of heart failure.

The deceased is survived by a brother, sister, wife and mother, together with children. The remains passed through here this morning en route to McDonald for interment.

FOUNDER'S PLAN IS CARRIED OUT

All Employes Are Included in New Pension System of Postal Telegraph Cable Co.

IS ANNOUNCED OFFICIALLY

After 15 Years' Service a Regular Allowance of 20 Per Cent of Salary, With Three Per Cent Added for Each Year After That up to 25 Years.

All employes of the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company are included in a plan promulgated in an official circular bearing the date of May 30, by which a liberal pension system for veteran employes is to be established. While the details are not yet worked out, the announcement is made that any employe of 15 years' service who becomes incapacitated may be granted a regular income of 20 per cent of the salary appertaining to his position, and for each year after the fifteenth and up to the twenty-fifth, there will be added 3 per cent, bringing the total to 50 per cent for service of 25 years or longer.

This will affect between 18,000 to 20,000 employes connected with about 15,000 offices, which now reach from England to Honolulu, Hawaiian islands, and will soon extend to the Philippine islands. In the United States alone there are 12,000 offices, and a large number are located in Canada. About 300 men and boys are employed by the Postal here.

The offical circular making the announcement says:

It was the earnest desire of our late president, Mr. John W. Mackay, that some provision should be made by the company for the benefit of faithful employes who had grown old in the service, and whose usefulness had been impaired by age or misfortune. In furtherance of this benevolent desire, the officers of the company have had the matter under long and careful consideration, and while they have not been able to formulate a system like plan of pensions, they are authorized to make the following announcement:

Any employe of the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company who has been continuously in its service for a period of 15 years and who, through no indiscretion of his own, has become incapacitated for work, may apply for relief to the person under whose immediate direction he is employed. Upon the recommendation of such person and of the superintendent of the district in which the employe is located, and with the approval of the general superintendent of the division, and of the executive committee, such employe may be allowed, in monthly payments, an amount not exceeding twenty (20) per cent of the regular salary pertaining to his position.

To the case of an employe who has been more than 15 years in continuous service of the company, an additional three (3) per cent may be allowed for each additional year of service up to 25 years, making the maximum allowance fifty (50) per cent.

CHIEFS SMOKE PIPE OF PEACE

ence after which Cox said he was still for Harding. When Senator Hanna was seen after the meeting he said:

"Mr. Cox and I talked over the constitutional amendments and some other matters. No, I will not interfere with candidates. You know my idea is a fair field and no favors."

But just the same there is a feeling tonight that Senator Harding's candidacy is in danger and that the only slated Foraker candidate would be side-tracked.

Myron T. Herrick of Cleveland, who will be nominated for governor, arrived this evening and was in high spirits. Although Albert Douglass of Cincinnati will probably go before the convention, it is admitted that Herrick has practically no opposition. The nominations for supreme court judge and school commissioner are in doubt. If any agreement in these offices was reached between Cox and Hanna the word has not been passed down as yet.

DICK HAS THE PLATFORM.

Gen. Dick, state chairman, arrived here this morning and opened his headquarters at the Chittenden. During the day his room was thronged with visitors, workers for rival candidates laying before him their claims upon his influence in the convention. Gen. Dick has the state platform in his pocket, but he would not discuss it. When asked if the Roosevelt endorsement plank would be a plain and unequivocal statement he replied that it would be and that it would be strong enough to please anyone.

It is now generally known that Gen. Dick did not agree with Senator Hanna in his plan to prevent the indorsement of Roosevelt's candidacy. Gen. Dick did not assume an attitude of opposition in the dispute, but he felt and said as much to near friends that the best policy was for Ohio to go on record this year in view of the popular sentiment for Roosevelt. It was Gen. Dick who went to Cleveland at the behest of influential parties in the Foraker faction to try to persuade Senator Hanna to withdraw his opposition. But the president's statement published on the day that Gen. Dick went to Cleveland proved all the argument that was needed.

As to the platform that will be adopted here this year, it will touch all the great questions and will no doubt be looked upon as Republican gospel throughout the country. On the tariff the "stand pat" policy will prevail. The convention will declare against a revision of schedules except by reciprocity on the ground that it is best to leave well enough alone.

TRUSTS TO BE CONSIDERED.

The trusts will be considered and President Roosevelt's and Attorney General Knox's ideas of publicity and reasonable control will no doubt be adopted. It is likely that there will be a financial plank outlining the ideas of Ohio Republicans on the money question and this policy will no doubt be the same as that approved by the leaders of the United States senate. In short, the Ohio state platform this year is expected to be almost identical with that to be adopted by the national convention next year and for that reason is looked upon as the real doctrine.

At 2:30 o'clock tomorrow the delegates from each of the 21 congressional districts in the state will meet and select one vice president and one member of each of the following committees: Credentials, resolutions, rules and order of business, permanent organization, state central committee. At four o'clock the convention will be called to order in the auditorium and Senator Hanna, in taking the chair as temporary chairman, will make the keynote speech. He is expected to enunciate the views of the Republican party upon some of the great questions that will be involved in the national campaign.

After the announcement of committees, the convention will adjourn until 10 o'clock Thursday morning. It is expected that Thursday's session will continue without adjournment until the business of the convention is disposed of.

Opposed to Traction Line.

At a meeting of Sewickley council last night a letter and an ordinance was received from Walter Lyon asking for right-of-way in Beaver street for the Sewickley & Osborne Street Railway Company. No action was taken in the matter, but it is said there is considerable opposition to the ordinance. The mileage for 1903 was fixed at 6½ mills. The exploding of firecrackers containing dynamite is prohibited hereafter in the borough. The ordinance was put through finally last night.

ATTACK IS FATAL TO H. G. MORSE

President of New York Shipbuilding Co. Stricken With Apoplexy in Morgan's Office.

DIES AT THE ASTOR HOUSE

Engaged in Manufacturing at Youngstown and Canton, O.—Engineer for Pennsylvania Railroad Company in the Early Seventies.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, June 2.

Henry G. Morse, originally of Poland, O., and for years in business in Canton and Youngstown, died this afternoon from a stroke of apoplexy which came on in the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co. Mr. Morse at the time of his death was president of the New York Shipbuilding Company and resided in Philadelphia.

Before it became known that the stricken man was Mr. Morse, all sorts of rumors were passed about the financial district, one of them being that the cashier of a banking house had committed suicide. A large crowd gathered about the ambulance and watched with excited interest when Mr. Morse came out of the building and was assisted to it.

Mr. Morse had come to this city on business and had gone from the offices of the New York Shipbuilding Company to have a consultation with a member of Mr. Morgan's firm. His death occurred at the Astor House at 3:30 o'clock.

Mr. Morse was born in Poland, O., April 10, 1850. He was graduated from the Rensselaer Polytechnic institute in Troy in 1871 and entered the service of the Pennsylvania railroad as engineer. In 1875 he became engineer for the Wrought Iron Bridge Company of Canton, O., and continued in that employment until 1878, after which for nine years he was a partner in the Morse Bridge Company of Youngstown. During the next nine years he was president of the Edgemoor Bridge Works at Wilmington, Del. He then went into shipbuilding. From 1896 to 1898 he was president of the Harlan & Hollingsworth Company at Wilmington, and after that took up the organization of the New York Shipbuilding Company.

C. P. GRENEKER.

MR. MORSE KNOWN TO MANY PITTSBURGHERS

Was a Native of Poland, O., and Several of His Family Reside in Pittsburgh and Vicinity.

The death of Mr. Morse is a shock to many of the most prominent men of this city. He had been well known here for years and was highly esteemed. Although the business enterprises with which he was actively connected were not located in this city there had been considerable Pittsburgh capital enlisted with him for years, and not less than $3,500,000 of local money is in the New York Shipbuilding Company of Camden, N. J., which he organized and has successfully conducted. He had returned about three weeks ago from a trip to Europe where he had gone to obtain rest from his arduous work and his friends here had supposed his condition to be of the best.

Mr. Morse was born in Poland, O., and was about 55 years of age. He first took a prominent place in the industrial world as the head of the Morse Bridge Building Company of Youngstown, O. Later he headed the Edgemore bridge works near Remington, Del. His connection with the New York Shipbuilding Company has been comparatively brief, as that company was formed only about two years ago.

He was married to Miss Mary Killikelly of Pittsburgh and five children of this union survive. The family home has been in Walnut street, Philadelphia. One daughter, Miss Marie Morse, was to have been married on Saturday of this week to Harry Horner of Philadelphia. The other children and Miss Mildred Morse and Harry, Bryan and Carl Morse.

Edwin K. Morse, the well-known Pittsburgh engineer, is a brother. A sister, Miss Mary Morse of Poland, O., and another brother, Harry Morse, manager of the Orient Coal and Coke Company of Uniontown, survive.

DRUGGIST ELECTED TO SUCCEED LLYOD

W. D. Chambers of New Kensington Becomes Superintendent of South Side Hospital.

On the 13th ballot W. D. Chambers, a druggist of New Kensington, was elected superintendent of the South Side hospital at a meeting of the board of trustees last night. Mr. Chambers succeeded A. D. Lloyd, who resigned some time ago, his resignation to take effect June 1. Owing to the fact that other meetings of the board no successor was chosen. Mr. Lloyd has remained the superintendent.

The entire directorate was present at the meeting. It was called to order sharply after 8 o'clock and remained in session until nearly 12. The names of three men were proposed for the position, but on every ballot up to the 13th each man was rejected. On the 13th ballot Chambers was elected by a bare majority of one, the vote being 8 to 7.

Mr. Chambers, the new superintendent, assumes office at once. He was formerly a druggist at Tenth and Carson streets, South Side, and about 10 years ago he removed to New Kensington, conducting a drug store there since.

HENRY G. MORSE.

Coroner's Office Record for May Has Many Gruesome Features.

The coroner's office record for murder and self-destruction in Allegheny county was broken during May. The monthly report shows that 11 persons were murdered and that 12 committed suicide. There were 156 deaths reported for investigation by the coroner's office during the month, breaking the record established in July, 1902, when 150 deaths were so reported. Of the 156 deaths, 29 were caused by falls. Of the 12 persons who committed suicide, only one resided in Allegheny city.

Eight persons ended their lives by drinking carbolic acid. Three shot themselves and two drowned themselves in the Allegheny river. Twenty-one were killed on railroads, 13 by street cars, 25 died of heart disease, 15 were drowned, eight died of burns, four were killed in the mines, four died of alcoholism and one was killed by a stroke of lightning.

PEACE EMBLEMS FOR THE PRESIDENT

Hundreds of White Doves Released While He Made an Address at Dennison, Iowa.

SPOKE OF THE GREAT FLOODS

He Advised the Citizens Not to Be Downcast Over the Deluge of the Maddend Rivers That Have Been Raging in the West.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

DENISON, IA., June 2.—The special train bearing President Roosevelt and party reached here on time. During the morning the presidential party and other distinguished guests were driven through the city and returned to the station, where they found a crowd of less than 10,000 people.

The president was introduced by Secretary Shaw and was received by the people with a tremendous ovation. Just as the president rose hundreds of white doves were released among the crowd in front of him and these emblems of peace hovered about the president's head and evoked a second outburst of applause. The president spoke for nearly 20 minutes and paid special tribute to the Iowa members of the cabinet. He said, in part:

At this time as I come into your beautiful state there have come calamities upon one people here in Iowa, and to an even greater degree with those on the Missouri. I see also by today's papers the awful disaster in Georgia. When the hand of the Lord is heavy upon any body of men, the wisdom of man can do but little. Now and then in our country, from drought, from floods, from pestilence, trouble and misfortune will come, but, oh, my friends, as I drove through your city this morning and saw the spirit of the men and women of this state, I know that all our troubles are temporary, that misfortunes will be met and overcome, because in heart and hand the American people is able to win his way in the long run. (Applause.)

When misfortune that human wisdom cannot avert comes, of course there will be suffering, there must be sympathy, those of us who are free from it can try and must try to lighten it all we can, but we cannot help the fact that there will be much suffering. If the business men of Iowa put their head it has lost what no law can supply, but in spite of that we shall go forward.

During the early morning hour the president's train passed through much of the flooded district of Iowa. Extra precautions had been taken by the railroad authorities and the tracks over which the train passed were carefully watched and in some cases shored up. At Independence, where a moment's stop was made, President Roosevelt said he believed in the future of this country, because he believed in the quality of the men and women composing it. A few minutes' stop was made at Manchester, where the president was greeted by a big crowd.

President Roosevelt arrived at Dubuque this evening and will spend the night there. He will leave for the East early tomorrow morning.

tronage in the ward, and his distribution has not been satisfactory. He also desired to be school director, ward chairman and member of the county committee.

Snyder called the meeting to order in the school house. About 200 people were present. He was promptly named for chairman and attempted to close the nominations. P. J. Farrell proposed Harry O'Toole, and trouble started. Snyder declined to recognize the nomination, declaring the order of business had been closed. Secretary Martin Joyce started to call the roll of the names. The majority was voting for O'Toole, and Snyder and his crowd left the building. In a couple of minutes the lights went out and Snyder was credited with tampering with the gas meter.

O'Toole's reformers secured candles and the election was held. He was finally chosen as ward chairman and D. J. Demas was elected a member of the city committee. Martin Joyce, Frank Anderson, Charles Stix and P. J. Demas were named as delegates to the legislative district convention to elect a county committeeman. This ward committee was chosen: First district, Martin Joyce; James O'Brien and John Skelton; Second district, P. J. Farrell, Clem Arbauer and Frank Anderson; Third district, Charles Stix, John Milligan and Peter Snyder; Fourth district, Harry O'Toole, D. J. Demas and Jacob Swartz.

Snyder claims that he was regularly elected ward chairman and J. N. Kerr secretary.

In Allegheny there was no trouble. The Wyman crowd was allowed full sway and most of the primaries were held in private houses.

to distribute the aid from here to the other parts of the state.

A meeting of the representative people of North Topeka, who are on the south side, was held today to arrange for systematic protection of their property. Immediately after the meeting a large number of armed men left in boats for the north side, where they will guard property. Their orders are to shoot.

The river is three feet below highwater mark. It is the opinion of experts that the river will go down rapidly from now on. The work of removing sufferers began early today, and it is believed that few will be left in the flooded town.

There is no way of getting at the amount of damage done by the flood in Topeka and vicinity. The damage may reach $2,000,000. It may go beyond that and it may be much less. Crops in the Kansas bottom are destroyed, which will cause an enormous loss to farmers.

IS APPROVED BY ROOT.

The Secretary of War Instructs the Army to Aid Sufferers.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—General Gillespie, chief of engineers, yesterday telegraphed Major Casey, at St. Louis, asking if a snagboat could be sent from St. Louis to Kansas City for the relief of the flood sufferers. Major Casey replied that as the bridges are blocked by debris it may be impossible for a snagboat to make Kansas City within three weeks.

Adjt. General Corbin today telegraphed commander of the department of the Platte that Secretary Root approved the course of Col. Miner in issuing rations to the sufferers at Kansas City, Kas., and directing that he do all in his power to save life and property.

HIGHWAYMEN CAPTURED.

M. J. Neelan Held Up by Three Negroes in Liberty Avenue, Near Market Street.

Three negroes attempted to hold up M. J. Neelan, of No. 20 Third street, in Liberty avenue, near Market street, shortly before 3 o'clock this morning. One of the negroes had a revolver and pushed it in Neelan's face, while the other two tried to rob him.

Neelan broke away and ran into the Crystal pharmacy, with the negroes in pursuit. Several men came to Neelan's assistance and the three highwaymen ran down Sixth street. Policeman H. P. Muncey pursued them and captured one of the men at Duquesne way, but the others escaped. The prisoner gave his name as Earl Wilson, and says he lives in Allegheny. He was locked in Central station.

THREAT MADE TO CALL A STRIKE

District Presidents of United Mine Workers Issue a Statement.

THEY INSIST ON RECOGNITION

Claim That Operators on Board of Conciliation Have Not Lived Up to the Award of the Strike Commission Appointed by President Roosevelt.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WILKESBARRE, PA., June 2.—Another dark strike cloud looms upon the horizon of the anthracite coal regions today. The executive boards, in session here, have indorsed the selection of their three district presidents on the board of conciliation, and if these members are not recognized by the operators, they will contemplate calling a convention of mine workers to declare a general suspension of work until their members are given recognition. The district presidents as a result of today's meeting issued the following statement tonight on the dispute:

At a joint meeting of the executive boards of the anthracite region here today, the members selected to represent the mine workers of each district, on the conciliation board, reported that the representatives of the operators refused to recognize them, or the mine workers' credentials, or accept them as members of the conciliation board. They reported that the operators objected on the ground that the mine workers' representatives were appointed by their organization as it exists in each district.

HOW BOARD IS SELECTED.

The award of the commission relative to the manner of selecting the conciliation board, provides. That if there shall be a division of the whole district into three divisions in which there shall exist an organization representing a majority of the mine workers of each district, one of said boards of conciliation shall be appointed by each of said organizations, and three other persons shall be appointed by the operators, the operators, in each of said districts appointing one person.

The district boards are still of the opinion that they appointed their representatives as provided for by this section of the award and voted unanimously to reaffirm their former action. The district officers have been exceedingly anxious to have the conciliation board form and meet for the purpose of adjusting many grievances which have accumulated and to this end have been heading their energies. The officers have advised where grievances arose that they go and point out that while a strike occurred ordered them back to work pending a decision by the conciliation board which they hoped would soon be formed in accordance with the award of the commission.

Two questions are under consideration by the meeting today—one is to make application to the national president of the mine workers, to issue a general or general suspension of work throughout the whole anthracite region, to continue until the operators agree to adjust existing grievances and live up to the award of the anthracite coal strike commission; the second is that a delegate convention be called to consider the advisability of taking the above action.

EVERY MINER WOULD QUIT.

A district officer was seen at 9:30 this evening and was asked if the objections of the operators could not be removed if the mine workers selected their representatives on the board by a majority vote of miners. He replied that it was not likely such a step would be taken. If the operators demand that, he said, the miners had as much right to ask the company representatives be selected by a vote of the stockholders.

"Will the miners quit work if they are called out?" was asked.

"Yes, every man will come out. The 30,000 men in the Schuylkill, whom we ordered back to work, will not hesitate to come out again and there are acute grievances in every region which will cause a suspension if such a step is decided upon. The district officers have counselled the miners to remain at work pending the settlement of the trouble by the conciliation committee, but if this committee cannot be organized there is nothing else for them to do.

The indications are that if no word from the operators is forthcoming, the anthracite region will experience another struggle which will attract the attention of the world. It will be a bitter fight to the end. Some of the members, however, feel that the operators will recede and recognize the credentials of the miners' presidents.

Robert S. McCormick Explains His Court Costume and Russian Manchurian Policy.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 2.—Joseph H. Choate, United States ambassador to Great Britain; Robert S. McCormick, ambassador to Russia, and Mrs. Charlemagne Tower, wife of the ambassador to Germany, arrived today from Southampton. Mr. Choate, who came over to attend the wedding of his son, Joseph Choate, Jr., said he would return to his post immediately after the marriage.

Mr. McCormick, when asked regarding Russia's intentions in Manchuria, said:

"Russia will undoubtedly maintain the open door, or she would not have put in the Manchurian railway, which is costing two and a half million dollars a month."

Mr. McCormick had this to say about his court costume, which was described as a magnificent affair: "The description of my court dress was evidently a mistake made in sending in the report. I wore only the ordinary dress. It was the same dress as was worn by my predecessor. There was some gilt on it, but only what was necessary to distinguish one of my position."

Mr. McCormick, who was accompanied by Mrs. McCormick, said that he would remain at home about four weeks. Next Tuesday he will be in Cleveland to attend the wedding of his son, Joseph Medill McCormick to Miss Ruth Hanna, a daughter of Senator Hanna.

PHILADELPHIA, June 2.—The annual meeting of the Reading company was held today and the old board of directors re-elected. The regular meeting for the receipt of the annual report will be held October 1.

It was expected that L. F. HEATH'S REPLY TO TULLOCH

Former First Assistant Postmaster General Characterizes Some of Former Cashier's Statements as Lies—Offers to Aid Payne's Investigation.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The go-between who figured in transactions which led to the arrest of August W. Machen, the former superintendent of the free delivery system, are understood to be members of a firm in Toledo, O., the former home of Mr. Machen.

The preliminary hearing of Mr. Machen before a United States commissioner, which is scheduled for next Friday, may be rendered unnecessary in case the grand jury should report an indictment against him. The case will be presented to that body tomorrow, when a number of witnesses subpoenaed by the government will appear. An indictment would relieve the government from the necessity of disclosing its evidence prior to the trial of the case, and would require the rearrest of Machen on a bench warrant and the furnishing of fresh bonds.

The postmaster general today made public the reply of former First Assistant Postmaster General Perry S. Heath to the charges of S. W. Tulloch, alleging irregularities in Mr. Heath's department. Speaking of the case of Mrs. Winans, whom Tulloch said was carried on the payroll without performing any service, Mr. Heath said:

CASE OF MRS. WINANS.

If Mrs. Winans did not render services equivalent to the compensation she received her superior officers were deceived. I did not know the woman when she was appointed and had no personal interest in her. Her name was among the large number always on my desk and I recall that she was well recommended for a position. I could not personally ascertain whether persons appointed to position in postoffices rendered satisfactory service. I do remember that this woman became a nuisance about the postoffice department and that I refused to see her. She was reported to me by my chief clerk as being persistent in her demands for promotion or more desirable work. She at last reported to me, to perform services warranting promotion or an increase of compensation. The intimation that there was an "honorary" service which performs some unspecified purpose, political or personal or other purposes than good service to a pure invention. It is a lie out of the whole cloth, as are most of the imputations of Tulloch.

The final recollection I have of Tulloch was shortly after the induction of Postmaster Merritt and the appointment of a new cashier. A number of Tulloch's friends called upon me and asked me to intercede for his reinstatement.

INTERCEDED FOR TULLOCH.

After I had steadily declined to make any intercession one or two or more men called and said, with a manner of politics and prudence, to have him reinstated. I was advised that Tulloch had been collecting evidence of improprieties in the postoffice, and that if he were not reinstated he would expose them; that I would be made to suffer and McKinley administration would be scandalized. I remember to have stated to one of these importunate friends that I could not conceive how an honest and conscientious employe of the government would want to come in, no matter who were wrong was being done, much less reinstated under such conditions and that as he had been a stigma to the government and had not to my knowledge regretted these alleged irregularities I could and would not in conscience recommend him for any position.

If there is any specific information that I can give you, or any which I can procure you in any way in collecting facts bearing upon any transaction within the bureau over which I presided until about three years ago, I shall be glad to serve you.

LARGE LOTS OF PIG NEEDED

Recent Purchases Must Be Duplicated Before September 1—Managers of Subsidiary Companies Report That Business is in Excellent Condition.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, June 2.

President Schwab of the United States Steel Corporation is taking advantage of the visit here of the heads of the departments of the subsidiary companies to plan for the work of the summer. The presidents of the various underlying concerns report conditions uniformly good, with business firm in all lines and the corporation still behind in its orders. The demand for steel rails is increasing to such an extent that the Ohio plant at Youngstown, which a short time ago was put on billets almost exclusively, will resume turning out steel rails. The pig iron requirements of the corporation for the last quarter will also be very heavy. The recent purchases of Bessemer and basic pig iron will have to be duplicated between now and September 1.

At the monthly meeting of the board of directors this afternoon the manager of the underwriting syndicate made a statement as to the extent of the conversions of preferred stock. It is understood that the members of the syndicate very generally availed themselves of the opportunity to convert their preferred stock in the hands of the syndicate managers, and as they had about $50,000,000 of stock available for conversion, the net results may finally stand this way:

Stock converted by independent shareholders	$ 50,000,000
Stock turned over by syndicate	30,000,000
Bonds purchased by syndicate for cash	20,000,000
Stock converted by syndicate under extension privileges	50,000,000
Total stock exchanged	150,000,000
Total bonds issued	150,000,000

The syndicate will still have bonds which can be sold for cash, independent of conversion $30,000,000 of the original $50,000,000 issue authorized to be sold for cash only.

The committee which has charge of the profit-sharing plan is said to have been purchasing preferred stock at present low prices, which later will be offered to employes on terms practically identical with the old plan which was accepted by 28,000 employes.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

DUBOIS, PA., June 2.—A robbery perpetrated by a gang of five burglars caused much excitement here early today. The robbers blew open the safe in the office of the Platt-Barber wholesale grocery house and after firing several shots at two citizens who detected them at work, and holding three police officers at bay with drawn revolvers until they completed the job, escaped with all the valuables the safe contained.

They finished their work despite the fact that a fire alarm had been turned in, and firemen and citizens were rushing to the scene. They got away on a freight train.

BIGELOW FOR HUMP REMOVAL, MAYOR HAYS FOR FILTRATION

Two City Improvement Schemes May Conflict in Proposed Bond Issue This Fall.

SAND FILTER PLAN OPPOSED

Council Committee Prepared to Make Report Which Is Practical Indorsement of Mechanical System—Enough Money on Hand.

Director Bigelow announced yesterday that a bond issue to remove the hump would be submitted to the people this fall and that in a few days he would have the signatures of all property owners of the affected district, including that of H. C. Frick, waiving claims for damages.

Mayor Hays stated yesterday that a vote would have to be taken on a bond issue to build a filtration plant, although it is understood that Director Bigelow is not as much concerned about filtration as he is about the Fifth avenue hump.

A meeting of the filtration committee, which has not met since its organization last September, has been called for Thursday evening. At this meeting the bond ordinance, providing for the issuance of $1,219,000 to complete a sand filtration plant, will be returned to common council without any recommendation except that it be referred to the finance committee for action.

BIGELOW'S STATEMENT SIGNIFICANT.

According to the statement yesterday by Chairman Thomas M. Brown the committee will make a report to councils to the effect that there is no choice between the two methods of filtration—sand and mechanical—but that the mechanical system is much the cheaper, more simple and just as efficient in removing bacteria and clarifying the water as the sand system, and Chairman Brown's words indicate preference for it. He said yesterday:

"I find considerable opposition in councils, among all factions, against sand filtration. There is no doubt that a mechanical filter is just as successful in removing bacteria and clarifying the water as the sand system, because the mechanical system has much improved in recent years. Besides, the mechanical system is much cheaper and we would not have to issue more bonds to build a mechanical plant. We have enough money now to build a mechanical plant, but if we adhere to the sand system another bond issue of about $1,500,000 will be required.

FAVORS VOTE BY PEOPLE.

"I am in favor of submitting the matter to a vote of the people, as the sand filtration was decided upon some time ago, and if there is to be a change the people ought to decide the matter. If they decide that they do not want to spend any more money for a sand filter, we will be driven to the other method. That is just the way the matter stands."

Director Bigelow may object to the filtration proposition being tacked on to his "hump" scheme and there is very likely to be a division in the Citizens' party over this matter, for if filtration was defeated by a vote of the people the hump movement might share the same fate.

Mayor Hays was asked yesterday if any provision for further water extension, street repaving or other schemes would be included in the proposed bond issue. He said he did not think that any other matters would be brought in, as he had heard none suggested.

VACCINATION CAMPAIGN.

Director Harry Moore Will Conduct One to Stamp Out the Smallpox.

Director Moore of the department of public safety is determined to stamp out smallpox, and after a talk yesterday with Dr. Eugene G. Matson, the city bacteriologist, he delivered himself of some vigorous remarks.

"I don't like to do it, but as no inroads have been made upon smallpox I intend to have every person in the city vaccinated, if necessary," said Director Moore. "I intend to consult City Solicitor Rodgers on the rights of the public safety department in a campaign like the one I contemplate."

If Rodgers gives the director encouragement, the force of city physicians will be increased and the vaccination campaign began. The uniformed police will be used to enforce the order.

DECLARE MONONGAHELA RIVER WATER IS BAD

Youghiogheny river water is declared to be better than that of the Monongahela, by Knowles & Caplin, experts employed by the McKeesport water commissioners. The experts made their final report to the commissioners yesterday, stating that while the water of the Monongahela river is badly contaminated, it can be filtered more readily than the water of the Youghiogheny, but that the water of the latter river when filtered would be purer than that of the Monongahela. The erection of a filtration plant is recommended.

HOMESTEAD TEACHERS' SALARIES ARE RAISED

The Homestead school board at its meeting for reorganization, last evening, re-elected the efficient corps of teachers employed during the past year, not a single change being made, and increased the salary of every teacher $5 a month. The millage was fixed at 8 mills. E. F. Rowse was elected president, J. H. Williams, secretary, and W. S. Bullock, treasurer.

WILL GO AFTER GEORGE FLEMING

Republicans Ready to Prove He Lives in the Fourteenth Ward.

THEY WANT HIS SEAT VACATED

If the Plan Is Successful the First Ward Councilman Cannot Participate in the Meeting Monday—Effects Clerkship Contest.

Effort is to be made to prevent Select Councilman George S. Fleming from participating in the meeting of council Monday. If successful, the Republicans can thus defeat the plans of the Citizens to elect E. W. Hassler and H. B. Davis city clerks to succeed E. J. Martin and W. C. Gearing.

Fleming represents the First ward in select council, but it is claimed that his home has been in the Fourteenth ward for several years. The directory gives his residence as No. 3238 Juliet street. At the last meeting of council President John S. Lambie refused to recognize the right of Fleming to sit in councils. Since then the Republicans have been considering the institution of court proceedings to have the First ward seat declared vacant.

Since the announcement of T. S. Bigelow that he proposes to have city clerks elected Monday, those interested in the ousting of Fleming have got busy. Last night it was announced that legal steps would be taken today to bar Fleming from further participation in councilmanic session.

Ex-Senator John Weller will likely have charge of the case. Considerable secrecy is being maintained about the method of procedure. Friends of Martin and Gearing claim that a plan has been found whereby Fleming can be restrained from taking part in the Monday session. They say that positive proof of the member's non-residence in the First ward can be presented to the court at once. Effort will be made to get a hearing in the case on Saturday.

If Fleming is denied his seat Monday, the Citizens cannot secure a joint session, and the plan to elect city clerks will fail.

NO POLICE PROTECTION.

Woman Charges False Pretense Against the Man That Sold Furniture to Her.

W. M. Oppenheimer of School street, Allegheny, was arrested yesterday by Constable Mills of Alderman Brinker's office on a charge of false pretense, brought against him by Ray Young of No. 55 Robinson street. The latter charges that Oppenheimer induced her to buy $700 worth of house furnishings from him by representing that he "stood pat" with the new administration, and that his "pull" would protect her against any police interference.

Last week the Young woman got notice from the police to close her house and she protested, saying she was a friend of Oppenheimer. The police disclaimed any knowledge of such a person and the Young woman sues to recover $215 she paid down on the receipt of the furniture. Oppenheimer waived hearing before Alderman Brinker and furnished $1,000 bail for court.

POLICEMEN DISMISSED.

Supt. McTighe Removes Eight Patrolmen and Will Name Their Successors Later.

Police Superintendent McTighe was using his ax yesterday. Eight patrolmen were removed and their successors will be appointed later. He claims the removals were for cause. The men dismissed are:

S. W. Ward, George Dinguid, Wray Pickles, station No. 5; J. F. Ryan, John A. Fleming, station No. 1; Joseph Williams, station No. 6; Alexander Harris, station No. 2, and L. J. House, station No. 7.

New Fire Proofing Company.

Audley Calhoun, a McKeesport merchant, and W. B. Greenwood, chemist at the Firth-Sterling Steel Company's plant, have organized the Calhoun-Greenwood Pottery and Fire Proofing Company, and have secured a charter in Ohio. The company has purchased, near Canton, 75 acres of land, underlaid with coal and fireclay, and will manufacture pottery, conduits and brick.

M'KEES ROCKS FIRE IS FOLLOWED BY ARRESTS

Two Strange Men Suspected of Blowing a Safe and Firing the Wire Plant.

Neither Kidd Bros. & Burgher, owners of the wire plant destroyed at McKees Rocks early yesterday morning, nor the borough police have been able to learn positively what caused the fire which consumed the plant.

Today a hearing will be given Edward Nolan and John Campbell, who were arrested after the fire by Chief of Police Thomas Grogan on a charge of acting suspiciously while the fire was burning. Nolan claims to be from Brooklyn and Campbell says he is from New York. The report that a Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad engineer saw two men running away from the vicinity of the wire plant led to the arrest of Nolan and Campbell. After the fire had been extinguished it was discovered that the front of the office safe had been blown out, and it is believed the fire resulted from an explosion following the blowing of the safe. W. F. Kidd, president of the company, yesterday stated that the cash drawer and books in the safe were found intact after the fire. He estimated the company's loss at $40,000.

SPLANE ELECTED.

New Directors of the P. & A. Telephone Company Organize the Board.

At the meeting of the Pittsburgh & Allegheny Telephone Company's directors, yesterday, J. G. Splane was elected president; S. H. Browne, vice president and general manager; R. F. Bonsall, treasurer and John S. Weller, secretary. The new interests in the telephone company have taken active charge. The new board consists of J. G. Splane, R. C. Hall, S. H. Browne and John S. Weller, all of Pittsburgh; George R. Webb, D. E. Evans and Stanley Baker of Baltimore.

The control of the company was obtained by the Hall syndicate through the purchase of a large part of the additional stock issued by the company, its capital stock being increased from the former amount, $1,500,000 to $5,000,000. The old stockholders, largely Baltimore capitalists, retain their stock, but practically all of the new issue goes to Pittsburghers.

June Brides and Gift-Things.

It is pleasant to turn from the topics of every-day store news and discuss what is most admirable to bestow upon the bride of June. A visit to our third floor Bric-a-Brac Department will be fraught with interest, for, literally in riotous profusion, there are unique specimens of everything calculated to gladden the heart of a young bride—the inexpensive as well as the costly.

In the matter of crystal, always appropriate, attention is directed to our importation of the very famous and very fine Rock Crystal from Lorraine, in the artistically beautiful St. Louis pattern. Many articles of this ware suitable for bridal gifts, such as Sherbet Sets, Vases, Compotes and Footed Bonbons with very lengthy stems. This Rock Crystal is really a species of cut glass, all the decorations being in rich deep cuttings.

Cut Glass is standard for bridal presents, and nothing we know of gives more pleasure than a piece, or several pieces, of this ware. We have everything from the little Nappies to the immense Punch Bowl.

Austrian Glass is another bridal favorite, it is very beautiful in its resplendent colors and we have in this ware Vases of odd construction with bronze trimmings, Flower Baskets and many other suitable pieces. A special line of Austrian Glass ware has cherry and strawberry decorations.

As for Bronzes, they are here in a broad range of subjects, beginning with the little bust and going to the large figure, and on to the immense electroliers.

Italian Majolica ware, something that is quite unique, gives one an opportunity to make a gift out of the ordinary. Each piece is decorated with either full bunches of grapes or cherries, as near to Nature as it is possible to get.

Then there are the fine China Plates sold by the dozen or the half dozen—such wares as Coalport, Crown Derby, Minton and Sevres. Probably no present could be given the bride that would be more appreciated than a set of Plates of finest china.

The Curios, mostly specimens for the cabinet, present to one the inexpensive side of gift giving. Thousands of admirable little pieces that would convey, as well as something costly, the good wishes of the donor.

Prices are not quoted on the foregoing simply because mention is made of these things for bridal gifts more in the way of suggestions than anything else. Indeed the variety of subjects is so large, and the price range so wide, that a clear understanding of the prices could hardly be published. You can depend upon this, however, that in every case prices are much lower than high-grade wares are generally sold for.

Porch Rockers, 75c each.

And they are good ones, too—good and strong. Maple frames and reed seats.

Large porch arm Rockers, fancy reed seat and back, maple frame, $2.25 each.

And we have the arm chairs to match these rockers for the same price of $2.25.

The foregoing is a new lot of inexpensive porch and lawn furniture just received and on sale in the fifth floor Furniture Department.

Hammocks.

True, the weather of the past few days has not been very suggestive of hammocks, but you can rest assured you will get all the hammock weather you want, and that shortly. So it's best to be on the safe side and have your hammock ready when the weather does come.

We have hammocks in about every grade that anyone would care to buy, a real good hammock for 50c, a better one for $1, still better for $1.50 and from those prices on up to $5.

For the baby, and for saving the mother a good deal of trouble, we have the cutest kind of a baby arrangement called the Princess Baby Hammock. The hammock is attached to a very strong frame, and is so very light it can be moved anywhere without exertion.

In the fourth floor, where the hammocks are sold, such accessories as Hooks for 5c each, Ropes for 10c and Pillows from 50c each up to $5.

Prices on Awnings.

Have all the desirable kinds of awnings, Bamboo and Vudor, which are ready to hang, Cloth Awnings and Baltimore Blinds made to measure, and that right quickly.

Bamboo Awnings, in the largest size, cost $1.20 each for the 8x8 foot size; $1.35 each for the 9x8 foot size; $1.50 each for the 10x8 foot size; $1.85 each for the 12x10 foot size. Smaller sizes of bamboo awnings if you can use them.

Vudor Awnings, in beautiful mottled effects, $1.75 each for the 4x8 foot size; $2.50 for the 6x8 foot size; $3 each for the 8x8 foot size, and $5 each for the 8x10 foot size.

In the matter of cloth awnings we leave you to choose the materials. Awning materials from 18c a yard up to 38c. We use none but the most improved fixtures. Send postal or telephone and a man will be sent to measure your windows or your porch, with samples of materials, and the awnings will be furnished you shortly.

Of all window Awnings none give so much satisfaction as Baltimore Blinds. We make these to order at 30c a square foot, but any size under 20 square feet is charged at $6. We also make a small charge for fitting Baltimore Blinds.

Women's Fabric Gloves.

A little while back it looked as though we would be unable to supply the demand. The manufacturers were back on our orders, especially the maker of the Kayser Glove. Well, ready now, new shipments having arrived.

Two-clasp Suede Lisle Gloves, very pretty colors, also white and black—25c, 50c, 75c a pair.

A new and very cool Glove, a two-clasp net—gray, black, white—50c a pair.

Two-clasp Kayser Silk Gloves mode, tan, gray, white and black—50c, 75c and $1 a pair.

12-button Kayser Silk Gloves—black and white—$1 a pair.

16-button Kayser Silk Gloves—black and white—$1.25 a pair.

Box Couches, $15.

Worth every cent of $18.

As the time has come to camphorize your Spring and Winter clothing, fifteen dollars could not be put to better use than investing them in one of these box couches. They are cedar lined, have a good spring top, covered in plain denim, green, red and blue, and their capacity for storage is simply wonderful.

Did it ever occur to you that the right kind of a Box Couch comes in very handy when a lot of company arrives unexpectedly to stay over night? The best beds for them—the box couch for you. And you rest easy.

Those 38c Voiles.

The dressiest dress stuff we know of for Summer. These voiles are constructed of hard twisted threads and are strictly all wool. They are voile in every sense of the word—not something that is closely woven and resembles canvas.

The former price of these voiles was 65c a yard—you will note how much the saving is.

Cream white, tan, gray, red, navy and black.

How to Prepare Summer Drinks.

Ask for small booklet at the special display of Sparklets, immediately to right of Penn Avenue entrance. You will gain some knowledge of how to prepare palatable and inexpensive hot weather drinks.

These wonderful bottles, with the small carbon attachment, are steadily growing in favor each season. So very simple to operate—such satisfactory results.

Fill your bottle with liquid, slip in the carbon, a dash of your flavoring extract in the glass—result, a foaming glass of delightful beverage—cooling, refreshing, free from disease germs. The prices are as follows:

Wicker pints, $2.
Travelers' Syphons, with flasks, $2.50.
Nickel Carapace, $2.75.
German silver, plain, $2.50.
Quart Wicker, straight, $3.
Quart Wicker, globular, $3.
German Silver Carapace, $3.50.

With each bottle we give one box of carbons without charge. This makes a complete outfit.

Extra carbons, pints, 25c a box.
Extra carbons, quarts, 40c a box.
Club Soda Sets—6 bottles, charger and carbon, $5.

To make the matter of these 6 bottles for $5 a little clearer, we must tell you the bottles are not the regular Sparklets Bottles, but are for the purpose of filling and laying aside in the ice box, for handy use when required.

Another thing, the operation of the Sparklet Bottle and the little capsule containing the gas cannot be understood, even faintly, from any written description. The operation must be seen to know how simple it is. Demonstrations daily.

Hinoka Cushions, 25c Each.

A thousand cushions is a good many to sell in a couple of weeks, but that is the way these cushions went out, and which caused us to order, with a suggestion of rush, another big lot.

Nothing nicer for the porch or stoop. Woven like Japanese matting, in the same quaint colors, square shape, filled with a very soft material.

Couch Covers, $1 Each.

These are on sale in the fourth floor Drapery and Curtain Department.

They formerly sold for $1.50 each.

We are glad to observe that the answer of Charles Emory Smith to the Tulloch charges is generally regarded as complete and conclusive. The New York Sun remarks that "if everybody who has been connected by innuendo or definite accusation with the alleged maladministration of the postoffice department can present as clean a bill of health as did former Postmaster General Smith, it would not take long to get to the bottom of the whole business." Mr. Smith is able to refer to evidence of record showing that the Tulloch charges received full investigation.

A case is reported from McKeesport which strikingly illustrates the inadequacy of existing penalties for wife-beating. A man convicted of the offense was fined $25 and then the wife busied herself to raise the money to pay the fine. That is the way the present system works. If the offender is fined and the money is raised his family has lost just so much of its means; if he is sent to prison they are deprived of his services. Either way the punishment falls more upon the injured wife than the guilty husband. To remedy this defect the state of Maryland has made whipping the special penalty for wife-beating and it has worked to a charm. Second offenses of the kind are rare and the offense has greatly diminished in frequency.

Some 100,000 skilled mechanics have been idle in New York since May 5, owing to the indorsement by the board of building trades of demands of the Building Material Drivers' union. Wagon driving is generally regarded as an occupation rather than a trade, and employers were not willing to accede to a demand that they should not deal with any wagon drivers save those who had formed this union. All the various building trades struck to enforce the wagon drivers' demand, but they are now withdrawing their indorsement and are taking steps to end the strike. It is the old story of the sympathetic strike whose result is almost uniformly disastrous to labor interests. The prosperous and successful unions are those which confine their attention to the affairs of their own trade.

The janitor is a functionary of recent origin in this country. He came in with the flat and the apartment house and increased and multiplied with the growth of that class of buildings. Many signs indicate that he now constitutes a class of growing importance in the modern organization of society, so that it is in accordance with the usual order of things that the technical interests of his calling should have its organ of publication. We note the appearance of the Janitors' Advocate, devoted to the interests of janitors. It is the official organ of the Janitors' society of New York, whose emblem is a key and a broom and whose motto is "the key and the broom forever." One article in the paper sets forth that the efforts of the street cleaning department must largely depend for success upon the co-operation of janitors. We think this is sound, and if the institution of the janitor will help along the cleanliness of cities here's hoping for the establishment of a janitors' society in Pittsburgh.

Unless something happens to infuse more energy and capacity into the Chinese government the empire is liable to break up from its own internal weakness. Rebellion appears to be breaking out in many quarters and they involve European interests that are likely to make European interference compulsory. At present a rebellion is making headway in Yunnan, extending over the region between that province and the Tonkin frontier. A railroad is being built through that country under French auspices and 200 French subjects are reported to be surrounded by rebels at Yunnan-fu. Appeals to the imperial government at Peking are not likely to produce any effect when the government cannot assert its own authority, and the French authorities in Tonkin could not indefinitely tolerate a condition of anarchy in an adjoining province, oppressing French commercial rights and subjecting French subjects to attack. It is reported that troops are being sent from Nanking to Yunnan to put down the rebellion. If the efforts fail, French intervention in that quarter may be expected.

The fact that river boats can be designed with low stacks has been established, but it is met by statements that this type of boat is one of decreased utility. The assertion contradicts general experience. Locomotives, ocean steamers and tug boats all use low stacks. In fact, the high stack is confined to the river steamer, which retains an old style of engine discarded by all other classes of steam vessels. Craft of modern design, have no more need for a high smoke stack than a locomotive or a tug. The demand for bridge raising proposes that the business and social interests of two great cities shall be oppressed in order that an old-style pattern of river steamboats shall be retained. A fleet of modern, high-powered boats could be built for a small part of what it would cost to raise the bridges and regrade the river fronts of the two cities. The river interests have legitimate subject of complaint in regard to the location of bridge piers. The piers of the various Allegheny bridges ought to be aligned in such a way as to provide a straight channel, with ample clearance.

Our New York correspondent sends interesting particulars of the plans of the Pennsylvania railroad for its New York terminals. The bulk of the suburban travel seeks the downtown district and hence would not find the main station at Thirty-third street and Seventh avenue convenient. In order to provide downtown terminals, a tunnel will be built by the Manhattan and Hudson Tunnel Company under an agreement by which the Pennsylvania road is to run all its suburban trains to stations at Cortlandt and Fulton streets, thus taking the place of the present Cortlandt ferry route. It may be inferred that eventually these tunnel crossings will connect with the municipal subway system, making a subterranean transit system by which railroad passengers may dive into New York as it were and come to surface wherever they please uptown or downtown. Eventually New York will have a system of transportation facilities, elevated, surface and underground, closely connected with the great railroad trunk lines, that will put her far ahead of any other city in the world in such conveniences.

To Clean the Town.

The effort which the department of public works is making to give Pittsburgh clean streets meets our cordial approval and we fully recognize the fact that public co-operation is essential. If the existing ordinances on the subject were enforced there would be an enormous change for the better. A vast amount of the rubbish and litter now finding their way into the streets would be excluded. There is a deplorable lack of public spirit in this respect, and it will require a pretty sharp enforcement of penalties to impress upon people of dirty, slovenly habits, that they have no right to indulge their inclinations by defiling the public streets. When we speak of people of dirty, slovenly habits, we mean least of all the poor people, who live in such crowded quarters that they are almost forced to push household refuse out upon the streets, but the more well-to-do, who think nothing of throwing into the street paper scrap or anything else they want to be rid of. All classes of people need to be taught to value the tidiness of public places and to understand the desirability of neatness everywhere.

The ordinances on the subject have remained so long in what Cleveland once described as innocuous desuetude, that few people know that they are subject to any legal obligations in regard to such matters. We doubt if anybody knows that householders are required to sweep their pavements every Wednesday and Saturday before 9 o'clock in the morning. The obligation of removing snow and clearing out gutters is generally neglected in Pittsburgh, although a familiar duty in other cities, where delay at once invites a call from the policeman on the beat. Every snow storm is well known to furnish jobs in plenty shoveling the snow from pavements and an army of workers at once turns out to earn the customary fee. Failure to keep sidewalks clean and the throwing of any litter or rubbish in the streets is punishable, and public sentiment should sustain the enforcement of the law which the department proposes.

We trust that the pending ordinance for the appointment of sidewalk inspectors will be promptly passed by councils, and that a vigorous and successful effort will be made to make Pittsburgh a clean town.

Party Control.

The Allegheny city Republican committee took important action at its meeting on Monday evening. It has in the first place admitted and assumed party responsibility for public government, and it has in the second place so reformed its organization as to keep it in closer touch with popular sentiment and to make it more responsive to the popular will. As the party rules are now framed the people have more than an even chance against the officeholders, and the latter instead of being permitted to constitute the party, assume their proper attitude of representatives of the party, or, better yet, of the party policies in the service of the people. The system of party irresponsibility has been given a trial in municipal government and has been found lacking in those features necessary to produce results for the public benefit. It has proven no better, if not worse, than the former system by which the will of the people was stifled by a close corporation in control of the offices, and in control of the party machinery through control of the offices. It was a protest against the thing it succeeded, but with responsibility to no organized authority it has followed in the footsteps of those on whose work it was expected to improve and perpetuate the vices the people assumed would be brought to an end. The reorganization of Republican party machinery avoids the admitted faults of preceding Republican organizations, and by making the party committees popular bodies supplies a force by means of which public opinion may keep public officials to their first duty of giving the public the service they were elected to give. The public good, it will be found, will be best served by an intelligent party control that consults the popular will. The irresponsible municipal governments of today in Pittsburgh and Allegheny do not do so. They are a law unto themselves and their administration of public affairs shows it. This will remain true until there is again a municipal administration representative of well-defined public policies, formulated and enforced by a party organization in close contact with party sentiment.

The Ohio Idea.

The Ohio Republican state convention, which meets today, will not be a love feast, but it will be harmonious. Gentlemen will be present who would do things to each other if they had the opportunity, but they will display as much unanimity of sentiment as if their united action proceeded from a love rivaling that of David for Jonathan and a devotion no less sincere than that of Damon for Pythias. There are factions in Ohio, and they have rival leaders, but they are Republicans above all else and their first thought is party success and party control in state and nation. They do their fighting within party lines and when the result is ascertained the fight is ended and they are united at the polls. That all fights are off now is due to acquiescence in the ascertained will of the people. The ticket that will be nominated, while it has been virtually selected in advance of the convention, is rather a matter of the survival of the fittest after thorough canvass and discussion than of dictation by any special political interest. Myron T. Herrick, for example, is unmistakably the choice of the whole Republican party for governor. He is, it is true, Senator Hanna's preference, and the concession in advance of the assembling of the delegates of his unanimous nomination, is the special evidence of Hanna's dominance. But it is dominance based wholly on the will of the majority of the party, and the nomination will be no less the declaration of the will of the party than if the half-dozen or more candidates originally entered for the race had remained in it until the finish. Their withdrawal was, after all, less in deference to Hanna's wish than to appreciation of the fact that public sentiment was really massed behind the man who was and is Hanna's first choice. Mr. Herrick is the sort of man who could stand alone without any political backing for this highest honor in the gift of the Ohio Republican state convention, and in yielding the place to him in advance of a count of convention noses, other early aspirants for the honor took account of that fact and of the attitude of the rank and file of the party.

The Ohio Republican convention, besides nominating a state ticket will also make a platform declaration for the nomination and election of Roosevelt to the presidency in 1904. This is as well settled in advance of the meeting of the convention as is the personnel of the ticket. It was settled, too, like the ticket, in the advance discussions by the will of the people. It was settled in opposition to the wish of Senator Hanna as the ticket was settled in harmony with his wish. The two circumstances taken together indicate popular guidance of party leaders in shaping the convention work, and veto any conclusion that might be hastily reached by separate consideration of preliminary matters that the convention's action is not the free expression of the party will. Undoubtedly Senator Hanna would have been defeated on the Roosevelt resolution had he insisted in opposing it. The president gave him the opportunity to back down gracefully and avoid defeat. Undoubtedly, Herrick would have been nominated had there been a fight on him, but the opposition read the signs and portents and concluded that a fight would have been futile and a waste of energy. Therefore, the delegates to the convention will be in agreement today as a wise concession to public sentiment on all the principal points before them and will point the way to united action in 1904.

The Versatile College Boy.

A case came up in a New Haven police court Monday which, incidentally, made interesting disclosures, showing the versatility of the college student. It was known before that he often figures as a waiter at summer resort hotels during the vacation season, but during school terms it was supposed that his extraneous occupations could hardly extend beyond tutoring or literary work. It is now a matter of legal record that a New Haven hack driver holding cab license No. 392 is a Yale senior.

The way in which the disclosure of his identity was brought about shows that even a Yale senior does not part with his college prejudices when he mounts the coachman's box. In his capacity as college student Theron R. Strong, a nephew of the late Mayor Strong of New York city, had a row with William B. McCarthy about a bulldog. Strong had a pup named Flash of such charming personality that he used to eat at the same table with the students. Strong and his pup are both popular, Strong because he is a crack oarsman, a plucky football player and a jolly companion; the pup because of his beauty and affectionate disposition. Some people do not admire the bulldog type of beauty, finding it too snub and wide-mouthed for their taste. Mr. McCarthy was one of such, and the way he fumed about the presence of Flash at the table rankled Strong's memory.

That was a year ago. McCarthy left Yale and the two never met until last Monday night. McCarthy was returning from his honeymoon trip and Strong happened to drive the hack which met him at the station. When it came to settling the fare, Strong raised the tariff 50 cents, because of the old insult to his dog. McCarthy tried to slam his house door in Strong's face, Strong pushed the door in and next day the trouble was aired in the police court.

Everything has been squared, but Strong during the present week has to repair McCarthy's front door. Incidentally, it is settled that the college student can drive a hack as well as do other things. It gives one a vivid idea of the lusty all-around capacity developed by the higher education.

A Good Omen.

The turn of the tide and the recuperation of the railroads from the exhausting effects of the freight congestion is indicated in the report for the month of April and for the four months of the calendar year ending with April of earnings of the lines of the Pennsylvania company directly operated. While there was a large increase in the gross earnings for the four months, the difficulty of moving freight expeditiously was such as to greatly increase the cost of handling the business, with the result that expenses increased so much faster than earnings as to show a decrease of $352,000 in net earnings for the period instead of the large increase that there ought have been and would have been, if facilities had been equal to an expeditious movement of the business offered. The statement for the last month of the period, however, shows that the bad condition has been cured and indicates that the railroads are now in a position to serve the people and to recoup themselves for the earlier losses. In April, with a large increase in gross earnings, there was a less increase in expenses, so that at the end of the month it is found that the net earnings for that time are $698,000. Should May show a corresponding result the decrease of net earnings for the year will be entirely wiped out and the natural condition of this generally prosperous period will have been restored. Business has not fallen off in any field unaffected by strikes, and the strikes are after all not so important as to have an appreciable effect, except on the nervous values of Wall street. The railroads are now keeping up with the public demand, not because the demand has lessened, but because they have increased their facilities and are in better shape to handle the traffic that is offered. It is this that has reversed the record of the months preceding the month of April in the matter of the net earnings of the Pennsylvania lines, and other railroads make a similar showing. The April record is a prophecy that the good times are to stay with us. If the tide had not turned with the railroads it would have been a bad omen, but the tide has turned.

The Chicago bands are accused of playing coon songs in the Memorial day parades. This is interesting chiefly as revealing the fact that there are some things worse than wearing a dress suit at breakfast.

A London Illustrated paper in speaking of the vaudeville performances of a team of American negroes calls them "coloured coons." Evidently London has yet to learn that we have no white coons over here.

BREAKING THE ICE.

We had some offish neighbors once that moved in, down the road.
We reckoned they was 'bout the proudest folks we'd ever knowed.
An' when we passed 'em now and then we held our heads up high
To make dead sure they couldn't snub us if they was to try.
It really made me nervous, so I jes' braced up one day
An' thought I'd go ahead an' show my manners, anyway.
On Sunday, 'stid o' turnin' round an' gazin' at the view,
I looked at them an' says, "Hello!" An' they says "Howdy do!"

It wasn't the cold an' formal greetin' that you've sometimes heard;
They smiled, an' said it hearty, like they meant it, every word.
It's solemn to reflect on what we miss along life's way
By not jes' bein' natural an' good humored day by day.
There's lots o' folks who fling the simple joys of life aside
Because they dread the shadow of their own unconscious pride.
And nine times out o' ten you'll find the rule works right an' true—
Jes' tell the world "Howdy!" and it'll answer "Howdy do!"

Do you kiss babies?

Well, don't do it. They don't want to be kissed and can't appreciate it; therefore it is a pure waste of time, sweetness, energy, or whatever your kisses may represent.

A baby doesn't know a kiss on the lips from a pinch on the nose, and at very best doesn't like it half as well as a hoo-choo-koo-chee under the chin. In fact, babies don't like to be kissed, as is plainly shown by the fact that they almost invariably turn their faces away. And when you do succeed in kissing them fairly in the mouth they spit it out.

A healthy, well-balanced baby would rather chew the toe of an old gum shoe than be kissed by anybody, while for sweetness it wouldn't give one greasy drum-stick for a bushel of kisses.

But as it grows older its views on these, as well as other matters, change materially.

The way babies are being treated in this day and age of the world is simply a shame, not to the baby, but to those whose slave and charge it is.

Nearly every baby is regarded by its parents as a charge, and not always as a sacred charge, or one that is welcome and agreeable.

The fact of the matter is that babies are not as welcome visitors in families as they once were, or as they should be, particularly in families which belong to society. The time was when the baby was the thing, now it is any old thing.

You can hardly blame the good stork for not visiting the houses of the rich, and of those who dote on society, for it is in these houses that baby has its very worst times. It is there that it is abused most shamefully—not exactly beaten and starved, or left to freeze in the cold or swelter in the heat, yet it is made to suffer all the same.

The stork knows about it and don't forget, and that is why it takes its precious packages to the homes of the common people. Somehow these have learned what a baby is, what it wants, and what it needs, and don't forget.

Most people think the baby in the rich home is the lucky baby, but this is not always so, for its troubles are not only numerous but onerous. The baby in the common home has its troubles, too, but they are different, being those ordained and appointed for babies in general.

Friend "C" of the New York Evening Post, seems to know something—much, in fact—about society babies, and she is not afraid to tell it. Following is a clipping from one of her recent pieces:

"Recently I have seen a display of gorgeous—the word sounds inapt, but I think I am within the true meaning—garments for an infant's use. Lace like cobwebs, silk rich with rare embroideries, as of the costliest type, and jewelled pins and clasps, fit for a queen's raiment. Should the first little tottering step catch on the lace of the skirt it would destroy what would feed a poor man for a week; should the fastening of its cape be lost, enough money would be wasted to clothe a family of little ones, elsewhere. A perpetual and banefully irritating surveillance is kept over the little human atom who is indeed in swaddling clothes. There is absolute responsibility appertaining to the care of these tiny but intrinsically valuable possessions.

"This beginning but typifies all the coming years of tutelage and nursing. Blessed is the child whose simple white clothing leaves not an anxious thought as to its preservation—that character of garment, which, however soft and fine and snowy, never tempts a nurse to grow angry over the injuries which come from free limbs and the joyful liberty which means life and health and happiness.

"Another way in which riches defrauds childhood is of the precious companionship of its parents. The endless sequence of duties, engagements, amusements, responsibilities, cares, fatigues, which come hand in hand with great wealth, make the children and the nursery not the center and overruling interests of father and mother, but brings that share of life down to the level of other duties and makes them a doubtful joy. Despoiled indeed is that child who does not find its pre-vision of Paradise in the peace and love of its mother's constant care, and fails to learn at her knee the alphabet of human right and wrong."

However, this is away off from the text, as you may have noticed. But what's the use of sticking to the text when there is something better to stick to, or when something drops in to crowd you off? Of course, it depends largely on the nature of the text, of the urgency of its discussion.

In all probability you expected to find delectable disquisitions on osculation, as they say in Sewickley, and known in Greensburg as kissing. In some of the back districts it still goes by that simple appellation, bussing.

But no matter about the name, you know what is meant, and it goes all the same. There is a lot of unnecessary fuss made about it, some, mostly those who are shy on what they think is coming to them. Don't talk; do something, and keep still about it.

No girl can love you a little bit if you kiss and tell. Nor do you care overmuch for the girl who has to run and tell her chum every time you kiss her, and then giggle and wriggle as though you had tickled her half to death.

Don't be foolish about it, for it is something serious, after all.

Frank Cowan may, or may not have been the author of the following, but it is said to have first seen the light of day in or about Greensburg. No doubt the author, be he whom he may, had grounds for believing that he knew what he was talking about.

"Charley, what is osculation?"
"Osculation, Jenny, dear,
Is a learned expression, queer,
For a nice sensation.
I put my arm around your waist—
That is approximation.
You need not fear—
There's no one here—
Your lips quite near,
I then—" "Oh, dear!"
"Jenny, that's osculation."

Forgive me, but I needs must press
One question, since I love you so;
And kiss me, Darling, if it's yes,
And, Darling, kiss me if it's no!

It is about our marriage-day—
I fain would have it even here;
But kiss me if it's far away,
And, Darling, kiss me if it's near!

Ah, by the blushes crowding so
On cheek and brow, 'tis near I guess!
But, Darling, kiss me if it's no,
And kiss me, Darling, if it's yes!

And with what flowers shall you be wed?
With flowers of snow, or flowers of flame?
But be they white, or be they red,
Kiss me, My Darling, all the same!

And you have sewed your wedding-dress?
Nay, speak not, even to whisper low;
But kiss me, Darling, if it's yes,
And, Darling, kiss me if it's no!

A Self-Evident Fact.

It is not a reckless proposition to say that today Theodore Roosevelt has more friends among the American people than any other man, declares the Omaha Bee. Canvass, if you please, any party of a political character and you will find that a majority of Republicans will be in favor of Theodore Roosevelt for the nomination by the Republican national convention of 1904. This sentiment in favor of the president will not only last, but will be strengthened in the future, so that we may predict with almost absolute certainty that the man whom the Republicans of the nation will have to vote for next year is Theodore Roosevelt.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 2.—Astor hotels are going up in bunches, it appears. There is the big place in Longacre square which will be the largest in the city when completed and will bear the name of the family. Then there are others talked about, but only vaguely. Today, however, came the official information that Col. John J. Astor has purchased several parcels of real estate in the vicinity of the proposed Pennsylvania railroad terminal for $550,000. The property comprises nine houses in West Thirty-fourth street and three others in West Thirty-fifth street. The houses are occupied at present and the rents are collected with that regularity and thrift which is characteristic of the Astors. It is believed, however, that a great hotel will be erected on the plot in due time. It will be so near the Pennsylvania railroad terminal that it will be a most valuable property, and a hotel at that point should take in about all that the Waldorf-Astoria leaves, with a little bit over. It is certain that when the railroad finds its way into the center of New York there will be a demand for more hotels. Shrewd men of business have realized this for some time and the Astors are not behind any of their neighbors in smelling out pieces of real estate which will yield larger returns than at present in the course of a few years. It is known to all the world that the Astor estate never parts with any of its holdings in Manhattan, but it is only of recent years that it seems to have settled down to accumulating more of that part of the earth which is bounded by the Hudson, the East and the Harlem rivers. Astor hotels have always proved profitable and Col. Astor knows where he stands when he acquires a site for a new one.

Many Hotels Being Built.

Of all the public buildings which are going up and will go up in New York it seems as if hotels are the most numerous. It might be objected that theaters are entitled to be classed ahead of hotels in the matter of numbers, but to this it may be replied that it is the custom of theater builders, as a rule, to use part of their space for hotels, so that when the performance proves to be too dry their patrons can make their way through a convenient doorway or arcade to the place where they crack ices and give you two for a quarter. Aside from the hotels adjoining theaters there are at least half a dozen big hotels of the old type and twice that number of "apartment" hotels in course of erection in this city. One of the most prominent examples is that which is already towering toward the sky on the site of the old St. Cloud at Forty-second street and Broadway, while immediately across the street the enormous Palast, which at present is only one of the architect's blue prints, will dispute with its neighbor the right to be recognized for three or five miles every way. There will be a great hotel where the Sturtevant used to stand, and which has nearly disappeared now, while up town, above Longacre square, there are so many new hotels building, built or planned, that the mind cannot comprehend them. Perhaps, if the builders work fast enough, Manhattan may some day have hotels enough to house all their patrons comfortably.

Only a Slight Sunstroke.

At the Astor office today it was denied that William Waldorf Astor is seriously ill. It seems to be a fact, however, that he suffered a slight sunstroke a day or two ago. What throws doubts upon this, from the point of view of those who have only heard of the English climate, but never experienced it, is that the sun is never supposed to shine in England.

Miller Sleeps Well in the Tombs.

"Syndicate" Miller says he sleeps better in the Tombs than he has any night while in Sing Sing prison. He slept from midnight until five this morning, which he regards as an unusually long nap, for him.

Prescott's Deadly Hatred.

An extraordinary creature, who is either a degenerate or insane, in the opinion of most persons who have observed the case, is Charles Prescott, who shot Patrick Whalen to death and wounded Whalen's son, Martin, last night. Prescott is in the Tombs, apparently satisfied with his prospects. To a reporter today he is quoted as saying that his only regret is that he did not kill the whole Whalen family. He also said that he had been practicing with a pistol at trees for years to make himself a dead shot for the benefit of the Whalens. He also said that he had practiced with a knife on a dummy, so that he would be equally handy with his dagger. Surely such a man is just as well in a cell for the safety of the community.

Great Wealth in Small Space.

Opposite the Waldorf-Astoria in Thirty-third street there is a row of stock brokers' offices which suggests great wealth as well as extensive business. Harris, Gates & Co., with nearly a dozen other firms are squeezed into the space of about half a block. The rest of the block is occupied mainly by picture dealers, photographers, antique furniture men and jewelers. How much money is represented in persons and stock in that short stretch of old-fashioned houses it would take a fairly good accountant some time to calculate. It is one of the richest blocks above Madison square.

Interurban Makes Concessions.

It appears from the action of the Interurban Street Railway Company, which controls all surface lines in Manhattan and the Bronx, in withdrawing appeals it had entered against court decisions giving $50 damages to persons who had been refused transfers everywhere hereafter. On its face it looks as if the company knows it was wrong and will not do it again. There are several intersections where the refusal of transfers gives much inconvenience to passengers in street cars. A notable one is that at Sixth avenue and Twenty-third street, where Pittsburghers and others going uptown from the Twenty-third street ferry of the Pennsylvania railroad have to pay another fare if they want to go above Twenty-third street. The only way they can escape this is by using the disgraceful Twenty-eighth street line, with its ramshackle, unsanitary, uncomfortable little cars. If the decision stands that transfers must be given at Twenty-third street and Sixth avenue, it will be a comfort to thousands of Pittsburghers every year.

Britain's Tariff Issue.

Not since the South African war has anything roused the British public to such interest as is shown in regard to Joseph Chamberlain's proposition for preferential tariffs favoring the colonies—in effect, protection for free trade England. Evidently he is deeply in earnest. It is said that if he fails to obtain the country's support for it he will resign from public life, thus losing to the nation the services of its keenest and most resolute if not its most remarkable statesman of the present time.

Mr. Balfour, the premier, has substantially given his adhesion to the plan, and Chamberlain is practically the leader, though not in name; still the strain upon the political union will be very great over this new issue, not to speak of the opposition it will meet from the Liberal party. The aim is to solidify and strengthen the empire. The practicability of the plan is extremely doubtful. It is evident, however, that determined as he may be upon the course he has announced, Mr. Chamberlain will have the scheme very thoroughly discussed and the situation well studied before inviting the ordeal of a general election.—Buffalo Courier.

Mr. Chamberlain's tariff proposal becomes the more interesting upon examination. He is playing world politics, and the world is beginning to give attention. Will it end in his being advanced to the premie ship? His appearance in that important post would be a notable matter. He is regarded both at home and abroad as the strongest all-round man among the English statesmen of the day, and one singularly well equipped to grapple with the foremost problem of the day. The watchword is markets—how to secure them, and how to hold them when secured. Competition is red-hot, and still "chastin," and on all sides is to be observed a strenuous effort to keep near the head of the procession.—Washington Star.

+ + + +

Statistics show that England's stage in the trade with foreign nations is about three times what it is in colonial trade. In 1902 she imported from foreign countries goods to the value of $2,105,000,000; from the colonies, only $530,000,000. The exports were, respectively, $870,000,000 and $510,000,000. What shall it profit England to increase her colonial trade if she hazards the other? Mr. Chamberlain is a very adroit man and a skilful politician; but we do not believe that he can persuade hard-headed Englishmen to embark on these uncharted seas. They will listen to him, they will admire his restless energy and his fertile resource, but they will be apt to say, in the end, "Let us stick to our well-tried policy of free markets."—New York Evening Post.

+ + + +

From the point of view of politics the proposal creates a new issue for discussion—an issue much more engrossing than the Education bill and other like domestic topics. Mr. Chamberlain holds before the democracy the prospects of a more stable industry, higher wages, increased revenue, old-age pensions and other intelligible benefits. Before the public generally he holds the prospect of a strengthened empire. There is something in the program to touch the British imagination. But the matter is for discussion only at present. A year or two hence, in case the program obtains favor, a general election will be fought on the tariff issue, but if the cat jumps the other way the matter will be allowed to drop. Certainly nothing so sensational as this proposal to abandon free trade has occurred since Mr. Gladstone brought forward his Home Rule scheme.—Baltimore Sun.

+ + + +

The proposal comes at the psychological moment. England is losing ground. All Englishmen see this. Yearly losses come. Yearly foreign aggression grows. Mr. Chamberlain does not propose changes in the tariff now. He does not ask for protection and high duties today. For the present he asks not for a new practice, but only for a new principle. He appeals to England to accept the situation, and, instead of leaving all to the chances of a game of competition, to use the advantages given by a great colonial empire, the world's carrying trade and the manufacturing and agricultural resources of the United Kingdom to turn trade into English channels by discriminating colonial tariffs, reciprocity agreements and commercial negotiations. The program is world wide. The prospect is tempting. It has evidently profoundly impressed English public opinion.—Philadelphia Press.

Unquestionably, the adoption of Mr. Chamberlain's revolutionary scheme would have a tremendous effect upon American trade. But we do not believe it will be adopted. Even if all the colonies were in favor of an imperial zollverein, which is by no means the case, the result of an appeal to the country through a general election, which is now foreshadowed, would be more than doubtful in support of the change.—Boston Post.

It cannot be supposed that a government which feels constrained to repeal a small registration tax on cereals whose consequences are not generally perceptible because it has suffered from the unpopularity of that tax, has any idea of presently asking the people to authorize the imposition of duties which could hardly fail to increase the price of the loaf. That would be a folly which it is safe to say that neither Mr. Balfour nor Mr. Chamberlain has any idea of committing. Indeed, the latter has explicitly stated that before the judgment of the country is invited there must be a strenuous and protracted campaign of education.

Such being the facts, the excitement which has been aroused by the mere suggestion that possibly free trade is played out affords an impressive demonstration of the sensitiveness of the British mind upon this particular question. Mr. Chamberlain has before him a missionary work which will tax all his powers.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Mr. Roosevelt to His Friends.

The president has spoken promptly and directly in the matter in controversy between Mr. Hanna and Mr. Perakar, and in doing so has discharged a duty to himself and to his party, says the Washington Star. It is a mere quibble to say that this is not the year of the presidential race. In Ohio, in Maryland, in Iowa, in Kentucky, in Massachusetts, even in New York in the mayoralty contest, national questions and the interests of national personalities will enter into the campaign. They could not possibly be kept out. Plainly enough, therefore, the thing to do wherever a campaign is organizing is to shape it so as to derive the greatest possible partisan advantage from them. If the president's name possesses any strength why not invoke it? And in what state where there is a Republican party and a chance to record a Republican victory does it not possess strength?

GOOD PAVEMENTS AND CLEANER STREETS

New Superintendent of Bureau of Highways Begins Work With a Will.

MAKING THE CITY BEAUTIFUL

Alleys and Courts to Be Paved With Asphalt—Plans for Getting Rid of Rubbish—Citizens Must Assist by Complying With Laws.

There is a new broom in the bureau of highways and it means to sweep clean. E. G. Nicewaner, recently appointed to the head of the bureau by Director Bigelow, is an engineer and not a politician and he is going about his work in the spirit of an engineer. He wants to have good highways and clean highways.

To have good highways means extensive repairs, and these have begun. The numerous breaks and holes in the asphalt pavements are being mended, and the work is being done under strict inspection. It is expected that gradually street surface will be brought into fair condition. Mr. Nicewaner says he is going to push this work through as fast as possible. He wants to put asphalt pavements into all courts and alleys, to facilitate regular cleansing. At present brick or cobble stone pave many courts, and there are many that haven't any pavement at all. Hence they become refuges for dirt and refuse. Mr. Nicewaner is keen to wipe out these eyesores by putting in asphalt pavement, easy to sweep and to wash.

When it comes to keeping the streets clean public co-operation is required. One of the great sources of litter and untidiness is paper waste. It is so light that a good deal is blown into the streets from wagon loads of such trash on the way to the public dumps. When thrown in the dumps a good deal blows about the neighborhood. Then, too, Pittsburghers are largely in the habit of throwing miscellaneous litter into the streets. Mr. Nicewaner is planning ways and means to stop that sort of thing. To dispose of paper waste, his plan is to have salamanders along the wharves in which to burn it up. A salamander is simply a large metal cage, into which any combustible stuff can be put and burned without scattering. Instead of taking paper waste to a dump, it is to be sent to the nearest salamander. This will be a convenience to downtown business houses, who have a lot of such rubbish to get rid of. It is also proposed to introduce a small portable salamander for use in connection with the hokey, or wheeled can, used by the street sweepers. Paper scrap will go into this and be promptly disposed of by burning. The ashes can then be turned in with the street sweepings.

There are a lot of ordinances prohibiting the obstruction of sidewalks and the littering of streets, and it is proposed to enforce them. An ordinance has been introduced in common council providing for a staff of inspectors whose business will be to report infractions and make informations before aldermen. A lot of people who have been in the habit of using streets and sidewalks for storage purposes will find themselves involved in costs if they don't clear off, but before strictly enforcing the laws Mr. Nicewaner wants to give due warning. He is trying to get notice to the various foreign colonies through their leaders, and the word is going around among the Slavs, Hungarians, Italians, and the Polish and Russian Jews, that if they litter the streets or occupy the sidewalks they will get into trouble.

There is plenty of law on the subject much more than some people have any idea. Here are a number of prohibitions and fines for violation, as set forth in the Pittsburgh digest, the page and section being noted:

Building materials must not be placed upon the sidewalks (page 428, sec. 47).....$5 00
Ground floor occupants must sweep sidewalks every Wednesday and Saturday before 9 a. m. and keep gutters open. Snow must be removed inside of 12 hours (page 481, sec. 67).....2 00
No person shall throw any dirt, ashes or rubbish on the sidewalk (page 481, sec. 68).....1 00
Sidewalks may not be used for selling fruit, peanuts, soda water or other merchandise (page 482, sec. 69).....20 00
Boxes, barrels or other obstructions may not be left upon sidewalks (page 482, sec. 70).....5 00
Rubbish on sidewalk or street must be removed by the occupant of the lot fronting on sidewalk with 48 hours after notice (page 488, sec. 10).....10 00
Making a fire in the street (page 490, sec. 21).....5 00
Throwing into the street glass, crockery, chips, nails, or cuttings of tin or sheet iron (page 490, sec. 26).....5 00
Throwing into the street orange peel, banana peel or other fruits or vegetable scrap on which people might slip (page 490, sec. 27).....5 00
Proprietors of fruit and vegetable stands must show a placard warning against throwing fruit and vegetables into the street (page 490, sec. 28).....5 00
Wagons or other vehicles must not be left on the street (page 489, sec. 18).....2 00
Throwing handbills, dodgers or other advertising devices about the streets (page 491, sec. 31).....5 00

The enforcement of these laws would soon make the town tidy, and that is the intention. A look around the town shows that little respect is shown to these laws now. The street cleaners have constantly to deal with litter and refuse which ought not to be thrown into the streets and which the inspectors will try to stop by prosecution of offenders.

WEDDED AFTER 20 YEARS.

Romance of Two Continents Ended at Philadelphia Yesterday.

PHILADELPHIA, June 2.—(Special.)—A romance that was begun in Baden-Baden 20 years ago, when Gregor Meyer and Marie Greminger were boy and girl and which was renewed on the Haverford when that steamship was midway across the ocean, culminated today in the marriage of the young couple. Meyer and his sweetheart arrived with 748 other steerage passengers yesterday.

The couple had been separated for several years, but when they met on the Haverford the courtship was renewed. After the wedding Meyer took his bride to a farm at Harpers Creek.

Denizler of Philadelphia Arrested for Trying to Shoot People.

PHILADELPHIA, June 2.—(Special.)—John Masters, who said he lived in Belgrade street, was arraigned before a police magistrate today, charged with carrying concealed weapons. Several people testified that Masters had frightened them last night and a revolver that looked as if it had come over with the pilgrim fathers was offered in evidence.

In addition to the old revolver, about a score of Spanish-American rifle cartridges were found upon Masters. They were such wicked looking things that the magistrate held Masters in $500 bail on the charge of carrying concealed weapons.

MACHINE FIGHTS LONE WOMAN

Mary McElroy Was Defeated for School Principal in the Fifth Ward.

BARRY'S SISTER WAS CHOSEN

Power of the Organization Is Used to Turn Out an Excellent Educator, Citizens Are Worsted in Thirty-Eight Ward.

The power of the city machine was last night directed against a lone woman, and as a result she was defeated for re-election as principal of the Fifth ward schools. A record of excellent work, extending over a period of 26 years, was not taken into consideration. The victim of the machine is Miss Mary McElroy.

P. J. Barry, liquor dealer and reform member of select council from the Fifth ward, decided that his sister, Miss Catherine Barry, should be principal of the schools. Miss McElroy has held the position for over a quarter of a century and her ability has never been questioned. Many of the residents of the ward who now have children in the schools, received their education at her hands. Her defeat has made them indignant and the Ekelow machine will suffer in the future.

Barry lined up a majority of the old members of the board for his sister. Police Inspector "Barney" McStay was one who had promised to vote for Miss McElroy, but he switched. The retiring board held the election, the new directors not being allowed to participate.

MISS BARRY IN FOR THREE YEARS.

It has been the custom to elect a principal each year, but last night Miss Barry was constituted for three years.

Miss Barry had been a teacher in the ward and her place was given to Miss Annie E. Wood. E. J. Kirby was named as the representative of the ward on the Central Board of education.

In the organization of the Thirty-eighth ward school board, the Citizens were defeated. Harry McCune tried to be elected president, but Charles Cramer, a Republican, was elected. Frank Irwin was chosen janitor of the school building. He succeeds John Braggs, who switched to the Citizens party in the February election.

BOARD CANNOT ORGANIZE.

A tangle in the board of the Thirty-fifth ward sub-school district has occurred which will likely end in the courts before the directors have completed their organization. The old board was composed of Daniel Johnston, president; H. H. Weeden, Christian Hergert, H. W. McKenzie, Charles J. Pedder and James H. Henderson. Henderson is the retiring member, John Myers having been elected his successor. H. W. McKenzie is also a newly-elected member, but was a member of the old board, having filled an unexpired term.

When the board met for organization on Monday night it was expected the old board would wind up the business and then the reorganization take place. At this point one faction attempted to declare Henderson dead or dead by, and that Myers should take his seat. This caused several of the old members to retire and refuse to permit the new organization until the old had been dissolved.

The result was the meeting was broken up and Johnston, Hergert, Pedder and Henderson retired to another part of the building. When the attempt to organize the new board was made the members were advised by Attorney Frank I. Gosser that the proceedings would be illegal. A second effort was made last night to reorganize, but Hergert stayed away, which it is said prevented a quorum, and nothing was accomplished.

MANUAL TRAINING TO COME.

The Eighth ward school board met in the Franklin school last night and organized by electing Scott Dibert, president; Henry L. Angloch, secretary, and the Mortgage Bank as treasurer. The election of teachers was postponed until the next meeting.

The Wickersham school board, Twenty-fourth ward, organized last night by electing the following officers: John Murphy, president; John B. Yellig, secretary and W. E. Reynolds, treasurer. Prof. Thomas Wilkison and his old corps of teachers were re-elected for the ensuing year.

BETTER SERVICE FOR COMMUTERS

Pennsy Contracts for Use of Proposed Hudson River Tunnel at New York.

FOR THE SUBURBAN TRAINS

Additional Stations at Cortlandt and Fulton Streets for Accommodation of Patrons from Jersey City and Adjacent Suburbs.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 2.

The Pennsylvania railroad is to have two tunnels into New York. In addition to its mammoth station at Thirty-third street and Seventh avenue, it will have suburban stations at Cortlandt and Fulton streets further downtown. The proposed Hudson river tunnel, which is to connect Exchange Place, Jersey City, with the two latter streets, will be built by the Manhattan & Hudson Tunnel Company and it is with this concern that the Pennsylvania railroad has signed an agreement whereby all of its suburban trains will use the new subway.

The central and downtown stations will place the Pennsylvania at the head of the list of New York railroads. Its Seventh avenue station will unquestionably be the finest on the island and its location is excellent. As a matter of fact, however, the uptown terminus will be wholly unsuitable for commuters and in making an agreement with the tunnel company the Pennsylvania is simply taking care of its short haul business.

The agreement also indicates the purpose of the Pennsylvania railroad to develop its suburban business. At the present time its commutation traffic is an unimportant part of the whole. According to an estimate recently made, the Pennsylvania railroad stands seventh in the volume of commutation passengers of the railroads connecting with New York. Its daily commutation passengers amount to only 5,000 against the 11,000 of the Erie, the 10,000 of the Lackawanna and the 8,000 of the Jersey Central. Its purpose to exploit the suburban regions of Long Island has already been made evident. It is now plain, by the traffic arrangement made with the new tunnel company, that it proposes to do the same with New Jersey. That the actual use of the new tunnel by Pennsylvania trains is contemplated is generally believed, though this is not definitely known. The projectors of the new tunnels, have always maintained that they were intended only for trolley cars. It is significant, however, that the chief engineer of the new tunnel is Charles M. Jacobs also the engineer of the Pennsylvania uptown tunnel.

When the recent application was filed before the Rapid Transit Commission it was said that the new tubes would be of steel a foot thick. That seems to imply a pretty substantial structure, and one which would amply sustain the light suburban trains which the Pennsylvania will probably run.

Other interesting details of the new tunnel plans were returned today. The real estate actually acquired by the railroad, it may be definitely stated, comprises the north side of Church street, from Cortlandt to Fulton, running back 75 feet. This is all the property required for the new terminal. On the plot from Dey to Fulton streets a large building will be erected and rented either for lofts or offices. Estimates on this building are now being obtained. The section of the new tunnel running through Church street will be over the proposed Church street extension of the subway. Through these two blocks, therefore, there will be a double-decked tunnel, one used by the Hudson & Manhattan company and the other by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. The [illegible] will be used by [illegible] street, in view of the congestion which the downtown was suffering from.

Hermes claimed the privilege of the floor and declared that the board of viewers had awarded the other property owners damages to the amount of $15,000 when, he said, the property so adjudged was "not worth 15 cents."

Councilman Brown jumped to the floor and said: "If the damages will not amount to more than 15 cents, surely Mr. Hermes cannot object to assuming all claims for damages and give a bond that he will pay any damages that may result from the closing of the street. If he will do this, I will vote in favor of the repealing ordinance."

Hermes showed no disposition to accept this proposition and the vote was taken which resulted in the failure of the motion to pass the repealer.

The Baltimore & Ohio succeeded in obtaining the approval of the ordinance vacating a number of the streets in the Twenty-third ward for the enlargement of freight yards.

Objections were raised by Attorney S. H. Johnson on behalf of the Glazer heirs who own property contiguous to the railroad. Attorney Thompson stated that the property owners had taken an appeal to the supreme court and that if the higher courts reversed the decision of the council the city might be liable for damages for the closing of the street.

The difficulty was obviated by the amendment of C. S. Crawford which provided that the railroad company should file a bond assuming all liability for damages.

The street committee reconsidered its action vacating one alley, in the rear of the packing establishment of Rea & Co., and referred the bill to a special committee of three.

Silver for New Warship.

HARRISBURG, June 2.—The commission composed of Gov. Pennypacker and Senators Quay and Penrose, created by the last legislature to select a design for a silver service for the battleship Pennsylvania, met in the executive chamber this afternoon and decided to purchase the usual silver service. The contract was awarded to the contract to J. E. Caldwell & Co., Philadelphia.

HERMES BALKED IN HIS SCHEME

Surveys Committee Failed to Pass the Bill Vacating Watson Street.

WAS DEFEATED BY A TIE VOTE

Closing of Thoroughfare Cannot Be Made While Repealer Is Pending—Streets Vacated for Baltimore & Ohio in Glenwood.

Select Councilman Peter Hermes was balked in his attempt last night to get at least $50,000 worth of property in Watson street, Sixth ward, practically free by the refusal of the surveys committee to kill the repealer of the ordinance vacating that portion of Watson street abutting on property owned by Councilman Hermes.

Under the law, if the portion of the street abutting on Councilman Hermes' property were vacated, Hermes would get possession of the street, which, according to the testimony given before the board of viewers, is worth not less than $50,000.

The ordinance vacating the street was passed by councils some time ago, but so long as an ordinance repealing the vacation is pending Hermes cannot acquire his much-coveted street, which he proposes to use to erect buildings for the extension of his private business.

The repealer would have gone through last night but for the opposition of Common Councilman Thomas M. Brown of the surveys committee. Mr. Brown objected to the closing of the street, and also demanded that if the street were vacated that Hermes should give bond to indemnify the other property owners from all damages. The latter proposition was made when Hermes declared that there would be no damages.

Hermes refused to agree to this stipulation and when a vote was taken on the motion to send the repealer to councils with a negative recommendation, it stood four in favor and four against. This meant the defeat of the motion to kill the repealer, and as long as it is pending the property owners are safe from operations on the part of Hermes.

The vote in favor of the repealer was as follows: J. W. Ruhlandt, of the Twenty-sixth ward; Joseph Zeuger, of the Ninth ward; Charles Stewart, of the Sixteenth ward; Henry Fitzpatrick, of the Eleventh ward.

Those who voted against the repealer were: Thomas M. Brown, of the Twentieth ward; John P. Baldauf, of the Twenty-seventh ward; William H. Bogner, of the Twenty-third ward, and Jacob Schuck, of the Thirty-first ward.

The members who dodged the issue by not voting at all were J. P. Shaw, of the Sixth ward; James W. Jack, of the Fifteenth ward, and Chris Beckert, of the Fourteenth ward, the chairman of the committee.

Among the property owners present who spoke against the appropriation of this thoroughfare were H. C. Milholland, Josiah Bindley, Capt. Isaac Whittaker, W. H. Shannon and William Weisman.

Councilman Brown spoke passionately against the closing of the street, which he said was an outlet to one of the main thoroughfares of the city—Forbes street. He said the [illegible] of property [illegible] the city went to purchase the small triangle of [illegible] by Herms and wings the [illegible]

OLDEST LIVING MEMBER OF ST. JAMES' CHURCH

WILLIAM TAYLOR.

The passing away of St. James' church next Sunday brings out an unique figure in its history. William Taylor has been a member of the church since its organization and was present at the first service. He is 82 years old and hopes to be present at the last service next Sunday. Mr. Taylor was born in Ireland and came to this country at the age of 27, and has since that time lived in the vicinity of his present home, No. 500 North Graham street. He has always been an active member of the church, and its passing away troubles him in his old age. Mr. Taylor can give a complete history of the church. His daughter, with whom he lives, was church organist for 14 years and played the organ in the Sunday school when but 9 years old.

CANNOT CHANGE GRADES.

Legal Obstructions to the Raising of Allegheny River Bridges.

The hearing on the matter of raising the Ninth street bridge was held before Capt. William L. Sibert yesterday. Ex-Gov. William A. Stone appeared for the bridge company. An opinion written by City Solicitor W. B. Rodgers was read. It is Mr. Rodgers' opinion that the bridge companies have no power to change street grades, and that any attempt to do so would be resented by the city. The arguments were about the same as used by both sides in other bridge hearings.

The bridge company put forth the claim of the great loss of property and the uselessness of the raising of the structure. Capts. John F. Dravo, W. B. Rodgers and T. M. Rees, spoke on behalf of river interests.

CALL AT VALPARAISO.

Many Vessels Driven Ashore and Crews Drowned at Chilean Port.

VALPARAISO, CHILE, June 2.—(Special Cable.)—Valparaiso was visited last night by a furious gale which, it is believed, has caused the loss of [illegible] perhaps more than 100 persons. The British steamer Arequipa went out to weather the gale but has not since been heard from. The vessel has a crew of 35 men and several passengers.

Near the Falkedale, a British vessel which was wrecked, was also wrecked the Chilean bark Chivilago. Two of her crew were lost. The Falkedale was from Portland, Oregon, with a cargo of timber. She struck the breakwater. The captain's wife, his son and six men were drowned.

The German steamer Persimmon got into collision with a floating dock and both were damaged. Scores of craft went ashore, or were sunk.

GASHED BY A HATCHET IN A PECULIAR MANNER

While attempting to leave a trolley car at Seventeenth and Carson streets, shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Henry Berlinger of Spring street, South Side, an employe at the Keystone brewery, fell and struck the ground with considerable force. He carried under his arm a sharp-edged hatchet and as he fell the blade turned and ran its entire length into his body, just above the left lung. He was taken to the South Side hospital and last night was said to be in a serious condition, having suffered a considerable loss of blood.

NEGROES TO ASK SIMPLE JUSTICE

Delegation to Confer With District Attorney Haymaker Today on High Bridge Riot.

WANT THE GUILTY PUNISHED

Arrests Being Made of Persons Who May Know Something About the Killing of Kelly—Residents Terrorized by Wabash Workers.

Spurred to action by the riot and killing in West Liberty borough, a delegation of negro citizens will wait on District Attorney Haymaker at 2 p. m. today in his office in the court house.

The district attorney will be asked to prosecute vigorously the rioters who shot and beat the negroes, killing one of them, engaged in gambling near the baseball grounds in opposition to the wishes of the people of the neighborhood. There was at first some feeling among negroes over the promptness displayed in arresting the negro participants, but they now realize that the authorities had first to ascertain the names of the white rioters before they could capture them.

The delegation is composed of negroes who are disposed to take a broad view of the matter. They will urge that the responsibility for the deplorable occurrence be placed, and that the whites or blacks who are guilty be punished.

PLEA FOR PREVENTION.

They will ask that future occurrences of the kind be prevented so far as possible and that the borough authorities be urged to punish promptly the first infractions, such as gambling, which in this case precipitated the bloody affray. As the district attorney is already bending his energies to find out the guilty parties and especially the man who killed Charles Kelly, he will welcome any information leading to arrests that the colored delegation may give him.

Louden Campbell, the former prize fighter, was arrested yesterday by Constable Cavanaugh of Alderman Groetzinger's office. He gave bail for his appearance on June 17. Campbell is charged with being concerned in the riot. Cavanaugh and the County Detective Robert G. Robinson, were busy yesterday trying to learn the names of men who participated in the riot. Nine warrants were sworn out by the county detective and Cavanaugh tried to locate the men named in the warrants. Robinson expects soon to learn the names of a good many participants and as fast as he gets them he will issue warrants and arrest the persons.

TWO MORE ARRESTS.

Late yesterday afternoon Cavanaugh arrested two young men, neither apparently more than 19 years old. One was John Lobert of No. 54 California avenue, Thirty-eighth ward, and the other was John Nusser. Both gave bail. Nusser, the constable said, was indignant because he was arrested and said he was not even on the ground where the riot occurred.

William Reisfar, the man from whom the rifle was taken at the riot, and who was questioned by the district attorney, is completely exonorated by Haymaker. Reisfar told Haymaker that his brother-in-law, W. B. Hays, in whose yard the conflict raged, has a wife whose health is delicate. The neighborhood is rendered uneasy, Reisfar said, by the number of negroes employed nearby in the Wabash construction camps, and as Hays works at night and would not leave his wife alone, Reisfar has been living with him, being employed in the daytime. When Reisfar and Hays saw the two negroes, with revolvers in their hands, running toward the house, they thought the long expected trouble had come, and when the negroes thundered on the door, Reisfar took up the little rifle which was afterwards taken from him. He did not know the negroes wanted protection and he did not open the door until a wounded boy was laid upon the porch and he saw there was no danger from the negroes.

INFORMATION HARD TO GET.

Robinson said yesterday that in all his experience in the detective business he had never found it so hard to obtain information. He is convinced that he has talked to score of men who saw the riot, if they did not take part in it, but all display the densest ignorance about it when questioned.

Charles Kelly, the man who was killed, will be buried from the Ebenezer Baptist church, Colwell and Miller streets, today. The interment will be in Lincoln cemetery. The body is at the house of Kelly's mother, Mary Stokes, No. 162 Kirkpatrick street. William Davis, Kelly's companion in the chicken coop, and Sandy Garrett, who led the attack, are expected to recover soon and to be able to attend the inquest.

CONFESSED TWO MURDERS.

Maryland Man Solves Death Mysteries Before Killing Himself.

FREDERICK, MD., June 2.—Samuel Betts died today, from a pistol wound, self-inflicted. Before dying he confessed that he and his brother, Josiah Betts, murdered their father, Samuel Betts, 17 years ago, presumably to inherit $6,000. The father was found dead and it has always been the theory that he killed himself. Betts also confessed that he participated in the murder of Walter Long and secretly buried the body, seven years ago.

Gleason, of the First Methodist Episcopal church of McKeesport, has announced himself as a candidate to represent the Pittsburgh conference at the general conference, which meets at Los Angeles, Cal., in 1904. The five lay delegates from this conference will be elected next fall at the session of the lay electoral conference, at the Emory Methodist Episcopal church, Pittsburgh, in connection with the annual session of the Pittsburgh conference.

REVEL IN THESE ART LINENS.

Table Squares, Bureau Scarfs and Pillow Shams.

Happy chances at Campbell's for the women who dote on lovely coverings for their tables, washstands and bureaus—who delight in pillow shams that are gems of art needlework.

Superb spachtel work pieces wrought in fine cambric of point d'esprit, and likewise some in charming blind embroidery, with hemstitched or scalloped edges.

Two great lots—2,400 pieces all counted—and ample cause for commotion all along the line.

Campbell bought them from a wholesaler who was winding up things for the summer and ready for a quick deal.

Campbell will sell the table squares and pillow shams that measure 32 inches each way and the bureau scarfs which measure 18x54 inches, for 25c (values 50c and $1.00).

Campbell will sell for 50c the finer bureau scarfs, table squares and pillow shams. More elaborate in embroidery, but the large in size as the 25c lot. These are really worth from $1.00 to $1.50.

DON'T FORGET THAT FREE EXCURSION TRAINS LEAVE UNION DEPOT 10:15 A. M., CITY TIME, SATURDAY, JUNE 6th.

The City of Gould

Free Discount Cards Will Not Be Received After SATURDAY, JUNE 6th. Prices On Any Lots Remaining Unsold Will Be Advanced.

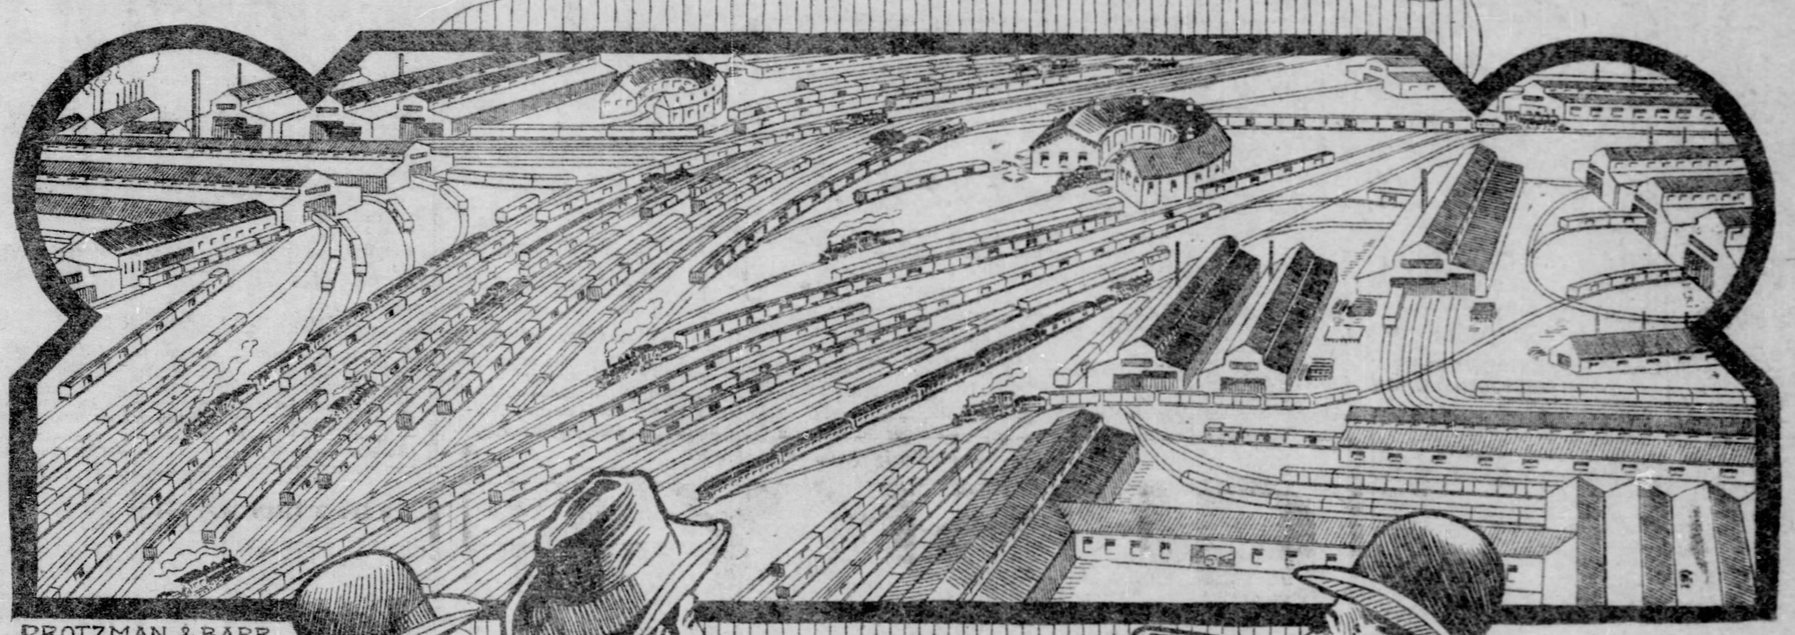
The really matchless interest that Gould City is exciting is no surprise to persons who have been keeping an eye on the colossal projects under way to bring the great Wabash Railroad to Pittsburgh.

It is seldom, even in a lifetime, that a billion-dollar trunk line seeks entry into a great city which has been occupied for generations by old and powerful competitors. The barriers to overcome cannot usually be broken down. But now that they have been overcome investors see that another Altoona is to rise in a locality only eight miles from town. A locality that was building up fast before any such marvelous railroad industrial wealth for it was ever dreamed of.

Is it any wonder, then, that there is such an unequalled rush for the famous WABASH $15 DISCOUNT CARDS and tickets for grand free excursion to Gould City?

If the unprecedented demand for SERIES A of the SENSATIONAL $50,000 GIFT DISTRIBUTION continues as it did yesterday, first issue will be exhausted in the next twenty-four hours. Then clerks will commence giving out SERIES B, which entitles holders to a FREE GIFT of $10 instead of $15. Railroad fare refunded to all purchasers within 100 miles.

THE GREAT WABASH TERMINAL INDUSTRIES AT CITY OF GOULD



PROTZMAN & BARR

with its broad expanse of 50 miles of track will be not only the largest freight terminal in the United States, but also the largest passenger terminal.

Mr. Ramsey told Pittsburgh Councils that it would not be long until passenger trains will be running direct to the Pacific coast.

GOULD CITY

will have going each way 17,500 trains per annum or 50 trains per day, exclusive of local freight trains and suburban passenger trains.

You can imagine what an industrial business the "wear and tear" of this enormous traffic will give the terminal shops.

GOULD CITY

will furnish more or less rolling-stock for 15,000 miles of railroad, extending to both sea coasts, the Gulf and into Mexico.

Vestibule trains made up in her yards will in the near future run direct to San Francisco and Mexico City.

GOULD CITY

will be largely a distributing point for the entire Gould system, comprising the Wabash, the Wheeling & Lake Erie, the Ann Arbor, the Missouri Pacific, the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern, the Texas Pacific, the International & Great Northern, the Denver & Rio Grande and the Rio Grande Western.

GOULD CITY

will be the only new suburban residence place that ever began with city advantages (gas, city water and sewerage).

Real estate purchasers will get more than the industrial activity will give—they'll get what a great suburban location will also give.

GOULD CITY

besides the local passenger trains and through expresses running to and from Pittsburgh every half hour, will soon have traction cars in motion on a schedule that will put them into Pittsburgh in less time than it takes to go to Wilkinsburg.

Think how 2,000 men who started to work in the Altoona shops so many years ago had to live in Tyrone, Johnstown and other places until they could possess their own roof-trees in Altoona, the seat of their employment! This will give you an idea of conditions in the City of Gould after the great Wabash industries are planted!

READ WHY YOU SHOULD LOSE NO TIME MAKING APPLICATION FOR FREE EXCURSION TICKETS

As our last experience tells us that investors put off calling for such tickets until two or three days before the day of excursion, making it impossible to provide a sufficient number of coaches to comfortably carry the crowds when there is a big rush during the finish or final hours, we have determined upon a plan which makes it to your interest to secure these tickets early.

We have decided to issue, in combination with these free excursion tickets, three series of discount cards entitling you to special discounts on any and every lot you may purchase. The first series, Series A, will entitle you to a free gift of $15 on any or every lot you buy. The issue is limited to 1,000 tickets. After the last ticket of these 1,000 tickets has been given out, Series B will go on distribution.

The tickets in Series B entitle you to a free gift of $10, instead of $15, on any and every lot you may purchase. The distribution of this series will not stop until 2,000 tickets have been given out.

Then the distribution of Series C, entitling you to a free gift of $5 on any and every lot you may buy, will begin. Series C will embrace 3,000 tickets. No tickets will be given out to anybody after the last issue is exhausted.

The Passenger Department of the Panhandle Railroad, Pennsylvania Lines, has informed us that it will be impossible to provide adequate seating capacity for more than 6,000 people on that date.

The free distribution of discount tickets in conjunction with the free excursion tickets is made with the sole purpose of inducing investors to call or send in their requests for these tickets at once.

We are losing money by this operation, but feel that the loss is justified and warranted for the reason that the plan will give us ample opportunity to provide satisfactory accommodations for the crowds, no matter how large they may be.

We advise all who desire to secure tickets of the Series A issue, entitling purchasers to $15 discount, to lose no time making application. Do not forget that many a person will lose $5, $10 or $15 by putting off for an hour, or even five minutes, their application for these tickets. If you intend buying a block of lots you may lose $500 or $1,000.

THE FREE DISCOUNT TICKETS WILL BE EXAMINED BY CONDUCTOR ON THE TRAIN, BUT NOT LIFTED.

LOTS $25 TO $1,000

TERMS: 5 Per Cent to Be Paid Down, 2½ Per Cent Per Month for Balance. 15 Per Cent Discount for Cash When Paid Within 60 Days.

At many sales the practice is to put up only two or three lots at a tremendous sacrifice, but the motive of this sale is to lose a few thousand dollars with the purpose of getting the people to build houses for the gardener, tradesmen, car-builders, machinists, etc., to live in. At least 150 lots will be almost given away, and not a stone's throw from these lots which will be given away are lots in Brinkerville containing $7,000 to $16,000 residences.

This shows what the opportunity is. Not three squares from the bargain lots is a property back of Ramsey Avenue which could not be bought for a dollar less than $100 a foot—$75 a foot was offered and refused.

WEATHER MAKES STRAP-HANGERS

Closed Street Cars Are Depressing to the Traveling Public in Summer Time.

COMPLAINTS ARE INCREASING

Woman Encounters Great Difficulty in Getting Off a Birmingham Traction Car—The Long Sunday Morning Wait in Allegheny.

The warm weather which returned yesterday, is playing havoc with the vitality of the unfortunate people who have to return home in closed street cars. With only sufficient ventilation to let in a cloud of dust from the unsprinkled streets, the people are compelled to endure their misery. The women cannot even fan themselves because of the cars being too crowded with men hanging on to the straps.

It took one woman three minutes to get off a Birmingham traction car last night. Not knowing the condition of the lines in Pittsburgh, when she boarded the car at Union station, she took a seat at the front end. At South Ninth and Carson streets she pressed the button for the car to stop. She made several attempts to rise upon her feet before the car reached the crossing, but the strap-hangers compelled her to desist in her futile effort.

Then the car finally stopped she had to push and jam through the crowded car until the perspiration trickled down her face. Upon arriving at the rear of the car eight men had to get off in order to permit her to reach the street without any more humiliation.

The South Side residents have been begging for summer cars ever since they first came into use. The official of the company say summer cars cannot be run over the bridge. The residents claim the company built a new bridge to admit the use of electric cars, and it can as easily, with much less expense, widen the bridge sufficiently. While the point is being argued the Strap-Hangers' league is becoming a powerful organization. Its membership is increasing every day, and should it continue at its present rate the railway company will have a powerful and formidable enemy.

Pittsburgh's traction serivce in many ways is behind that of other cities. It is found impoible to get a car on some lines until a late hour on Sunday morning.

A young woman returning from the west arrived in Allegheny on Sunday morning about 7 o'clock and walked to Ohio street to get a Perrysville avenue car. The day cars had not started running. She waited, seeing cars on other branches go speeding past, but not the one she wanted. In about 20 minutes a car came down the hill, but it had to make the trip to Pittsburgh and back before she could start on her homeward journey. She had waited just 40 minutes.

COLLEGE MAY BE MOVED.

Westminster May Be Given Location at Greenville Occupied by Thiel.

GREENVILLE, PA., June 2.—(Special.)—Word was received today from a trustee of Westminster college, who is attending the general assembly of the United Presbyterian church, that that body is taking up the question of the removal of Westminster college from New Wilmington to some more accessible location. The removal has been agitated for years, and a proposed half million dollar endowment is conditional on its taking place.

There is quite a sentiment among the trustees toward locating the college at Greenville. In all probability the property now occupied by Thiel college will revert to the town. The removal of Thiel to Greenburg is not objected to by residents here, but from the fact that land and money was given and the buildings erected by Greenville people upon the allegation that Thiel was to be a permanent fixture, the charter of the institution will be assailed, unless the board of trustees makes proper restitution.

His salary is $3,000. He is authorized to appoint a clerk at $1,200 and a stenographer at $800.

The governor will tomorrow appoint four fish commissioners who, together with Mr. Meehan, will constitute the state fisheries commission.

Homestead Man Tried Enoch Arden Act With Poor Success

About 10 years ago Mrs. Richard Pichford of Homestead was greatly surprised when her husband suddenly disappeared without giving any reason for his action. At that time she learned that he had been seen boarding a train, and accordingly his disappearance was put down as just a plain case of desertion.

Yesterday Mrs. Pichford was, if anything, still more surprised than she was 10 years ago, by the reappearance of her husband in just as sudden a manner as he made his exit. He returned with enough liquor in his system to make him quarrelsome and obstreperous. When he appeared before the astonished Mrs. Picford she was superintending the loading of her furniture, preparatory to leaving the house she has occupied in McClure street, and moving to Cleveland. Pichford ordered the removal of the furniture stopped. Mrs. Pichford ignoring this interference ordered the work to continue. Pichford began to act ugly and there was considerable excitement in the neighborhood. Mrs. Pichford finally sent for the police and had the man locked up on a disorderly conduct charge, while she continued her preparations for moving to Cleveland. Pichford will have a hearing this morning.

Mrs. Pichford during the 10 years she has been left alone has supported herself by keeping boarders and doing washing. Pichford is a millworker. He refuses to say where he has been all the time he has been absent.

CARRIAGE BARN BURNED WITH A LOSS OF $5,000

Excelsior Express and Standard Cab Company's Building Partially Destroyed.

The carriage barn of the Excelsior Express & Standard Cab Company, Nos. 1143 and 1145 Liberty avenue, was almost destroyed by fire about 5 o'clock last evening. The total loss will be about $5,000.

The fire started in the third floor of the three-story brick structure, and when discovered had gained considerable headway. When the engines replied to the first alarm dense volumes of smoke were issuing from the windows of the two upper floors. Chief Robert McKinley sent in a second alarm. Owing to the dense smoke the firemen were greatly handicapped and worked over an hour before the fire was finally extinguished.

The building was used by the Excelsior company for the storage of extra carriages and wagons. About 30 vehicles were in the building, and most of them were destroyed. The loss on the building will be about $2,000 and on the contents $3,000, fully covered by insurance.

While trying to get out the carriages J. D. Ford, son of Joseph Ford, manager of the company, fell down an elevator shaft from the second to the first floor, and was painfully cut and bruised about the face and body.

No. 343 Ula street, occupied by George Martin, was damaged $50 by fire yesterday afternoon.

WANT CHANGE OF VENUE.

Men Indicted for Trolley Accident Ask for Non-Resident Jury.

TRENTON, N. J., June 2.—In the supreme court today application was made for a change of venue for the trial of A. A. Cassait and other officers and directors of the North Jersey Street Railway Company, indicted in Essex county, on a charge of responsibility for the Newark trolley accident, which resulted in the death of several children. It was asked that the case be tried before the entire supreme court and that a struck jury be selected from some county other than Essex.

This is said to be the first time such an application has been made.

SAYS NO CARS WERE PROMISED CLYDE CO.

Vice President Schoonmaker of P. & L. E. Answers in Suit of Coal Company.

By Col. J. M. Schoonmaker, vice president, the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie yesterday filed its answer to the suit of the Clyde Coal Company to compel the Lake Erie to furnish that company with cars.

The answer states that no promises were ever made to the coal company to furnish it with cars, and that the six which were furnished went to the company by mistake. It further states that the method of loading used by the Clyde company is not such as the road can use and the purpose of the company is not to ship regularly, but only at such times as the river's stage will allow water transportation to be conducted or the price of coal is so high that rail transportation is profitable to the company. It states further that the car supply is always short of the demand and cannot within a reasonable time be made equal to the demand, and that to apportion a share of these cars to the Clyde company would work injury to the regular rail coal shippers along the Lake Erie.

This same plea of injury to regular shippers by giving cars to occasional shippers was made in the answer of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to the suit of Charles A. Thompson of Irwin, before the Interstate commerce commission. Both decisions are yet to be given.

MI-O-NA A GUARANTEED CURE.

Folly of Treating Dyspepsia With Pepsin Tablets.

Mi-o-na is entirely different from other treatments for dyspepsia. The fact that it is sold by Schilling Bros. Co., Penn and Frankstown avenues, the popular druggists, under their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure dyspepsia and restore normal weight, shows that it possesses unusual merit.

Mi-o-na is not an ordinary laxative pill; it is not a digestive tablet, composed of pepsin and pancreatin; it is not a mere stimulant and tonic. Mi-o-na is a compressed food tablet that furnishes the constituents necessary to build up the system; it aids the food to assimilate, and strengthens and regulates the digestive organs, enabling the body to gain in natural, healthy plumpness.

Austin Flint, M. D., professor of physiology in the Bellevue Hospital Medical college, New York city, one of the most eminent medical men in the country, says: "I have yet to see a single case in which any of the pepsin, pancreatin or the physiologically abused combinations of pepsin and pancreatin seem to have produced any benefit, even of temporary character."

This statement from a man of Dr. Flint's standing should convince any one of the folly of trying to cure diseases of the digestive organs by the ordinary dyspepsia tablets and powders. Mi-o-na gives quick relief and makes permanent cures. The best evidence that can be offered as to its superiority and its power to cure is the fact that Schilling Bros. Co., will return your money if Mi-o-na does not help you.

(No. 11.)

AN ORDINANCE—Granting the National Casket Company the right to erect and maintain a weigh scale on the east side of Mulberry street, between Rebecca street and the Ohio river, Fifth ward.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the National Casket Company is hereby authorized to erect and maintain a weigh scale on the east side of Mulberry street, between Rebecca street and the Ohio river, in front of its property in the Fifth ward, to be placed in such position as the director of the department of public works may designate, provided that the scale shall not interfere with the water courses on said street, and shall not in any manner obstruct the street or pavement.

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

New York at Exposition Park.
Brooklyn at Chicago.
Boston at Cincinnati.
Philadelphia at St. Louis.

The Pirates got good and even with the Giants for that defeat of Monday and administered to the pennant aspirants from Gotham a clean-cut shut-out, much to the delight of 4,200 lovers of the game who had gathered at Exposition park yesterday afternoon. The final score was Pittsburgh 7, New York 0.

The faithful who had journeyed over to the park in the hope of seeing a well-played game had their fondest hopes realized, because yesterday's contest was a clean-cut affair from start to finish, and the struggle was a bitter one all the way. Each team went through the game without the semblance of an error, which was somewhat remarkable, as the batting, particularly on the Pirates' side, was very heavy, and offered many chances for error making. This, of course, paved the way for some fast fielding, and there were enough pretty plays to scatter tarough at least three ordinary games.

Deacon Phillippe, who was called on to do the pitching for the local team, was in the finest form, and the way he whizzed the ball over the plate was puzzling to both the New York batters and umpires. Seven innings he held the Gothamites to eight hits, and in only one inning was more than one hit made. That was the eighth, and the visitors got a runner as far as third base, but failed to show he was still their master. Phillippe struck the next batsman out, thus ending an inning which threatened to block the shutout.

Phillippe's remarkable pitching is shown by the fact that he had eight strikeouts to his credit, and in the fifth inning he struck the side out and was wildly cheered by the spectators for his efforts. Taylor was the hard luck boy of him showed a fine reversal of form from that displayed on Monday, and fielded like a lot of champions. The infield, which was so wobbly on Monday, took a decided brace yesterday and put up a grand game, turning out some plays of the hair-raising variety.

Luther Taylor, the deaf and dumb pitcher, was out for the Giants and he was given a lively trouncing, particularly in the fifth inning, when a succession of six large, healthy singles netted the locals five nice, juicy runs. In like manner Taylor was handled, but the Giants back of him were steady at all times and there was not a "quitter" among them. The bright particular star in the fielding line was Gilbert, second baseman, who covered fairly eat up base hits. Brown led the team in hitting, getting three of the Giants' eight hits.

The Pirates started after runs from the very jump, and after one man was out in the first Beaumont beat out an infield tap, took second on Sebring's foul out to Bowerman, went to third on Wagner's out at first and scored on Bresnahan's single. Both Wagner and Beaumont had chances for scores in the third and fourth innings, but fast double plays by Taylor and McGann, Babb, Gilbert and McGann, prevented tallies from being made.

After Deacon Phil had filed out in the fifth, singles by Beaumont, Sebring, Wagner, Ritchey and Kruger, with a base on balls to Leach, produced a run. Hans Wagner got on and then bumped the ball against the right field fence and it counted as a two-bagger, and he scored on Wagner's cracking single to left. The score:

Notes of the Game.

Bowerman brought a round of applause from the spectators in the first inning, when he went back against the grandstand and gathered in Sebring's foul fly.

It will be Leever against McGinnity today and another warm battle is assured. Both teams are hot after the games and will strain points to gain the victory.

The first ball that Taylor pitched yesterday looked as though he was going to give Beaumont's side, and he tried to get away from it, but the ball struck his bat and counted as a strike.

A small blaze, caused by some careless person throwing a lighted match, caused a little excitement among the grandstand occupants in the ninth inning, but the blaze was easily extinguished by a few pails of water.

Manager Clarke was on the players' bench yesterday and directed his players from that point. The Pirates' leader is in much improved health and thinks that by the latter part of the week he will be able to get back into the game.

During the preliminary practice the Giants, with McGraw at their head, put up some very fast work, which was appreciated by the early spectators. Babb at short made some remarkable stops and catches, and the spectators loudly applauded his clever plays.

Billy Lauder, the Giants' third baseman, put up a pretty play in the fourth inning when he gathered in Leach's fast bounder and fielded the runner out at first. The play to some extent was a lucky one, because it is doubtful if Lauder ever thought he could reach the ball.

In the fourth inning Taylor pitched 10 balls before he could get one over the plate. He gave them on balls to Ritchey and Kruger, and there were two called balls on Phillippe before the latter swung away at one. Had the deacon been a good waiter he would likely have drawn a pass to first.

In the third inning the Giants raised a big howl when the umpire called Bresnahan's drive down past third base a foul. The umpire was right, as the ball was foul by a half foot, and when the New York players kept up their kicking the umpire silenced them by threatening to eject some of them from the game.

Umpire Johnstone has no use for the small boys who sneak in and linger around the players' bench. Two or three times yesterday he stopped the game long enough to allow him to chase the boys off the field. In this move he is right, because the little fellows make themselves a nuisance to players and spectators.

In the fourth inning, when Pitcher Taylor gave two bases on balls and showed evidence of an aerial flight, Hans Wagner got on the coaching lines and by way of motions tried to rattle the little pitcher. Umpire Johnstone refused to stand for this and Hans was ordered to cease under penalty of expulsion from the game.

Wagner, Ritchey and Leach pulled off a pretty play in the sixth inning, when they caught Mertes, who was trying to stretch a two-bagger into a three-base hit. Leach, who had been backing up second, left third uncovered, and it was a race for the bag, but Tommy reached there first and put the ball on Sandow."

The umpire should pay a little attention to Browne of the Giants when he is in the batters' box. That player steps fully three feet out of the box every time the ball is pitched. This is one of McGraw's old tricks, and it is a fool one, as it gives the batter a chance to meet the ball before it curves. It is illegal, however, and should be stopped.

"Dummy" Taylor engineered a pretty double play in the third inning and Beaumont and Sebring were the victims. Beaumont was on first by reason of a base on balls, and Sebring's attempt to sacrifice was responsible for the trouble. Instead of laying the ball down, Sebring shot a dummy little fly to Taylor, and as Beaumont had started for second the pitcher had no trouble nailing him at first.

Frank Bowerman, the ex-Pirate, who is now catching for the Giants, kept nagging away at the umpire yesterday, and finally in the fifth inning the umpire grew tired of Bowerman's talk and chased him from the game and the grounds. The big catcher at first was inclined to show fight, and was then ordered to leave the playing field and the game was stopped until the order was complied with. Warner took the banished catcher's place.

Wagner's attempt to steal home in the sixth inning was as funny as it was futile. While Taylor was fooling the ball, Hans, who was on third, made a wild dash for the plate. The pitcher threw to Warner, and the Carnegie boy was a victim by yards. Hans tried his level best to confuse the catcher, and danced a jig about the home plate, but Warner put the ball on him and he was out. The crowd cheered Hans for making the attempt.

Beaumont put up a pretty display of base running in the fifth inning and at the same time showed that he had his ball-playing wits about him. He had reached first on a single, and when Sebring drove a single to left, of course, he went to second. Mertes, who fielded the ball, threw to second instead of third, and, quick as a flash, Beaumont raced for third and reached that bag in safety. It's base running of that kind that wins ball games.

The pitching exhibition put up by Deacon Phillippe yesterday was a treat to watch. The deacon had grand control of the ball, and there never was a minute of the game that he was not the master of the Giants. In the fifth inning he struck the three batters out, but his best work was shown in the eighth inning, when, with runners on third and first base, he struck the next batsman, McGann, out. When the deacon walked to the bench he was given a regular ovation by the spectators.

PITTSBURGH HIGH SCHOOL NINE CANCELLS ITS GAMES

East Liberty Wants to Play Kiski Friday—Homestead Has Hard Contests Ahead.

Because of the poor showing in its recent games the Pittsburgh High school nine cancelled the game with the California State Normal team for yesterday afternoon at Friendship park, and it is probable that no more games this season will be played, save the one with Kiski Friday at Saltsburg and the Sewickley High school. All others on the schedule have been wiped off. If High school cancels on Kiski East Liberty is ready to take the date and play the Saltsburg students, either in Pittsburgh or on their own field.

While the High school management is disappointed with the team, it has not yet decided whether or not the game will be played. Capt. "Midget" Spuhler is not requesting the players to come out for practice any more since the defeat of Monday, yesterday Spuhler was at the Interscholastic meet at Washington and he said that the matter of calling off the remaining games is up to the faculty.

The Homestead team will play the Woods nine at Sutterville this afternoon and the remaining days of this week will battle with the fast Jamestown (N. Y.) team at Steel Works park. Jamestown has the usual strong team and the games will be interesting. Frank Piper, the local catcher, is with Jamestown and it is reported that "Soldier" Mullin, the former Homestead pitcher and outfielder, quit the Ohio Valley league team to join Jamestown. Monday and Tuesday of next week Homestead will play at Waynesburg college and Wednesday Washington and Jefferson at Washington. The Cuban Athletic club will again be at Homestead Friday and Saturday.

Pitcher Harvey Hollis has quit the team because of continued wrangling. Hollis has done good work for Risher and his services will be missed ere the season is far advanced. Capt. Torrygson will be back in the game in about another week.

DENNY FAILS TO CLOSE BIG DEAL

Option on Valuable Atlantic City Hotel Property Allowed to Expire by Johnstown Man.

HE IS $6,000 OUT OF POCKET

Owners of Real Estate Adjacent to the Proposed Purchase Chagrined at the Failure of Project by Which Value of Their Holdings Was Largely Advanced.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Young's Ocean Pier,
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 2.

John B. Denny of Johnstown did not buy Kuehnle's hotel and the Wahl property across the street. The option secured by Mr. Denny expired yesterday and he forfeited $5,000 to Mr. Kuehnle and $1,000 to Mr. Wahl. Mr. Denny came here two months ago and negotiated for the purchase of the two properties. He agreed to pay $300,000 for the Kuehnle property and paid $5,000 on account and signed an agreement to pay the balance in 30 days. He made a like agreement with Mr. Wahl to take his property, paying $1,000 down of the $125,000 he agreed to pay. At the end of 30 days Mr. Denny was not ready to take over the properties, but he obtained an extension until June 1. He did not appear and both deals were declared off.

Atlantic City people hardly know what to make of this. They believed that Mr. Denny was acting for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and that the hotel site which fronts on Atlantic avenue adjoining the Pennsylvania station would be used for a new terminal. In consequence properties in the neighborhood increased in value fully 25 per cent, and several property owners are said to have refused good offers for their places, believing that when the new terminal appeared the railroad company would abandon the property between Atlantic and Commercial avenues, now occupied by the baggage sheds, and that it would be turned into a public park. It is known here that Mr. Denny is individually in a position to buy property costing twice the amount involved, and this increases the people's wonder.

DOG CATCHER ON HIS ROUNDS.

These are dog days in Atlantic City and visitors who have their pets with them are standing in line in the office of the city clerk waiting their turn to register their pets. There is a dog ordinance in Atlantic City and for years a negro named Jerome Robinson has been the official dogcatcher. He proved a terror to the owners of pets and last winter, when he was sent to the penitentiary for 10 years for playfully shooting to death one of his friends, there was general rejoicing. Receipts for dog licenses fell off. In fact, none were received from the day Robinson was arrested until yesterday morning, when Mayor Stoy announced that he had secured a new dogcatcher and that he would begin operations today. Nobody paid any attention to this until this morning, when the new incumbent appeared on the beach, net in hand, to single out the most valuable dogs. There was a rush to get chains on the dogs before he got his net over them, and only two were captured and taken to the pound.

Half the crowd followed the dogcatcher and his wagon while the other half, dogs in arms, made a bee line for the city hall to pay the license fee of $1 demanded by the city. The office closed at 3 o'clock this afternoon, after 80 dogs had had number tags affixed to their collars.

NO CROSSTOWN TROLLEY LINE.

There will be no cross-town trolley cars in Atlantic City this year, and the thousands of visitors will still be at the mercy of the iniquitous hack driver. The Peoples Traction Company had sought a franchise to lay tracks in Virginia and Ohio avenues leading to the beach, and were prepared to have the roads in operation by August 1. The city council last night, by a unanimous vote, decided not to give up the streets.

SHIELD OF HONOR IN SESSION.

The supreme lodge of the Shield of Honor is in session here today at the Hotel Rudolf. The proceedings are behind closed doors. It is said by the members attending that few, if any, changes will be made in the laws governing the organization at this session. The membership of the order is distributed over the states of Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Missouri, New York, Delaware, New Jersey and Virginia. Reports show that the order is in a prosperous condition.

CONCERTS AT GAZETTE BUREAU.

By the courtesy of Capt. John L. Young, owner of Youngs ocean pier, another and very attractive feature has been added to The Gazette bureau. Promenade concerts will be given, commencing at 11 o'clock every morning and continuing until 1, by Willard's orchestra, under the direction of Leo R. Gerson, the well-known composer of waltzes. This orchestra was brought here from Philadelphia yesterday to take the place of the Giannini's Royal Marine band of Italy, which is making a six weeks' tour of the summer parks. It is composed of 12 high-class musical artists and only the best of popular music will be rendered. This morning the concert was listened to by several hundred people.

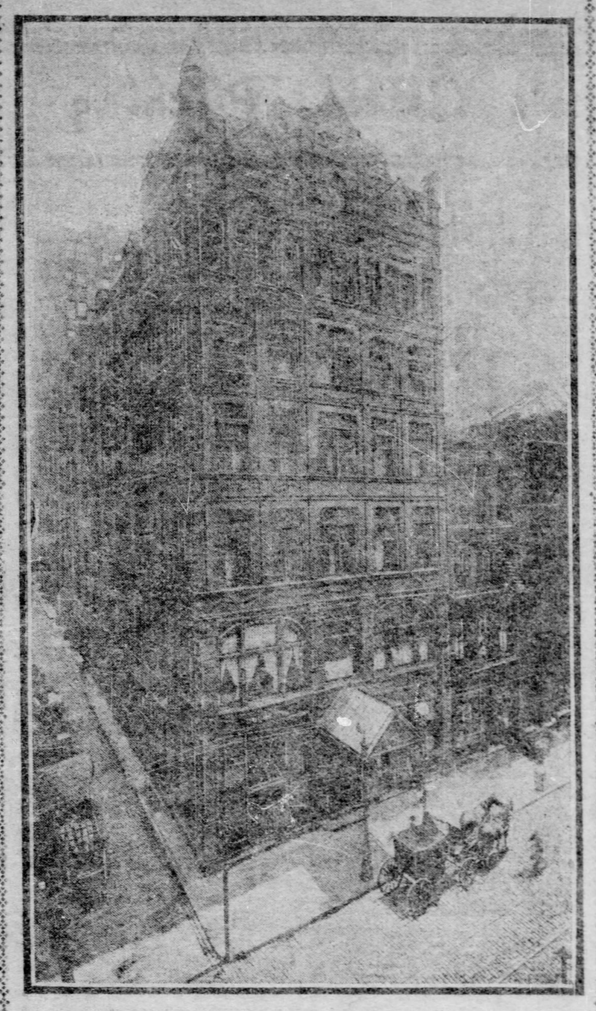
THORPE ACCEPTS ALLEGHENY CALL

RICHMOND, IND., June 2.—(Special.)—The Rev. Wallace Thorpe, pastor of the Christian church at Crawfordsville, Ind., has accepted a call to the Christian church at Allegheny, Pa., and will leave for his new field in September. The salary of his new place is $3,500 per year.

Work of Allegheny Surveys Committee.

At a meeting of the committee on surveys of Allegheny councils last night the resolution authorizing the director of public works to open Chartiers street from the Pittsburgh & Western tracks to the Ohio River, was ordered granted. Ordinances vacating Derry street, naming in the Fifteenth ward, Fairview avenue, and changing the grade of Sorento street, were favorably recommended.

MEANS A MAMMOTH HOSTELRY IN CROWDED PITTSBURGH



HOTEL DUQUESNE, BOUGHT BY D. F. HENRY

The most important deal in downtown real estate for months was the sale of the Hotel Duquesne property in Smithfield street, closed yesterday through the efforts of John K. Ewing of the Union Realty Company. The price was $800,000, and the buyer is D. F. Henry, owner of the Hotel Henry. It was generally reported that the Mellons would secure the property, and the sale to Mr. Henry will create no little surprise among those who have professed to be well posted.

The property is in two parcels, one having a frontage of 44 feet in Smithfield street at the corner of Virgin alley and extending back 60 feet, and the other, forming an L to the first piece, facing 60 feet in the alley and extending back toward Fifth avenue 84 feet. The rate of sale is, therefore, $104.17 a square foot.

The Duquesne hotel is a six-story brick structure, built 18 years ago. For two generations or more the property has been in the family of the late George Jackson, and title to it is now secured from Mrs. Sarah L. Black of Swissvale, the only remaining heir. William Witherow has been proprietor of the hotel for many years, and his present lease expires April 1, 1904. While the hotel is not a modern building, it is one of the best known hostelries in Pennsylvania and always has a large patronage.

Separating the Hotel Duquesne property from the Hotel Henry, which extends from Fifth avenue to Virgin alley, is a five-foot alley. Mr. Henry now has practically 185 feet of Virgin alley frontage at a corner which will be greatly benefited by the widening of the alley below Smithfield street. As soon as the lease on the Duquesne expires he will tear down the building and erect in its stead a modern fire-proof steel frame hotel, 10 stories high, or the same height as the Hotel Henry. This will be built over the five-foot alley to connect with the Henry. The building will cost at least $500,000, and with the Hotel Henry will give Mr. Henry probably the largest and best arranged hotel in the state. For Pittsburgh the deal means much, as it promises to relieve to a considerable extent the scarcity of hotel accommodations. It also means that the much talked of Mellon skyscraper proposed for the corner of Fifth avenue and Smithfield street, will not include the hotel frontage, unless other arrangements are made.

SOUTHERN REPUBLICS FORMING AN ALLIANCE

Brazil, Argentina and Chile Will Combine to Resist European Aggression.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1903, by New York Herald Co.)

BUENOS AYRES, June 2.—El Nacional, a newspaper which has special facilities for learning news concerning diplomatic affairs, publishes an article stating that it is said in high diplomatic circles that the Argentina, Chilean and Brazilian foreign offices are negotiating an alliance to combat European intervention.

According to El Nacional's informant the proposed alliance includes first, an obligation signed by the three nations to help each other in case any European power should threaten either republic's sovereignty; second, to advance diplomatic intervention in case of conflicts between European nations and any South American republics not included in the alliance; and, third, to observe with other South American republics what European diplomacy calls an international policy, preventing conflicts. The Argentine government is carefully guarding the secret of the negotiations and refuses to make a statement.

Art Committee Criticized.

LONDON, June 2.—Considerable prominence was given by the Times today to a letter severely criticizing the composition of the committee controlling the British art exhibit at the St. Louis exposition complaining that the members are exclusively academicians, "whose prejudice against other schools has so often been proved."

Blauvelt Made Debut as Marguerite.

LONDON, June 2.—Mme. Lilian Blauvelt made her debut at Covent garden tonight as Marguerite in Gounod's "Faust," meeting with an excellent reception from a critical audience. She was well supported by M. Salignac as Faust and M. Plancon as Mephistopheles.

Chinese Insurgents Active.

HONGKONG, June 2.—The French consul reports that the insurgents in Yun-Nan province have captured the towns of Che-Ping Chau and Homi Chau. Communication between Yun-Nan-Fu and Tonquin is cut.

BRIEF NEWS BY CABLE.

HAVANA.—Gov. Nunez has ordered the enforcement of a stamp tax of 2 cents per bottle on mineral and medicinal waters, as required by the provincial tax ordinance. The owners of the cafes declare they will not pay the tax.

SOFIA.—The arrival of refugees from Macedonia has largely ceased during the past few days and the frontier is quiet. Provided there is no further disquieting in Macedonia, by the insurgents, the danger of complications between Turkey and Bulgaria may be regarded as past for this year.

WILL GIVE GARDEN PARTY.

Chamberlain Has Invited Six Thousand Consituents to Birmingham.

LONDON, June 3.—Mr. Chamberlain has invited 6,000 of his constituents to a garden party at his Birmingham residence on June 20, when it is expected that he will speak on the imperial zollverein question. Although there is uncensing discussion on Mr. Chamberlain's proposals, there is little indication yet as to how the party leaders will range themselves.

According to the Daily News, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach will uncompromisingly oppose the colonial secretary's proposals. If so, the leadership of the former chancellor of the exchequer will give great strength to the Unionist opponents of the zollverein scheme. In reply to a correspondent, Mr. Chamberlain has stated that he relies upon colonial co-operation as necessary to the success of his movement.

PERSONALS

The twenty-second annual convention of the Funeral Directors' Association of America will be held at the Monongahela house today. The Embalmers' Association of Pennsylvania will also meet this morning. The two associations are so closely allied that consolidation has been verbally agreed upon. The merging of the two associations will take place the first thing this morning. All embalmers are members of the funeral directors and do not think it necessary to maintain both organizations. The convention will be opened by an address of welcome by District Attorney Haymaker. The response will be by E. Bringhurst, an ex-national president and ex-state president. A paper will be read at this morning's meeting on "Sanitation," by Dr. S. L. McCurdy. At the afternoon's session a paper will be read on "Analysis of Embalming Fluids," by J. F. Pittsburgh, and a paper on "The Arterial System," by Prof. H. J. Eckels of Philadelphia. Immediately after the reading of the paper Prof. Eckels will give a demonstration in embalming at the county morgue. This evening the 350 delegates take a trolley ride through the resident portion of the city, ending their trip at the united labor carnival. Tomorrow morning the election of officers will take place, at which the present officers are candidates. A reception and banquet will be given by the Allegheny County Funeral association, of which F. C. Beinhauer is president. One of the principal matters to come up for consideration is the subject of Sunday funerals. The officers of the association are: D. B. Widmyer, president; A. C. Hookey, Brady's Bend, first vice president; W. Gerlach, Gettysburg, second vice president; C. J. Lange, Bradford, third vice president; George C. Paul, Philadelphia, treasurer; Jacob H. Fisher, Philadelphia, secretary; executive board, M. H. Leslie and J. M. Fullerton, Pittsburgh, and J. H. Ostertag, Columbia. There are 15 members of the association.

One Delegate Gets Bad News from His Home in Flood District.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 2.—The 21st annual convention of the Knights of Columbus opened here today with over 100 delegates in attendance. Supreme Knight Edward L. Hearn in his address said that only the extension of the order in the new fields has saved it from a new loss in insured members during 1902. This statement is based upon the fact that 175 old councils failed to add one insured member during 1902.

T. J. Coughlin of Topeka, a delegate, was prostrated tonight upon receiving word that his family is believed to have perished in the Kansas floods. He will return home immediately.

INJURIES INFLICTED BY BROTHER PROVED FATAL

Body of Six-Year-Old Willie Washington Frightfully Burned and Bruised.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SHARON, PA., June 2.—Willie Washington, six-year-old son of Harry Washington of No. 3 Douglass row, Sharpsville, died this morning from injuries said to have been inflicted by his seven-year-old brother James, who threw a shoe at him.

The father of the boys tells a story of the incorrigibility of the older boy, whom he has been compelled to keep chained in the house at night. He says that he was in the habit of fastening a chain around the boy's ankle and locking it, the other end being nailed to the floor. He stated that the older boy has chopped the chain in two with a hatchet several times, and picked the lock, getting away. Last Wednesday night James was unable to get away, according to the father's story, and when his brother would not wake up to get him the hatchet, he picked up a heavy hob nailed shoe and hurled it at the boy, striking him in the forehead.

On Tuesday morning the boy died. Coroner Hazen immediately began an investigation, and a post-mortem was held. The condition of the boy's body was startling. His legs, arms and head were a mass of burns, bruises and cuts. There were four cuts on his head, his hips were burned and there was a large burn on the upper part of his right foot. His head was burned and his body bruised in several places. They found that the injury inflicted by the shoe was not alone responsible for the boy's death, for the skull was not fractured. The father put all the blame on James, the dead boy's brother.

Washington came to Sharon from Pittsburgh. He originally came from Virginia. Mrs. Washington is his second wife, and the two boys are by his first wife.

TEXT BOOK CHANGES IN THE ALLEGHENY SCHOOLS

American Book Co. Did Not Get What It Was After—Discussion Was Warm.

President David B. Oliver, of the Allegheny board of school controllers, last night caused a lot of discussion at a meeting of the board by declaring that a number of principals, teachers and members of the board, had been influenced to favor certain books by book agents who had bought dinners for them and had taken them to theaters. This statement was made immediately following the reading of the report of the committee on grades and text books. It brought protests of indignation from several principals and teachers but the motion to adopt the report of the committee passed by a vote of 47 to 34.

The American Book Company got a black eye by this action as Ward's readers, Nos. 1, 2 and 3, Cyr's readers, Nos. 4, 5 and 6, Mother Tongue Grammars, Nos. 1 and 2 were adopted along with the other text books now used. Ginn & Co., publishers, by this action, get all the new contracts.

In the fall 25,000 new readers and 10,000 new grammars will be put into the schools of Allegheny at a cost of about $18,000. The following changes in the text books for the high schools were suggested: Adams' commercial geography. Thatcher's commercial arithmetic and Clark's commercial law, to take the place of the books now in use. Their adoption will be considered at the next meeting of the board.

Secretary George W. Gerwig reported that the annex to the high school building will cost $400,000, or nearly double the estimated cost, and that there was a deficit in the treasury of $50,000. All teachers and principals recommended by the local boards were elected. The Dollar Savings Fund & Trust Company was chosen as the depository for the funds of the board, its bid being 4 1-10 per cent. David O. Daizell was re-elected school librarian, Miss M. J. McAlister assistant librarian, and John Parr janitor of the school library. F. L. Jamison was re-elected janitor of the high school building.

TEACHERS' RANKS WERE THINNED BY MATRIMONY

Irwin Board of Education Wanted Anti-Marrying Clause in Contract.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

The staff of instructors for the year just closed was broken up before the session ended, by three weddings of teachers, and two more are in prospect this month.

When the subject was broached to the women applicants before the meeting, they refused to have an anti-marrying clause in the contract for the year. The board at its executive meeting decided not to insert the clause, but take chances on cupid's failing to get in his work the coming year.

The following teachers were elected: Principal, R. C. Shaw; first assistant, C. C. Green; second assistant, Miss Georgiana Crane and R. G. Shorthouse, Mary E. Fiegal, Laura Dickey, Effie J. Flinn Was Accused of Publicly Confessing to Having Taken Bribes.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SCRANTON, PA., June 2.—Today's proceedings in the libel suit instituted by former Councilman Flinn against W. W. Scranton were interesting and the court room was crowded. Mr. Scranton, who said in a letter that Flinn had publicly confessed that he had taken bribes," base dhis defense on the truth of the allegation and called witnesses to prove it. The most important of these was J. M. West of Pittsburgh, agent for the Barber Asphalt Company. In Scranton a few years ago, when a street repairing contract was let. LIEUT. MOORE INSISTS UPON BEING SALUTED

Young Officer Causes Amusement by His Insistence on Extravagant Politeness.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Lieutenant Jairus Moore, who has held a commission in the regular army about two years, is causing a laugh among enlisted men at Fort Myer for his exactions in the matter of salutes. The other day Lieutenant Moore passed a detachment of men at work with picks and shovels. They did not salute.

"Why don't you salute there?" demanded Lieut. Moore.

The sergeant explained that the men were at work and some of them had their backs toward him and did not see him. The lieutenant reprimanded the sergeant and the men, who later signed affidavits explaining why they did not salute and will forward them to Col Edgerly, the commandant at the post.

Lieutenant Moore rose from the ranks, having enlisted in April, 1898. Some weeks ago he publicly rebuked a sergeant for not saluting him. The sergeant had his back toward the officer and did not see him. By the advice of his superior officers the sergeant defended himself from the charge and the lieutenant was reprimanded by Col. Edgerly.

Arnold-Babcock.

READING, PA., June 2.—(Special.)—The wedding of Mary Dundore Arnold of Reading and Edward Vose Babcock of Pittsburgh, at the residence of the bride's parents, was one of the leading society events of the season. The bride is the daughter of William A. Arnold, one of the most prominent financial men of this city. The ceremony took place in the large east parlor. Pink and white predominated in the elaborate decorations. The Rev. Dr. E. T. Horn, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, officiated. The maid of honor was Miss Myrtle Leonard of Beaver and the bridesmaids were Miss Kathryn Barbry, Miss Isabelle Dives and Miss Ella Rock Arnold of Reading. W. W. Reitley of Buffalo was best man and the ushers were Dr. James H. Thompson of Johnstown, Senor Augustus Pulldic, the Venezuelan minister at Washington, and Frank Dundore Arnold, brother of the bride.

Mr. Babcock is at the head of the lumber interest of that name in Pennsylvania with headquarters at Ashtola, in the Alleghany mountains, where he occupies "Hemlock Lodge." A part of the honeymoon will be spent at this resort, after which the couple will leave for Europe. The guests from Pittsburg were Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Shidle, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Stone, Miss Jean Stone, Miss Marguerite Haynsaker, Dr. J. H. Ogden—Titus.

The first of the weddings which will take place in the Sewickley valley during June occurred last evening. It was the marriage of Miss Grace Emelie Ogden and William Whitehead Titus, and was performed at the home of the bride's brother-in-law, Charles Richardson, in Broad street. The bridegroom's father, the Rev. Alfred Titus of Trenton, N. J., officiated, and was assisted by the Rev. William O. Campbell, pastor of the Sewickley Presbyterian church. Walter Titus was his brother's best man. The bride entered the room with her sister, Mrs. Richardson, and was given away by Charles Richardson, her brother-in-law. She was also attended by her little niece and nephew, Mary Sterling Richardson and George Ogden Richardson.

The bride was gowned in white mousseline trimmed elaborately with lace and bead embroidery, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley tied with white tulle. Mrs. Richardson and her daughter, Mary Richardson, wore white mousseline with pale pink trimmings and carried pink roses, tied with pink tulle. Seventy-five guests were present and the house, though simply decorated, was handsome with palms and white field daisies. Dinner followed the marriage service and later the young couple departed for a trip to extend over a couple of weeks. They will reside in Sewickley. Mr. Titus is teller for the Union Trust Company of Pittsburgh.

Miss Stanton's Afternoon Tea.

An informal afternoon tea was given yesterday by Miss Edith Stanton, at her home in Marchand street, East End, in honor of Miss Margaret McKinney of Fairmont, W. Va., who is spending a couple of weeks with her. Both Miss Stanton and Miss McKinney were members of last year's graduating class of the Pennsylvania College for Women, and the guests of yesterday were principally members of the class of '02. The young women who assisted in entertaining during the afternoon were the young hostess' sisters, Mrs. Clifford Rea Wessell, a bride of last June, and Miss Anna Stanton, together with Miss Lida Young, Miss Ann M. Houston, Miss Elsa Braun and Miss Helen Dickey. The decorations of the home were daintily carried out in pink and green. Several informal little entertainments will be given during Miss McKinney's stay among them a luncheon this afternoon, at the home of Miss Houston in Pacific avenue, for 16 girls. Miss Dickey of Ivy street will give a picnic and over Thursday Miss Grace Kerr will entertain a small house party at her home in Burrettstown. Saturday afternoon, June 13, Miss Elsa Braun of Aurelia street will give a theater party at Duquesne garden, to be followed by dinner at the home of Miss Margaret McClelland, in Dithridge street, Bellefield.

Stoney-Hamlin.

The marriage of Miss Edna Moore Stoney, the youngest daughter of the late R. J. Stoney of South Negley avenue, East End, to Harry Howard Hamlin of Philadelphia, was a small and daintily-appointed home ceremony of last evening. Only the immediate relatives, 30 in all, witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Lincoln Ferris, assistant rector of Calvary Protestant Episcopal church, Penn avenue, East End. Both the bride and bridegroom were unattended. The former was given away by her brother, R. J. Stoney, Jr. She was gowned in a dainty white silk mousseline, trimmed with lace and she carried white sweet peas and maidenhair ferns. The house decorations were carried out in green and white, with foliage and orange blossoms.

After an informal reception Mr. and Mrs. Hamlin left for an eastern trip. After July 1 they will be at home in Philadelphia, where Mr. Hamlin is engaged in business. He is a former resident of Augusta, Me., and a graduate of Bowdoin college and the Boston School of Technology. Mrs. Hamlin was educated at the Pennsylvania College for Women.

Duncan-Lloyd.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA., June 2.—(Special.)—Miss Nanna Sweitzer Duncan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Shoenberger Duncan, and John Lloyd, Jr., son of John Lloyd the Philadelphia banker, were married at the home of the bride's parents this evening. The Rev. Allan Sheldon Woodle of Altoona was the officiating clergyman. The bridesmaids were Miss Jane Bowman of Pittsburgh and Miss Mary Duncan, sister of the bride. Charles Cass of New York city was the best man. Guests were present from Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Altoona, Philipsburg and other towns of the state. After an extended honeymoon in the east Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd will make their residence in their handsome new home near Philadelphia.

Returned from Wedding Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Moorhead have completed their wedding trip and last week arrived in Chicago, where they are occupying a handsomely furnished house in Jackson avenue. Immediately after their marriage, about three weeks ago, they went to Atlantic City. They were for some days in Pittsburgh, at Mr. Moorhead's home in Ellsworth avenue, where he has been living with his grandmother, Mrs. Maxwell K. Moorhead. While here several entertainments were given in their honor. Mr. Moorhead is taking a post-graduate course at the Hahnemann Medical college, Chicago. He is a brother of Mrs. Bruce Millard of Amberson avenue, Shadyside.

The hours were from 2 until 5 o'clock, and a large number of persons interested in the institution were present. A program of songs and recitations was given by the children, who a little later were addressed by the Rev. Austin Van Fossen. The reception and entertainment committees consisted of the officers and members of the board of managers of the home. Early in the afternoon a brief business session was held at which the old officers and board of managers were unanimously re-elected. During the afternoon this car and all other cars on the Monongahela line, Swissvale and Wilkinsburg branch, will be met on the boulevard at the Homewood cemetery gate.

A special committee of members of the club will be on hand during the afternoon to help entertain the club's guests, and for the amusement of the children the American Military band will be provided, together with swings, hammocks, a hurdy-gurdy, Punch and Judy show, ponies and carts. Lunch will be served about 4 o'clock.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED IN CONNELLSVILLE

MRS. AND MR. J. J. REYNOLDS.

The pretty little town of Confluence, Fayette county, was excited Decoration day over the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Reynolds, an aged couple well-known in the town and formerly residents of Pittsburgh, where they lived many years. They moved to Confluence about 12 years ago, after Mr. Reynolds retired, and bought considerable property there, which is now quite valuable, for Confluence real estate has gone up in value.

Decoration day was Mr. Reynolds' 77th birthday, his wife being two years younger. The day had long been looked forward to and when it came to decorating the lawn on which the dinner was to be served the residents of the town vied with each other in helping to ornament the grounds with flags and bunting. The dinner was served on small tables and lasted from 2 till 4 o'clock in the afternoon, about 250 people having been invited to the festivities. Numerous fine gifts were presented to the pair, many of them being appropriately of gold. It took more than one table to accommodate the immediate family, for close together sat the aged couple, their six children and 16 grandchildren. There has not been a death in the seven families in 50 years.

Mr. Reynolds was born in Pittsburgh. When a young man he drove a stage over the national pike for some years, and then became the head of the guard system which the stage company established for the protection of goods and treasure en route. When the Pittsburgh & Connellsville railroad began to run out of Pittsburgh, Mr. Reynolds became a passenger conductor, in which position he served until his voluntary retirement 12 years ago. Mrs. Reynolds, whose maiden name was Nan Bradley, was born near Connellsville.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds are Mrs. Margaret Walton of Confluence, Robert Reynolds of Cumberland, Md.; Mrs. John F. Black of Dickerson Run, opposite New Haven; D. M. Reynolds of Pittsburgh, Mrs. R. W. Wilson of Pittsburgh and Mrs. Albert Hagerman of Glassport. All of them have children.

THE annual report of the work of the Woods Run Industrial house has just been issued. It shows a large increase in the work accomplished during the past year over that of the preceding. Classes have been conducted with success, the girls sewing classes especially being full, 136 enrolled. The lack of volunteer teachers has handicapped those who were in charge of this department. Work was provided for those who needed it, clothing and fuel given, the recipients making some return where it was at all possible.

Last summer 123 women and children were sent to the country, 45 to Fair Oaks and the others to Glenfield, and at Thanksgiving baskets of provisions were provided for a number of families.

The building fund has grown perceptibly during the year. Frank J. Torrance gave originally a plot of ground with a frontage of 40 feet. To this he has added an additional 18 feet, giving a better location for the home, which will be erected as soon as sufficient funds are secured. The building fund now has reached $11,850.50, with an additional $2,000 subscription not yet paid.

The officers of the Woods Run Industrial Home include the following: President, Mrs. W. C. Burchard; vice presidents, Mrs. E. G. Follansbee, Mrs. J. A. Stevenson, Mrs. James Hoag; secretary, Miss J. C. Kennedy; treasurer, Mr. J. N. Davidson; superintendent, Miss E. O. Wickersham; board of managers, Mrs. W. C. Burchard, Mrs. A. C. Patterson, Mrs. B. G. Follansbee, Mrs. S. A. Shepard, Mrs. F. J. Torrance, Mrs. James Hoag, Mrs. J. D. Bailey, Mrs. A. F. Schwerd, Mrs. J. A. Stevenson, Mrs. H. Buhl, Mrs. John Follansbee, Miss J. C. Kennedy, Mrs. J. M. Bailey, Mrs. Frank Moore, Mrs. W. W. Jones, Mrs. John Walker, Mrs. M. B. Rodgers, Mrs. Coleberry, Mrs. Edward Worcester, Miss Florence Walker, Miss Julia Patterson, Miss Alice Lee, Miss E. G. Wickersham, Mrs. William Lang, Mrs. H. O. Hukill, Mrs. N. M. Larimer, Mrs. W. P. Herbart, Miss Mildred Oliver.

Committee Meeting.

A meeting of the supper committee appointed for the garden party which the New Era club will give on Friday, June 12, on the Liberty school grounds, Ellsworth avenue and Ivy street, Shadyside, was held to complete arrangements. Supper will be served at the close of the afternoon entertainment for the members of the club and the general public. Ample arrangements will be made to accommodate several hundred people.

The supper committee includes Mrs. W. C. Butterfield and Mrs. William D. Grimes, chairmen; Mrs. Will Sheridan, Mrs. J. R. Killen, Mrs. Aiken, Mrs. Shaler, Mrs. Rufus Martin, Mrs. Charles Spearman, Mrs. Cadwallader, Mrs. T. E. Orr, Mrs. W. R. Evans, Mrs. D. J. Evans, Mrs. Normecutt, Mrs. T. D. Sensor, Mrs. Wilson Bell, Mrs. George Price, Mrs. Lappe, Mrs. Dukkome, Miss Duncan, Mrs. George Brown, Miss Spearman and Miss Bell.

The china and glass that will be used for the supper has been donated for the occasion by the East End Women's Christian Association.

Young Peoples Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Young Peoples branches of the Missionary societies of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny presbyteries will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Second Presbyterian church, Penn avenue and Seventh street. An address will be delivered by the Rev. George Chalfant, D. D., who recently returned from Mexico. A Christmas box will also be packed to send to Mrs. Goheen at Kohipour, India.

A nurse generally arrives in time of crisis, the patient is turned over to her, the family draw a long breath of comfort and relief, confide in her amazingly, question her about the doctor, the treatment, the patient's condition, her experience of similar cases, and unhesitatingly make her privy to their most personal affairs. Besides possessing undoubted courage and professional skill, says a writer in Atlantic Monthly, a nurse should be prepared to sweep, keep a room in order, arrange flowers, read aloud, write notes, unobtrusively quiet such family jars as might affect her patient. She must understand what to do herself, what should be left to servants, remembering that this will vary in every household. She must be quick to see when her presence is necessary, when she is in the way. She can allow herself no personal habits as to bed or board, no private existence or amusement while at a case, and when the patient is safely through the exciting period of illness she has to settle down with good grace to the tedium of convalescence, never resenting the inevitable withdrawal of intimacy as the family resume a normal habit of life, and no longer make her the recipient of every thought and emotion.

The Ideal Nurse and Her Work.

The green salad is the daily joy of the French housewife. If possible, it should be served every day of the year, especially now, when the earth itself is made new in its fresh dress of soft greens, and everyone feels the thrill of growing things, and plans to cast off the old and get ready the new. After the spring freshening in the home, do not let the work stop with the dainty appearance of the house, and do not forget the fresh variety in fruits and vegetables that the spring markets bring for the home table. If the trees are attractive in their tender greens, so will the dinner table lure the waning appetite by a decoration of spring blossoms, and a crisp, fresh salad.

Green Salad Every Day.

For the sake of health and the satisfaction of the eye, as well as the taste, every dinner should include this course. Use the various vegetables in their season when the price is within the reach of all.

After the green things for your salad are lying in cold water, or set in the refrigerator to grow crisp and cold before serving, the essential thing to consider is the oil. Here the mistake is often made of thinking that the best oil is too expensive and that an inferior grade, probably adulterated, will answer. Remove all green salads—all green vegetables—from your table, rather than serve them with anything less than the best product of olive oil that you can procure. Few things require greater care in purchasing.

For spring salads the French dressing is best. It is preferable to make it at the table, tossing it over the lettuce as you serve it. In making the French dressing use a round bowl; put in the oil, pepper and salt. If the onion flavor is desired, the bowl may first be rubbed with a slice of onion. Beat the oil well with the seasoning until it thickens, and then add gradually the vinegar. Be sure to use much more oil than vinegar.

Table Linen to Suit the Season.

Even the fashions in smart table linens show the influence of the changing seasons. Now the proper patterns are lilacs, pansies and specially beautiful linens with sweet peas. Later on it will be roses, daisies and a host of suitable summer flowers. The napkins of various sizes match all of these cloths.

Special Pins for Stoles and Collars.

The necessity for special pins to secure stoles and separate lace collars and ruches to gowns is causing many pretty new styles of brooches and pins to be seen in the leading jewelers' shops.

TWO DOWNTOWN PROPERTIES SOLD

Hermann Building and Nos. 124-128 Second Avenue Bring $200,000.

HEBREWS BUY LOT FOR $55,000

Property of Christian Home for Working Girls Bought for $74,000—A $30,000 Deal Near the Point—New Suburb at Turtle Creek—Other Sales.

H. J. Bailey has bought from the Garland Chain Company two downtown properties for $260,000. One is the Herrmann office building, at No. 324 Fourth avenue, formerly owned by Leopold Vilsack. It is a six-story brick structure, 24x86 feet, and occupied chiefly by attorneys' offices. The property is well known and has changed hands twice within a year. It was figured in this deal at $75,000.

The other property bought is the building at Nos. 124-128 Second avenue, a five-story brick store and warehouse building on lot 70x80 feet, extending back to an alley. It is on the south side of the avenue, a short distance below Market street. The three stores on the first floor are tenanted by Grier Bros., tinware dealers, John M. Tate the plumber and Fayerweather & Ladew, dealers in belting and leather. At $125,000 the property stands Mr. Bailey $1,785 a front foot.

Mr. Bailey also closed the sale yesterday of Nos. 407 and 409 Second avenue, known as the Hershel Cooley and the Susanna Pittock holdings for $55,000. Each of the lots measure 20x80 feet on the north side of the avenue, a short distance above Smithfield street. The Cooley property was bought by Mr. Bailey two years ago for $8,500, so that the present sale nets him $19,000. The present buyers of the properties are three Hebrews, who take them for an investment. The rate of sale was $1,375 a front foot.

BANKER INVESTS $74,000.

Through George Bros. the property of the Christian Home for Working Girls, on the west side of Eighth street, near Duquesne way, has been sold for $74,000. The purchaser is C. L. Snowdon, president of the Monongahela National bank of Brownsville. The property adjoins the old morgue, sold two weeks ago for $100,000, and has a frontage of 74 feet by a depth of 100 feet. On the lot is a four-story brick building which the Home occupied until recently. Plans for the new Home in Duquesne way, near Fifth street, have been made by Architects Mueller & East. At the price paid for the Eighth street property, $1,000 a front foot or $10 a square foot, it is considered very reasonable, in view of the improvements that are promised in the near vicinity and the growing importance of this street as a business thoroughfare.

John L. Porter of this city has finally secured title to three parcels of real estate adjoining the Hotel Kenmawr in the East End, for $75,000, the former owner being Henry Fisher of Redlands, Cal. One plot measures 140x125 feet on the east side of Shady avenue, near Howe street. Another parcel is a one-half interest in a lot 125x96 feet, in Slagle street, adjoining the first plot, and the third parcel is 1.25 acres, facing on the north side of Howe street. The property will be used as a site for a second Hotel Kenmawr, and extensive additions to the hotel grounds.

PAYS 11 PER CENT.

Through the agency of C. C. Hamilton Louis Cohen and Jacob Tannenbaum have bought from the Fidelity Title and Trust Company, executors for Mary Walton, Nos. 36 and 38 Second avenue, for $30,000. The lot is 40x90 feet and has on it two three-story brick buildings. The purchase was made for an investment and the buildings are now rented so that they pay an income of 11 per cent on the present outlay.

The old Langenheim property in the Fifth ward, Allegheny, has been sold to John Goettman for $18,000. It consists of a lot, 75x128 feet, on the south side of Locust street, between Fulton and Manhattan streets, on which is the old Langenheim mansion, a large center hall brick house.

Through L. A. Clark & Co. David Page has sold to William R. Patterson a large brick house, on lot 130x84.5 feet, at the southwest corner of Liberty avenue and Winebiddle street, Twentieth ward, for $26,000.

George A. Barclay has conveyed to Alexander C. Thompson a residence property, 27x146 feet, at the southwest corner of Dalzell and Dallass avenues, Twenty-second ward, for $18,000.

IN AN INDUSTRIAL CENTER.

Another large suburban property that will be offered to the public in lots will be the allotment of the Turtle Creek Land Company at Turtle Creek. The property, formerly known as the Miller farm, was bought some time ago by a syndicate now organized into a company, which included Senator W. A. Magee, Edward Frauenheim and a number of other Pittsburgh capitalists. Besides the farm itself, which includes 100 acres, the company has options on 150 acres more adjoining. Maple avenue, which runs through the town of Turtle Creek, will be the principal street of the new suburb and will be paved one mile beyond the borough limits. Three-fourths of the property is to be sewered and graded, preparatory to putting it on the market late in June. A subsidiary company will shortly be organized to make a specialty of building good houses on streets where building restrictions will be in force. The importance of the new town site from an industrial standpoint can be realized when it is remembered that the plant of the Westinghouse Machine Electric Company is only seven squares away. With the addition to the works now going up the buildings will cover an area of 42 acres and will have over 2,000,000 square feet of floor space. By September 1 it is expected that fully 14,000 men will be employed at this plant, which will be the largest of its kind in the world.

TWO THINGS EVIDENT.

The sale of the Hotel Duquesne property for $500,000, detailed in another column, forcibly illustrates two things. One is that delay in picking up downtown properties when they are offered at a fair figure always results in loss. It is reported on good authority that the hotel property was offered to a well-known firm of bankers several times within the last six months at the figure which it brought yesterday. Last Thursday the Union Realty Company got an option on the property. It was presented to Henry Friday and the deal was practically agreed to Saturday, showing how eager buyers are to get properties suited to their needs. The other point in the sale is that it is not necessary for a firm of brokers to be located in Fourth avenue to succeed in the real estate business. When the Union Realty Company moved to the Westinghouse building in April it was such a radical departure from the old realty traditions that grave doubts were entertained by outsiders of the wisdom of the move. Three deals of $800,000, $400,000 and $740,000, all made by this company within three weeks, seem to indicate that locations cut little figure in the realty business. The same may be said of Samuel W. Black & Co., now in the Farmers Bank building, who made three deals totaling $967,000 in May.

WILL COST $200,000.

Plans for the nine-story warehouse and office building to be erected by the Central District & Printing Telegraph Company in Montour way, have been returned from the Belle officials at Boston to the architects, Aiden & Harlow, of this city, for final estimates on its cost. The company has recently purchased a notch, 10x24 feet, to complete the site, which is directly in the rear of its present building in Seventh avenue. The new building will have a frontage on Montour way of 80 feet, and will cost at least $200,000. The first four floors will be left partially unfinished and will be used for warehouse room until the business of the company makes it necessary to occupy them as offices. The next three floors are designed for offices and the two upper floors will be used for retiring rooms for the employes.

Two center hall brick houses to cost $26,000 each are to be built shortly on the west side of Fairmont avenue, between Penn avenue and Coral street. One will belong to V. G. Hickman and the other to T. McNally. The sites for the residences are two lots, 60x180 feet each, which were part of the J. K. Fleming property and were lately bought for $7,500 each.

ANOTHER BUNCH OF 25 HOUSES.

McCargo & Miller, East End realty operators, who have just completed 150 houses at Monessen, are arranging to build 25 more at the same place. A similar number of houses built 75 have been sold within a year. The houses are five-room frame dwellings, costing $2,000 each. The same men started yesterday the erection of 72 high class residences on the old Charity hospital property in the Nineteenth ward. The houses will cost $7,500 each and will be built on lots 20x120 feet each. Eight of them will face on Lang avenue, the following streets: Wellesley avenue, St. Clair street, Mellon street and Hampton avenue. They have also started 10 houses in the boulevard, near Hazelwood avenue. These will be 10-room reception hall brick residences, costing $8,500 each.

Ground was broken yesterday for the new Metropolitan National bank building at Butler and Forty-first streets. The bank will have one of the most handsome structures in the city, the outer walls being of granite and the interior finished in marble and mahogany. The cost is estimated at $75,000.

NICE RESIDENCE PURCHASED.

Oakland: Samuel W. Black & Co. sold for James and Edward McLaughlin to a local business man No. 2132 Fifth avenue, between Seneca and Mouitde streets, Fourteenth ward, for $8,500. The lot is 20x115 feet, and is improved with a two-story brick house.

Frank O. Van Corder has sold for Caroline Crossan to Hugh Murphy an improved property, 30x100 feet, on the south side of Penn avenue, Twenty-sixth ward, for $10,250.

J. A. Wakefield has sold to Charlotte A. Spooks a residence property, 50x200 feet, on the east side of Niagara street, near Craft avenue, Fourteenth ward, for $11,000.

Frankstown avenue: S. H. Loyd sold for Samuel M. Binns to James Parker an improved property, 48x115 feet, on the south side of Frankstown avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $8,000.

Sewickley: Joseph P. Rankin & Co. sold for Joseph D. Grimes to Frank B. Killen, the baseball player, a lot 50x140 feet on the east side of Grove street, near Thirteenth avenue, Sewickley, for $5,000. Killen lately sold his residence in Buena Vista street, near Taylor avenue, Allegheny, to D. T. Watson for $6,000, and will build a $10,000 house on his Sewickley site.

Sheridan: W. J. White sold for Frank W. Hamitch to Dorman T. Lewis and Susan H. Kestner three lots, 25x100 feet each, in the Melrose plan, Sheridan, for $900.

WEEKLY CROP REPORT.

Delay in Planting and Growth by Floods in Some Sections of the Country.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The weekly crop bulletin of the weather bureau says: Drought continues in New England and the northern portion of the middle Atlantic states. Drought conditions have been relieved in the Ohio valley, the middle and south Atlantic states. The latter part of the week was unseasonably cool in the lower Missouri valley, west gulf districts and New England, damaging frosts occurring in the last-named district. Very favorable temperatures prevailed in the Ohio valley and south Atlantic and east gulf states.

Wet weather has caused further delay in corn planting in the Missouri and upper Mississippi valleys. In eastern Kansas and Nebraska and in Iowa considerable have been washed out, and much replanting will be necessary. In Iowa the acreage will be materially reduced. In Illinois planting is practically finished and an excellent stand attained. In the central and upper Ohio valley planting is also delayed and early fields in some portions are suffering for cultivation.

Winter wheat on lowlands in Eastern Kansas and Nebraska and Northwestern Missouri has sustained injury from the floods, but on the whole the crop has made satisfactory advancement, an improvement being generally indicated in the Ohio valley, lake regions and middle Atlantic states. Harvesting is general in Texas and has begun in Arkansas and North Carolina.

In Nebraska, the Dakotas and Northern Minnesota spring wheat has made splendid progress, but in Southern Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa the crop on lowlands has suffered much from heavy rains.

On lowlands in the lower Missouri and Mississippi valleys oats have suffered from heavy rains, but on the whole the crop has done well, and in the Ohio valley a general improvement is reported. In New York and Pennsylvania the outlook is not promising.

The week has been favorable for transplanting tobacco and this work has made rapid progress in the Ohio valley and middle Atlantic states, where the bulk of the crop will be set during the present planting season. The prospects for apples are promising in many of the important apple sections of Southern Missouri, however, a very light crop is indicated and in New England serious injury has been done by frosts.

The hay crop continues promising in the Missouri and upper Mississippi valleys, and further improvement is reported from the Ohio valley and middle Atlantic states. In the last-named section, however, and in New England, the yield will be very light.

Pennsy Passenger Officials Start St. Louis Trip With Day of Hard Work.

Passenger officials of the Pennsylvania system, both the lines east and the lines west of Pittsburgh, yesterday inaugurated the joint trip they will make to St. Louis with a day of hard work. A long session devoted to the discussion of many questions arising in the conduct of the business was held at the Hotel Schenley. After adjournment the party scattered to meet again at 2:15 o'clock this morning at the Union station where they boarded four special cars running as the second section of train 21.

In journeying from Pittsburgh to St. Louis the party will show off for several hours at Columbus, Cincinnati and Indianapolis. Their train will reach St. Louis Thursday evening. That night and the next day will be spent in the World's fair city, and all day Friday will be devoted to a careful study of the fair as outlined in the part already completed. The terminal arrangements for handling the immense volume of passenger traffic which will be attracted by the big centennial celebration will receive especial attention, for the details of this will have to be explained to thousands of travelers next year.

The party is composed of the heads of departments, the assistant genera; passenger agents and the district passenger agents. Its full constituency is as follows: J. R. Wood, passenger traffic manager Pennsylvania railroad, Philadelphia; E. A. Ford, general passenger agent lines west, Pittsburgh; Colin Studds, New York; W. W. Atterbury, Philadelphia; Thomas Purdy, Newark, N. J.; Hugh Hasson, Jr., Baltimore, Md.; Edward Yungman, Washington, D. C.; Thomas E. Watt, Pittsburgh; B. P. Fraser, Buffalo; J. P. Annual Report of Pennsylvania Company Shows Record Business.

The annual meeting of the Pennsylvania company was held in the Union station building yesterday. The annual report was submitted, covering on operated mileage of 4,945 miles and showed a gratifying increase in the tonnage and in the number of passengers carried. The results on all lines directly operated for the year ending December 31, 1902, were as follows:

Gross earnings, $33,025,648 39; expenses, $23,898,429 14; earnings from operation, $9,717,219 25; add income received from investments, $5,413,983 32, making gross income of $15,131,202 57. Deduct payments made for interest on funded debt, rentals, etc., $9,347,217 98, leaving net income for the year, $5,783,985 01. Out of this there was paid $1,200,000, being a dividend of 3 per cent on the capital stock of the Pennsylvania company. A further sum of $2,000,000 was set aside to cover extraordinary expenditures. A further sum of $1,627,960 was contributed to sinking funds for the redemption of bonds, leaving a balance transferred to credit of profit and loss for the year of 1902 of $956,025 01.

The increase in tonnage on lines directly operated by the Pennsylvania company and in the number of passengers carried amounted to 7 per cent, owing to the increase in wages and cost of material, the net results per ton and per passenger per mile were less than the preceding year.

The board of directors was re-elected, composed of the following: A. J. Cassatt, Philadelphia, Pa.; James McCrea, Joseph Wood, J. J. Turner, Edward B. Taylor, Pittsburgh, Pa.; John J. Green, W. H. Barnes, Charles E. Pugh, Samuel Rea, George Wood, C. Stuart Patterson, Philadelphia, Pa.; T. P. Loree, Baltimore, Md.; Norris P. Shortridge, Wynnewood, Pa.

A board meeting for the election of officers will be held in Philadelphia some time during the month.

American Railway Master Mechanics association, at Saratoga, N. Y., June 24.

American Association of Local Freight Agents, at Savannah, Ga., June 9.

Advancement for V. V. Bailey.

V. V. Bailey, who has for some time been a train dispatcher on the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore & Ohio, was yesterday promoted to the position of acting assistant train master, with headquarters at Pittsburgh. The opening of lake navigation fully has put going a volume of traffic over the local division unparalleled in former years, and the duties of the trainmaster have increased correspondingly. Mr. Bailey's record in the train dispatcher's office has resulted in his being appointed to this vacancy.

Railroad Notes.

W. T. Lechlider, chief clerk to the general superintendent of the Baltimore & Ohio, who has been ill for two weeks, is reported greatly improved.

W. C. Loree, general superintendent of the Baltimore & Ohio, who has been in Baltimore since Sunday attending a staff meeting, returned last night.

J. A. Spielman, the new division superintendent of the Baltimore & Ohio at Butler, reached this city yesterday. He will make at once an inspection of the entire division.

PACKETS HAVE TROUBLE.

The Trap Delays Steamers and Holds the Ben Hur Fast.

The steamer Ben Hur, which left here for Parkersburg Monday night, is aground in the trap. Several efforts were made yesterday to get her off, but she is so deeply embedded in the soft mud at the head of the trap that the attempts were unsuccessful. It is probable that she will be compelled to remain there until floated by higher water. The Bessie Smith will come up the river for her trip. The Keystone State of the Cincinnati line also found trouble there, but managed to get through with the assistance of the steamer Enterprise. The Kanawha left yesterday afternoon for Kanawha river points and was able to get through all right. She is of lighter draught than the other packets and will likely be able to complete her trip. The Kanawha, endeavored to render assistance to the Ben Hur last evening, but could not get close to her and proceeded on her way.

The water is falling in the upper Ohio and packet trips will be discontinued after but one trip each. It is doubtful if the packets that got away can reach their destination before the water falls too low.

DEPARTURES.

Kanawha, Roe, Charleston.

The marks on the gauge at the Davis Island dam at 5 o'clock last evening indicated a stage of 3.9 feet and the river was falling.

NEWS OF THE RIVERS.

The coal fleet arrived at Cincinnati yesterday.

The steamer Tornado was put on the Elizabeth marine ways yesterday.

The steamer Flint was taken off the Manchester docks yesterday after being overhauled.

The steamers Oakland and Crescent passed Louisville yesterday with empties coming up to Pittsburgh.

The Lorena is coming up the river and is due to arrive Friday. It is doubtful if she reaches this port.

The water in the harbor will be lower for a few days on account of repairing some of the wickets on the Davis Island dam.

The new steamer Columbia, of the Morgantown Packet line, arrived in Pittsburgh last evening. She will make her maiden trip up the Monongahela Saturday afternoon.

The new steamer being built at Jeffersonville by the Howard Shipyard Company for C. Jutte & Co. will be completed by September. She will be named the Charles Jutte. The company has taken this means of perpetuating the name of the founder of the firm of C. Jutte & Co. It is claimed that she will be one of the finest boats on the rivers.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

A letter received from President Marks of the Marquette & Arizona Mining Company, says: "Below the 125-foot level we struck some grain, also a little copper in the chert, and our future looks bright. We are still in iron, lime and quartzite, and are putting in a set of timbers every other day."

A. F. Leopold of Chicago, one of the men who recently closed the deal for the property of the Higgins at Los Angeles, Cal., is in Houghton. He has just returned from Bisbee where he visited the Higgins claims. Like all others who are acquainted with the geology of the Warren district and who have looked over the Higgins property, Mr. Leopold had much faith in the value of the claims.

It is stated that the Boston & Montana has, during the past six months, earned one-half the Amalgamated's dividend.

Latest reports from the California mine, owned by the Turnagain Arm Mining Company, of Minnesota, are to the effect that the breast of No. 1 is now in $90 gold ore. General Manager Bellman estimates that there are from 50,000 to 60,000 tons of ore blocked out in the various workings, valued at $500,000.

The big three-compartment shaft at the Virtue mine, 10 miles northeast of Baker City, is being rapidly sunk. General Manager Arthur Mosher announces that instead of purchasing a new deep sinking plant he will move the plant now at the Cumberland mine, near Silver City, Idaho, which is owned by the same company, and which was abandoned two years ago as unprofitable.

The 20-stamp mill at the Black Eagle mine, near Malheur City, which has been closed down owing to a lack of fuel, was started up for a continuous summer run last Wednesday. Ore is mined and milled at the Black Eagle at a total cost of 90 cents per ton. According to General Manager Melville this ore averages $5 50 per ton on the plates. It is commonly called the "Treadwell of Oregon." The ore is quarried from an immense porphyry dyke, broken down through upraises from an adit level into ore and trammed direct into the mill hopper. The general manager has announced that his company will shortly increase the stamp capacity of the Black Eagle to 100.

Placer mining takes a boom in Leadville. To the north of the town the Laura and Daisy are paying well. Shafts are being sunk there and prospecting work carried on. To the south the Stonewall placers are to be worked extensively this summer. This ground is owned by an English syndicate. The Limahayden is clearing up preparatory to work, as is the Allenite. The Vinnie people are still prospecting before putting in a dredge.

AN UPWARD TURN IN WALL STREET

Weakness in the Morning Followed by a Genuine Rally—Large Gold Engagements—Activity in Local Stocks.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

A cloud seemed to be lifted from the eastern stock market yesterday with the announcement of the failure of A. E. Ames & Co., a large banking and brokerage house of Toronto, Canada, rated at about $1,000,000. Previous to the announcement there was heavy selling of Canadian Pacific, Twin City Rapid Transit and other stocks in which the embarassed firm is supposed to have had large interests. In the Boston market there was considerable weakness in the Dominion Iron stocks. Canadian Pacific broke to 118¼, Twin City Rapid Transit, which on Monday sold at 101, broke to 87¾. Dominion Iron broke to 42¾, the preferred to 89, and the bonds were quoted at 66 bid. The Sloss-Sheffield stocks were also weak and lower. This entire group has displayed great weakness from time to time during the past few weeks. Evidently the Canadians had an inkling as to the condition of the firm which was finally compelled to suspend, and the selling of stocks was in the nature of discounting that event. The early weakness in this department of the market caused a continuation of the selling of other specialties, and Missouri Pacific, Rock Island, Atchison and Baltimore & Ohio all sold off. Heavy liquidation in Pennsylvania rights had its effect upon the stock, which declined slightly in spite of the good showing made for April. A further disturbing element was the attack made upon Amalgamated Copper, which was based upon the decline in the metal in the London market, which in turn was due to the reported increase in the stock of the metal during the last half of May, estimated at 1,320 tons. Amalgamated Copper, after opening at 57 and 57¼, broke to 55½, and although late London cables reported a recovery in the metal in that market, there was very little response here. Amalgamated closing only about a point from the lowest price of the day.

In the afternoon there was a complete change in the general tone of the market. The stocks which had been under pressure in the morning rallied under shorts covering. Canadian Pacific reaching 122 and Twin City showing a recovery of about 5 per cent. Missouri Pacific made a strong rally, selling up to 105⅝. Louisville & Nashville recovered 1⅜ per cent to 114 and closed at the best. Baltimore & Ohio rallied 2 per cent from the lowest to 88¾. Union Pacific, which has been under heavy pressure for more than a week, rallied from 81⅜ to 83¾. Wabash preferred was 2 per cent higher at 45, and other low-priced railroad shares participated in the upward movement. With the exception of Amalgamated there was also improvement in the industrial list. United States Steel stocks were firm, the common rallying to 31⅛ and the preferred to 81⅜. United States Leather common, after selling down to 7⅝, rallied to 8⅜. The preferred recovered from 87½ to 90. Peoples Gas, which early in the session declined from 100 to 98⅝, recovered to the opening price. While the net gains at the close, outside of a few specialties, were not large, they were general, and final prices were at or near the highest of the day. The sales reached 735,800 shares.

Nearly $3,000,000 gold was engaged for export tomorrow. The announcement had little effect upon the stock market, having been looked for, and there was no effect whatever upon the money market, the rate on call remaining all day at 2½ per cent and closing at 2½ and 2¾ per cent. Aside from what has been already mentioned, there were few developments during the day of an influential character. The reports of damage by the western floods were no worse than the day before, and the labor situation appeared to be unchanged. Confidence in the permanency of the rally in the stock market, however, was surprisingly slight. Hopes that a turn was at hand have been so frequently disappointed of late that traders are chary about making any predictions. Still, the strength of such stocks as St. Paul, New York Central and Pennsylvania cannot be otherwise than encouraging. It was the continuous liquidation in this class of investments that disturbed confidence, and their action during the past two or three days at least suggests that the weak accounts therein, or the accounts for which they were sacrificed have been either eliminated or so strengthened as to be removed as a disturbing element. London was a buyer of about 20,000 shares American stocks on balance yesterday.

There was a considerable increase in the volume of business on the local stock exchange and prices were fairly steady at the close. At the opening Crucible Steel was heavy, and on fairly large sales the common stock for the first time on this movement sold below 16. The loss was recovered at the close, the final transaction being at 16. The preferred stock declined to 81, but later recovered to 81¼, closing the day with a net loss of ¼ per cent. United States Steel common declined to 31⅛, but closed at 31⅜, the highest price of the day. The preferred declined to 80¾, but rallied to and closed at 82, a net gain of 1 per cent. River Coal common sold to the extent of 1,000 shares at 10⅝, a slight advance, and the preferred sold at 40. Pittsburgh Coal common declined to 27½ and the preferred to 86¾. Manufacturers Light and Heat was fairly active, selling at 42 and 42⅛ and closing unchanged. Ohio Fuel Supply was lower at 44½, and Philadelphia Company common declined to 41¾. National Fire Proofing preferred was a shade higher at 36¼. Westinghouse Electric second preferred, after selling at 92⅝, recovered to 93⅜ and closed firm. The first preferred sold at 93 and 93½, the close being at a net decline of 1½. In the eyes of investors there is now practically no difference in the two classes of stock, although the first preferred has a prior right in the earnings and assets. There were no dealings in Westinghouse Airbrake and prices were nominally unchanged.

Colonial Trust rallied to 625, but at the close sold off to 620. American Trust did not change hands, but was nominally quoted at 526 bid, 528½ asked. Federal National Bank was firmer, selling at 172. German American Savings and Trust was also firmer, advancing from 164 to 165, closing at the highest. Merchants Savings and Trust was weak, declining to and closing at 70, a loss of 1½ for the day. North American Savings was also a fraction lower at 152. Real Estate Trust was unchanged at 310. A small lot of Commonwealth Trust sold at 250 and Bidtable at 181. Bonds remained dull and unchanged.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Market conditions continue to puzzle the older heads of the street, and they are unanimous in admitting effects. The president of one of the oldest banks remarked yesterday: "We have a large number of customers of our bank who for years have been in the habit of coming in around the first of the quarter or the month and asking our advice about investments. They are the class of people whose incomes from dividends and interest on bonds exceed their expenditures, and they usually have a surplus. When they come in now and inquire about some of the standard railroad stocks, or some of the preferred shares of the industrials which are tempting because of the high yield, we hardly know what to say. We bought a month ago that prices were low, and they certainly were low when compared with the average of the past two years; but they are still lower now. So far as we can learn there is nothing in business conditions to warrant the continuous liquidation. Money appears to be plentiful and cheap in the east, and when we inquire of our correspondents what is the matter, we get only conjectural answers. They simply say that some of the big men are compelled to liquidate. They do not say what is forcing the liquidation. Perhaps they do not know. One of our correspondents writes that in his opinion it is better to have this liquidation now than later in the year, when money is likely to be active, and that it is better to have it go through now than to wait until the campaign is on. When one of our customers comes to me I can merely tell him that to-day as I have been writing along with the enumerated figures before me in which values mostly go as much too low as they were formerly too high, and that the best policy is to buy moderately of such stocks that have been sacrificed, and hold them, and that I feel that one should be cautious in putting investments, and that speculation should be discouraged until the outlook is clearer."

The buying in Amalgamated Copper yesterday was in the nature of the "last straw" to overcome Pittsburghers who have been carrying the stock in the expectation of an increase in the dividend rate and an advance in market value. There was no satisfactory explanation for the decline. There were reports, however, of the recent reverses in the other commodity which has been steadily declining was selling Copper to take care of other speculations.

An initial quotation was made yesterday on Pittsburgh shares, Reitz & Mecaline stock. Sproul & Co. offering 100 shares at 18.

The par value of Crucible Steel common is $25,000,000, and the preferred $25,000,000. Yesterday the market value of both was a little more than $24,000,000.

The clearances on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday were 384,024 shares, against 1,437,435 shares in Ap il and 428,156 shares in May, 1902.

On the exchange 140 was bid for Home Trust Company stock.

The New York commission house was the seller of 25,000 Pennsylvania rights yesterday. It was this selling that kept the price of the stock from advancing, according to Wall street advices.

AN UPWARD TURN IN WALL STREET

Weakness in the Morning Followed by a Genuine Rally—Large Gold Engagements—Activity in Local Stocks.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

A cloud seemed to be lifted from the eastern stock market yesterday with the announcement of the failure of A. E. Ames & Co., a large banking and brokerage house of Toronto, Canada, rated at about $1,000,000. Previous to the announcement there was heavy selling of Canadian Pacific, Twin City Rapid Transit and other stocks in which the embarassed firm is supposed to have had large interests. In the Boston market there was considerable weakness in the Dominion Iron stocks. Canadian Pacific broke to 118¾, Twin City Rapid Transit, which on Monday sold at 101, broke to 87⅜. Dominion Iron broke to 12⅜, the preferred to 39, and the bonds were quoted at 66 bid. The Sloss-Sheffield stocks were also weak and lower. This entire group has displayed great weakness from time to time during the past few weeks. Evidently the Canadians had an inkling as to the condition of the firm which was finally compelled to suspend, and the selling of stocks was in the nature of discounting that event. The early weakness in this department of the market caused a continuation of the selling of other specialties, and Missouri Pacific, Rock Island, Atchison and Baltimore & Ohio all sold off. Heavy liquidation in Pennsylvania rights had its effect upon the stock, which declined slightly in spite of the good showing made for April. A further disturbing element was the attack made upon Amalgamated Copper, which was based upon the decline in the metal in the London market, which in turn was due to the reported increase in the stock of the metal during the last half of May, estimated at 1,320 tons. Amalgamated Copper, after opening at 57 and 57¼, broke to 55½, and although late London cables reported a recovery in the metal in that market, there was very little response here. Amalgamated closing only about a point from the lowest price of the day.

In the afternoon there was a complete change in the general tone of the market. The stocks which had been under pressure in the morning rallied under shorts covering. Canadian Pacific reaching 122 and Twin City showing a recovery of about 3 per cent. Missouri Pacific made a strong rally, selling up to 105⅞. Louisville & Nashville recovered 1½ per cent to 114 and closed at the best. Baltimore & Ohio rallied 2 per cent from the low sale to 88¾. Union Pacific, which has been under heavy pressure for more than a week, rallied from 81⅜ to 84¾. Wabash preferred was 2 per cent higher at 45, and other low-priced railroad shares participated in the upward movement. With the exception of Amalgamated there was also improvement in the industrial list. United States Steel stocks were firm, the common rallying to 31⅜ and the preferred to 81⅜. United States Leather common, after selling down to 7⅞, rallied to 8⅜. The preferred recovered from 87½ to 90. Peoples Gas, which early in the session declined from 100 to 98⅜, recovered to the opening price. While the net gains at the close, outside of a few specialties, were not large, they were general, and final prices were at or near the highest of the day. The sales reached 735,800 shares.

Nearly $3,000,000 gold was engaged for export tomorrow. The announcement had little effect upon the stock market, having been looked for, and there was no effect whatever upon the money market, the rate on call remaining all day at 2½ per cent and closing at 2½ and 2¾ per cent. Aside from what has been already mentioned, there were few developments during the day of an influential character. The reports of damage by the western floods were no worse than the day before, and the labor situation appeared to be unchanged. Confidence in the permanency of the rally in the stock market, however, was surprisingly slight. Hopes that a turn was at hand have been so frequently disappointed of late that traders are chary about making any predictions. Still, the strength of such stocks as St. Paul, New York Central and Pennsylvania cannot be otherwise than encouraging. It was the continuous liquidation in this class of investments that disturbed confidence, and their action during the past two or three days at least suggests that the weak accounts therein, or the accounts for which they were sacrificed have been either eliminated or so strengthened as to be removed as a disturbing element. London was a buyer of about 20,000 shares American stocks on balance yesterday.

There was a considerable increase in the volume of business on the local stock exchange and prices were fairly steady at the close. At the opening Crucible Steel was heavy, and on fairly large sales the common stock for the first time on this movement sold below 16. The loss was recovered at the close, the final transaction being at 16. The preferred stock declined to 81, but later recovered to 81¾, closing the day with a net loss of ¼ per cent. United States Steel common declined to 31⅛, but closed at 31⅜, the highest price of the day. The preferred declined to 80¾, but rallied to and closed at 82, a net gain of 1 per cent. River Coal common sold to the extent of 1,000 shares at 105⅞, a slight advance, and the preferred sold at 40. Pittsburg Coal common declined to 27¼ and the preferred to 86¾. Manufacturers Light and Heat was fairly active, selling at 42 and 42⅛ and closing unchanged. Ohio Fuel Supply was lower at 44½, and Philadelphia Company common declined to 41¾. National Fire Proofing preferred was a shade higher at 36¼. Westinghouse Electric second preferred, Westinghouse Electric second preferred. Westinghouse Electric second preferred. Westinghouse Electric second preferred.

HOME GROWN BERRIES DUE HERE NEXT WEEK

Florida Watermelons Slightly Lower in Price--Strong Market for Tropical Fruits.

Not having recovered from the heavy receipts of Saturday and Monday the strawberry market was again very weak yesterday, and buyers' prices ruled. It was estimated that fully 25 carloads were offered for sale, and quotations were badly demoralized. Fairly good berries went as low as 5 cents a quart, while 10 cents was top of the market for the fanciest, and even then rarely obtainable. Most of the berries were from Maryland and New Jersey, with a few from Delaware, and a small quantity from Columbiana county, O. Strawberries from Ohio will probably be plentiful during next week, and will likely command better prices than those brought from a distance, as they are considered home grown stock. That berries will rule rather low for the balance of the season seems probable, however, as canners are apparently about supplied, and are not now in the market except for a small quantity of fancy. Jobbers have been buying freely, and are generally relied upon to clean up the market when there is a glut, but yesterday they were not buying. Florida watermelons are here, and wholesale at 40 to 50 cents each. Canadaigua is also holding at prices of Monday. Fancy apples are easier at slightly lower prices.

Tropical fruits have not changed in price this week, a rather remarkable illustration of dullness in the market, as it is not unusual for quotations to weaken after a holiday. Lemons are in active demand and prices are very strong.

Demand for chickens is keeping up and there is no stock to spare. Receipts are very light and the scarcity yesterday was the more marked because some consignments en route failed to reach here on schedule time. Other poultry steady at former quotations.

The advance of a half cent in the price of creamery butter made on Monday has been accepted, and conditions have not been disturbed. Demand is fairly good and receipts are ample. Cheese declined on Monday, and is easy at the reduced prices. Eggs are unchanged.

Hay is firm, with sellers realizing $19 for No. 1 timothy without trouble. Receipts yesterday were light, and all offered found ready sale. Corn is steady at former quotations, while oats are holding their own as quoted. Millfeed is firm at unchanged prices.

The wheat market is strong and local jobbers are expecting an advance in flour quotations, higher figures having been looked for yesterday. Sugar is selling as quoted at the beginning of the week, with primal markets strong. Demand is increasing as the season advanced, and it would not be surprising if higher quotations were to prevail, although no one is willing to predict what will happen in the sugar market. Coffee is quiet, and all other staples are unchanged.

Conditions in the horse market continue as they have been for several weeks. Retail selling is without special feature, and prices are well maintained for good stock, which is coming forward in fairly good supply.

At the auction sale yesterday 200 horses of all grades were offered and sold at figures just about equal to those which ruled a week ago. Bidding not quite so active as on last Thursday, but buyers were out in force.

Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The drygoods market has not shown as general signs of improvement as was hoped. Buyers are conservative and the high prices which are still being asked have acted as a handicap to free trading. Manufacturers are more determined than ever to secure advances and in addition, the determination to curtail, under any circumstances, is growing more general.

WHEAT PRICES FIRM ON CHICAGO 'CHANGE

Western Flood Reports Caused All of the Cereals to Brace Up Again.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, June 2.—Trading was active in all markets today, and higher prices ruled. July wheat closing 1¾c higher, corn ¾@¾c higher and oats up ¾c, while provisions were strong, the September products closing from 7½c to 32½c higher.

There was a big trade in wheat and prices were decidedly strong, the storms and floods in the west and southwest and the reported destruction of thousands of acres of grain, together with the advance at St. Louis and New York yesterday, being responsible for the excitement at the start. It was an entirely weather market, the foreign markets with the exception of the London exchange being closed, and although there was an advance at London, the statistics were bearish, world's shipments being larger and there being an increase in the amount on passage of 1,280,000 bushels. July opened 1¾@1¾c to 1⅞@1⅞c higher at 74¾c to 75¼c, but under heavy liquidation by local longs, the price eased off somewhat, July declining to 74¾c. The northwest was a good buyer and with a decrease in the visible supply of 3,453,000 bushels, and on the strength at St. Louis, the market again advanced, July selling up to 75½c, and the strength was well maintained, although there were some realizing sales toward the close. Final figures on July were up 1¾c over Friday's close, at 75¼@75¾c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 1,318,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 790,000 bushels, against 431,700 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 529 cars, which, with local receipts of 55 cars, none of contract grade, made total receipts for the three points of 578 cars, against 235 cars last week, and 158 cars a year ago.

The opening in corn was even more excited than that in wheat, for the reason that it was the general supposition that the prevailing floods would do considerable damage to the corn crop, and there was a wild scramble among shorts to get to cover. As a result of their endeavors prices showed a wide variation, a difference of 1 cent being noticed in bids at the same time in different parts of the pit. July was up ½c to 2½c at the start, opening at 47¾@47⅞c, and 47½c for sale, although there was considerable realizing later on. Offerings were well taken, however, and prices were well maintained, July closing between 47½c and 48c. July closed 2¼@2½c higher at 47¾@47½c. Local receipts were 1,200 cars, with 103 of contract grade.

Oats ruled strong in sympathy with other grains and on the unfavorable weather conditions. Shorts and outsiders were good buyers while there was some realizing on the advance which caused a slight decline. Closing prices were strong, with July ¾c higher at 34½c, after ranging between 34½c and 35¼c. Local receipts were 359 cars.

Provisions shared in the general upturn. The strength in the grain markets, the closing of the packing plants at Kansas City and an advance of 10c to 15c in the price of hogs stimulated a good demand for all products. There was good buying of pork and shorts and a further advance was made, but later in the day realizing sales caused a partial loss of the early gain. The close was strong with September pork 32½c higher, at $17 62½; lard 15c higher, at $8 95, and ribs up 7½c, at $9 27½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 75 cars; corn, 107 cars; oats, 390 cars; hogs, 32,000 head.

EXCEPTIONAL SECURITY AFFORDED.

The issue is secured by the deposit of the Capital Stock of the Wheeling Natural Gas Company of West Virginia, which is the only lien on the Company's properties, right and privileges.

The capital stock of the Wheeling Natural Gas Company is	$ 1,500,000
Its market value is	$ 4,470,000
The actual cash invested in the Company's plant is		$ 4,954,501 65
The capital stock of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company is	$21,500,000
Its market value at $43 per share is	$18,490,000
The actual cash invested in the Company's plant is		$24,345,000 00
The security afforded by the market value of both companies is	$22,960,000
The security afforded by actual cash invested in both companies is		$29,299,501 65
In addition the Company has cash on hand and cash assets (the latter being partly estimated) of		$ 1,258,000 00
Making a total property value securing the bonds, approximately		$30,557,501 65
Against which there is a total bonded indebtedness, outstanding, including this and all subsidary issues, of anly		$ 3,607,000 00

Under a special provision of the agreement entered into at the time of the purchase of the Wheeling Natural Gas Company by The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company, when all of the stock of the former company has been transferred to the latter, the floating indebtedness of the Wheeling Natural Gas Company is limited to $200,000 at any one time, and no other bonds can be secured upon its assets until this issue is completely retired.

OPERATIONS.

The official reports of the operations of the Wheeling Natural Gas Company for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1903, show:

Gross Receipts	$ 1,447,580 65
Operating Expenses (including rentals, taxes, legal, labor, well drilling, etc.	944,237 12
Net Earnings	$ 503,343 53
Dividends paid	$ 150,000 00
Net Surplus	$ 353,343 53
The interest on $2,000,000.00 at 6 per cent per annum, amounts to	$ 120,000 00
So that it is readily seen from the foregoing the company could easily pay the interest charges on the bonds, continue its 10 per cent dividends on its capital stock, retire $200,000 bonds each year, and leave a net surplus, after all charges, of	$ 233,343 53

The official report of the operations of The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company and affiliated companies for the quarter ending March 31, 1903, shows:

Gross Earnings	$1,354,539 99
Operating Expenses, including taxes, rentals, etc.	375,202 36
Net Earnings	$ 979,387 63

Based on these figures and allowing liberally for the dull periods, it is conservatively estimated that, owing to savings brought about by the merger, etc., the statement for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1904, will show:

Gross Earnings	$5,000,000 00
Operating Expenses, including taxes, rentals, etc.	1,500,000 00
Net Earnings	$3,500,000 00
Annual Sinking Fund requirements	$357,500
Interest on Bonds	221,000
Total fixed charges	$ 578,500 00
Net Surplus, applicable to dividends, etc.	$2,921,500 00

The Wheeling Natural Gas Company was incorporated under the laws of West Virginia March 26, 1886, and, at the time of its purchase by The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company, was managed by the following well-known gentlemen: Officers: William Flinn, President; A. Stolzenbach, Vincent Stevens, H. A. Neeb, A. C. Robertson, John S. Wilson. The company began paying dividends in 1894, and, at the time of its absorption, was paying at the rate of 10 per cent per annum.

The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company was incorporated under the laws of Pennsylvania in October, 1900, and its principal offices are in Pittsburgh. Its officers and directors are: Officers: H. B. Meyran, George W. Crawford, E. H. Myers, H. I. Beers, H. M. Nichols, E. V. Selden, David Iseman, F. N. Chambers, L. B. Beatty. At the time of the purchase of the Fort Pitt Gas Company, it was paying dividends at the rate of 12 per cent per annum, or 3 per cent quarterly. Starting July 1st next, it will be the policy to pay quarterly dividends of 1½ per cent, or at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, on its entire capital stock. The property, rights and franchises of the two companies are immensely valuable. The territory supplied affords now enormous business and a great opportunity for phenomenal expansion. That served by the Wheeling Natural Gas Company embraces the towns of Wheeling, W. Va.; Martins Ferry, Ohio; Bridgeport, Ohio; Bellaire, Ohio; Moundsville, W. Va.; Benwood, W. Va.; McMechen, W. Va.; Cameron, W. Va.; Chester, W. Va.; Wellsville, Ohio; Washington, Pa. RIGHT OF WAY FIGHT STARTS

Legal Battle of P. R. R. and Pennsylvania, Monongahela & Southern Opened.

CASE IN THE LOCAL COURT

Nine Miles of Right of Way Between West Brownsville and Millsboro Is Sought, and Attempt Made to Oust the Pennsylvania.

The beginning of the legal battle in the courts between the Pennsylvania, Monongahela & Southern railroad and the Pennsylvania railroad was made yesterday when a suggestion in quo warranto was filed in common pleas court No. 1 against the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston Railway Company at the suggestion of Attorney General Hampton L. Carson. The case will be remembered on account of the two hearings before the attorney general a few months ago at Harrisburg, out of which came the latter's instance that the quo warranto suggestion be filed.

The dispute is over nine miles of right of way along the west bank of the Monongahela river from West Brownsville to Millsboro, in Washington county. The Pennsylvania, Monongahela & Southern was chartered October 27, 1902, and at once made its location. The Pennsylvania, through the subsidiary company, the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston, claims this route was already adopted by the latter. There is said to be room for but one railroad line.

It is charged by the smaller road that the Pennsylvania line's rights have been forfeited on account of the alleged failure of that company to construct its road and have it in operation within the time required by the law. The Pennsylvania is now required to show at a hearing to be held June 20 by what authority it claims to be possessed of the right to build and operate the road and to show cause why it should not be ousted from the privilege because of not using it.

The Pennsylvania, Monongahela & Southern is intended to be built from near West Brownsville, connecting there with the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston, to Little Whiteley creek, in Greene county, where it will connect with the Greene county railroad, a Wabash line. About 100,000 acres of coal are to be opened up.

James Neale, the coal man, is president of the railroad and Jesse B. Sanford is vice president. George M. Hosack of Murphy & Hosack, attorneys, is secretary and general counsel. He represents the line in the proceedings instituted yesterday.

HENRY PHIPPS IN TOWN.

Other improvements, amounting in all to $25,000, are under consideration.

Mr. Phipps, with Director Bigelow, will inspect the conservatory today, when it is expected that everything pertaining to the improvements will be decided upon.

M'KEESPORT WORKMEN TO ASSIST HOSPITAL

Workmen in the McKeesport mills will endeavor to raise $1,500 to be used in making needed improvements at the McKeesport hospital. The state appropriation asked for by the hospital this year was cut down considerably and a unique scheme has been started whereby it is hoped to raise the fund. Petitions will be circulated in all the industrial plants in the city and the workmen will be asked to contribute 25 cents of their pay each month toward the hospital fund.

DR. DALY'S WILL IS SUSTAINED

Judge Hawkins Orders Executors to Establish Athalia Daly Homes.

THE LAW OF CHARITIES

Next of Kin Fails to Show Purpose Was Not to Create Public Charity or That Scheme Is Impossible—News of the County Courts.

Judge W. G. Hawkins yesterday handed down an opinion sustaining the will of Dr. William H. Daly, late of this city, and directing the trustees to carry out its provisions. This means the establishment of the Athalia Daly home, for industrious working girls and women. The decedent took his own life at his residence in the East End, and by the terms of his will the residuary estate, which amounts to about $250,000, is bequeathed to the establishment of a home in memory of his wife who died some years ago.

The next of kin attacked the validity of the charitable clauses in the will, alleging the will shows on its face that his purpose was not to create a public charity, but simply the founding of a club or home; because of the indefiniteness and uncertainty in the proposed scheme; because the gift being to a corporation thereafter to be created there was no devise competent to take at Dr. Daly's death, and because the proposed scheme is impossible of execution.

Judge Hawkins held that the will showed very plainly that Dr. Daly's purpose was to better the moral, mental and physical condition of working girls and women, and that there were a number of decisions in cases in which the language was no stronger than Dr. Daly's. He quoted a number of these cases in his opinion. The court maintained there were material differences between this character of an institution, where the girls were required to pay the lowest cost for everything, and a social or business club. He disposed of the objection that there was no trustee to take charge, by quoting parts of the will in which Dr. Daly expressly provided that his executors should establish this trust at once, thus making these trustees for the purpose of a formal organization of the charity. He said that even assuming that the duty had not been imposed, many cases and the act of 1855 show that it would have been the duty of the court to prevent failure of the "use" by supplying a trustee.

In discussing the scheme, itself, the court holds that it is not impracticable and should be given a trial, and not smothered upon mere speculation of what it will do. Continuing he says:

"If the power of the courts under existing law to give relief be 'exceeded,' the legislature has reserved power to the trust fund over to 'public use.' Once, therefore, establish the use, and the next of kin can have no further concern in the matter.

"The executors will therefore proceed to the organization of the charity as provided by Dr. Daly's will."

KOUNTZ IS INDICTED.

True Bills for Murder Found Against Alleged Slayer of Contractor J. E. Walsh.

The grand jury yesterday returned a true bill indicting Walter P. Kountz, charged with the murder of John E. Walsh, which occurred on May 9 last. True bills for murder were also returned as follows:

Curley, charged with killing William Flaherty in a street fight that occurred in Penn avenue, near Cecil alley; George Alstead, involuntary manslaughter, for the death of Charles G. Thomas, a boy, killed by a revolver shot in Prospect street January 27 last. Alstead was a health officer and fired to frighten some boys who were in a school property throwing snowballs at him.

Other true bills were: Assault and battery, Louis Spiro; felonious assault and battery, Everet Lee, Joseph F. Loeffler; larceny from the person, John O'Day et al; larceny, Joseph the W. Stephenski, Joseph Payaula, John McKeown, John Keil; illegal liquor selling, Link Sernoltz; aggravated assault and battery, Peter Lowey, J. Noeli (2); embezzlement, N. W. Olsen, C. Harris, Alex. Rawle; misdemeanor, William Lord, Lewis Norris.

The ignored bills were: Assault and battery, Andrew Morgan et al, Walter Friday et al; Misdemeanor, Harry E. Fox; false pretences, William W. Williams.

Evans Pleaded Guilty.

In criminal court yesterday, Grant Evans, who was caught by a citizens posse after holding up Joseph Woodall in the West End, pleaded guilty to a charge of robbery and will be sentenced later.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

George C. Hodil, through Attorney William J. Barton, took out letters of administration on the estate of William Hart.

Letters of administration were taken out by Iretta A. Spielmyer on the estate of William Spielmyer. Attorney T. C. Jones has charge of the estate.

Solomon Bachman took out letters of administration on the $3,000 estate of his daughter, Selina Bachman. Attorney M. R. Trauerman represent the administrator.

A verdict for the plaintiff for $153,250 was taken by consent in common pleas court No. 1, in the case of Hugh W. McKee against the City of Pittsburgh. The action was brought to recover damages for the appropriation of property by reason of the widening of Diamond street.

In the case of Samuel Smith and Charles Nelson, charged with entering the place of Lang & Cooper at No. 613 West Diamond street, Allegheny, and obtaining a quantity of goods, Smith was convicted and Nelson acquitted. Smith was sent to the workhouse for six months.

Michael Sandrich pleaded guilty to a charge of felonious assault and battery, made by his wife, Barbara, and was sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of five years. He shot his wife three times with a revolver at their home in Versailles borough, wounding her dangerously.

The law firm of Lyon, McKee & Mitchell has announced the introduction of William A. Griffith, formerly of Williams, Sloan & Griffith, of Greensburg, Pa., into the partnership, the firm name to remain as heretofore. The firm is now composed of Walter Lyon, Charles H. McKee, H. Walton Mitchell, Alex. A. Patterson and William A. Griffith.

When John Smythe was called for sentence after pleading no defense to a charge of the larceny of two coats, his emaciated appearance indicated the man to be in the last stages of consumption, and the prosecutor, W. W. Dorley, was so much impressed that he refused to further prosecute and asked for the release of Smythe. Sentence was suspended and the man released when Dorley paid the costs for him.

HE CAN NOW PLEAD BEFORE HIGHEST COURT

Coroner McGeary yesterday received a telegram from his uncle, James R. P. Brown, brother of the late city recorder, J. O. Brown, saying that he was admitted to practice law in the supreme court of the United States.

Carpets Lifted from the Loom. Carpet Mills frequently find that certain patterns are selling so fast that they must stop making them before too many people cover their floors with the same thing. We have been notified that some of the most successful spring patterns in $1.25, $1.35 and $1.50 Wilton Velvets, Body Brussels and the finest Axminsters have been dropped. We have in stock at this time about 75 rolls of these carpets, some in lengths sufficient for two or three rooms, others down to half-rolls and still others just about enough for a good size rug, with borders to match. All these drop patterns we will close out at, per yard..... 85c

"Seconds" in Lovely Lace Curtains. The manufacturers of window laces are particularly tenacious about the quality of the goods they sell. The slightest imperfection causes a curtain to be thrown aside and sold as a "second." It would puzzle you to find what was wrong about many of the 200 pairs of Nottingham Lace Curtains now displayed as a special in our Drapery Department. They look just like the perfect $2.50, $2.60, $1.50 and $1.25 Nottinghams. Something is awry with each pair, however, so we are selling them for, per pair 69c

Who Is Fond of Velvet Carpets? They look so rich and wear so well and keep their color so faithfully that they have hosts of devoted friends. Is there a room in your house that needs a velvet carpet to make it your ideal apartment? Then come and see the 24 rolls of $1.25 Velvet we are going to let go—not at their real value—not at any trivial reduction—but for 98c yard. Women who pride themselves on the appearance of their homes will certainly not "sleep on" the proposition to get genuine high grade $1.25 carpets for, per, yard..... 98c
